RUMORS THAT'S ALL

Unfounded Reports Regarding the Warships.

NOT ORDERED TO HAVANA

Indiana and Iowa Receive no Instructions to Proceed to Cuba Forthwith.

Will Cruise in Southern Waters.

Rumors and reports galore were flying this and last night regarding the future movements of the North Atlantic Squadron.

Two battleships—the Indiana and Iowa—were lying in the harbor yesterday off the piers taking on coal.

It is well known that the feeling of the Spaniards toward the Americans in Cuba is very bitter and violence is expected at any time.

The Indiana finished coaling in the morning and proceeded to Old Point, but the Iowa remained in port and is anchored off pier 8.

Efforts are being made to see the commander of the Lower River Squadron, but a subordinate officer said the vessels would proceed on the cruise to Southern waters Saturday.

Refusing a seat, he continued denouncing, apparently the least concerned person in court.

Then the prisoner demanded the assistance of Queen's counsel, but the judge explained that it was impossible without special license.

The executive session opened shortly after 1 o'clock with Senator Whipple on the floor.

Senator Morgan of Alabama, made the principal speech of the day and occupied the time of the Senate until it adjourned.

Senator Morgan then piled on his desk numerous volumes, including reports before various Congressional committees.

NEWS OF RICHMOND.

Colonel John B. Cary Passes Away.

SKETCH OF HIS CAREER

Body of George W. Williams Found on a Canal Bank. His Death Shrouded in Mystery.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 13.—Colonel John B. Cary, one of the best known citizens of Richmond, died at 4:35 o'clock this morning.

John B. Cary was born about seventy-eight years ago at "Cely's," the homestead of the Cary family, in Elizabeth City county, near the city of Hampton.

His youth was spent in Elizabeth City county, where he began his education in the common schools.

It was some years after Colonel Cary's graduation in 1836 from historic old William and Mary that his active business life began and continued without cessation until his eyes closed in death upon the scene of a grand old city.

This historic academy, which Colonel Cary was the last principal, was founded about 1842 of which the O. Cary number of the William and Mary college quarterly gives the following admirable account in an article published in the issue of the 1897 volume.

Benjamin Syms, of Virginia, the first legacy by a resident of the college plantation for the promotion of education. By his will, made February 13, 1806, he gave a salary of $1,000 per annum on the position, a small river plantation on the Chesapeake Bay, a manor-estate below the mouth of York river, and a large tract of land on which he had cows for the education and instruction of the children of the adjoining parishes of Elizabeth City and Kent.

In March, 1842-43, the Virginia legislature passed a law which authorized the trustees of the college to purchase the plantation for the benefit of the children of the adjacent parishes.

It was in 1847 that the first school house had been erected, and the number of pupils greatly increased. In 1848, the trustees purchased the plantation for the benefit of the children of the adjacent parishes.
