WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY.
LATEST and most complete edition. Price reduced. In two large octavo volumes, in full leather binding, for twelve dollars; being the most full and comprehensive edition issued, and containing much more matter than the original edition, which was issued (unbound) for twenty-five dollars. For sale for the publishers by F. TAYLOR.

From Chancellor Kent's Ecology of the author.
"The American Dictionary of the English Language, is a work of profound investigation, and does infinite honor to the philologist, learning, and general literature of this country. Happy the man who can so honorably identify his name with the existence of our vernacular tongue. There is no other way in which mortal man could more effectually secure immortality beneath the skies. Obelisks, arches, and triumphal monuments tend to be as transient as the glory which they confer. No work of art can withstand the incessant strokes of time. The unrivaled Parthenon, glowing in polished marble, and which, for more than two thousand years continued from the summit of the citadel of Athens to cast its broad splendor across the plains below, and along the coast and headlands of Attica, is now crumbling to ruins, after being despoiled of its most exquisite materials by savage war and heartless man. Even the Pyramids of Egypt, whose origin is hidden in the deepest recesses of antiquity, and which have always stood in awe-inspiring solitude and grandeur, are now annoyed by the depredations of curiosity, and are gradually sinking under the encroaching sands of the desert. This dictionary, and the language which it embodies will also perish; but it will not be with the gorgeous palaces. It will go with the solemn temples and the great globe itself!"

The Publishers of the foregoing work respectfully announce that they have made arrangements with Mr. F. Taylor, Bookseller, of Washington city, to furnish the American Dictionary, in two large volumes, at the very reduced price of twelve dollars. It is to be understood that for this price the best paper and type, and the best binding, will be supplied in the best copies, that is to say, in all respects. The very valuable supplement, which is contained in no other edition than the present one, should not be passed unnoticed; it contains four thousand words, not given in any other dictionary; was only completed by Dr. Webster in 1843, immediately before the sickness which terminated his valuable life, and has been published and copyrighted, since his death, by his executors.

The work is now therefore in a finished and complete state, it is not to be supposed that any thing more can or will be added to it; the present edition defining and illustrating twenty thousand more words than the edition which, when it first issued from the hands of Dr. Webster, was acknowledged by the leading philologists to be the best dictionary in the world.

MISS HEANEY'S ACADEMY.

Miss HEANEY, of Boston, Massachusetts, principal instructor, respectfully gives notice to parents and guardians of her resuming the education of Young Ladies in this city in the former family residence of Col. Bonford, according to her early purposes of educating boarding pupils as a family, with a convenient number of day scholars. Her own personal instruction and care being given to each of her pupils individually in whatever pursuits of learning or accomplishments they may engage. Assistant instructors will be resident in her family, and exclusively engaged to aid her most assiduously as professors in this charge. One of the most skillful in Vocal and Instrumental Music will always be so engaged; other professors will attend to give lessons, as may be required, but only with her own attention to her pupils as principal. The many years occupancy of this house by Col. Bonford's family evinces healthiness of the situation well; and its spaciousness, pleasant garden, and scenery, makes it the most desirable dwelling for such students in the vicinity of the President's House and the Departments.

Miss HEANEY'S Academy being so eligibly placed in the quiet neighborhood of many well-known families, greatly encourages the favor her task bespeaks of parents and guardians to sustain a permanent institution of the most faithful and liberal instruction. The regulations and order prescribed in it being simple and suited to the entire welfare of daughters under maternal direction at home.

Morning Exercises of Instruction.—The use of English and French Text Books alternately, in her method formerly pursued in this city, and since by herself, in reading, elocution, grammar, geography, history, arithmetic, &c. Composition and Belles Lettres in both languages.

Afternoon Exercises.—Drawing and Painting in crayon, water, and oil colors; Music, Needlework in all varieties of domestic use, and ornamental. Dancing, &c., tuition by ladies, and practised at recreations of the school and family. Young ladies of the Senior Class may have instruction for any acquisitions exclusively desired of the usual course, and in the Italian or other languages.

David A. Hall, Esq., may be addressed, for the testimonials of early and recent date of Miss Heaney's engagements as principal instructor in the education of young ladies, in the writing of most of the following references, viz:

Hon. Edward Everett, James Savage, Robert G. Shaw, Richard Sullivan, Boston; General J. A. Dix, Albany; Orville Dewey, D. D., William C. Bryant, Hon. William Emerson, Carville & Co., S. Colman, F. Bertram, Thos. Nelson, Col. Nathan Patten, New York; Hon. Philemon Dickerson, Patterson, New Jersey; Joseph R. Chandler, Philadelphia; Hon. Louis McLane, and N. F. Williams, Baltimore; Col. J. B. Cass, Detroit; Hon. Edward Turner, Natchez; Hon. Alfred Hennen, New Orleans.

Communications, free of postage, addressed to Miss HEANEY, care of Charles S. Wallach, Esq., will greatly oblige her.

Charges, moderate in any respect, will be payable in advance, semi-annually, or any term engaged.

MISS HEANEY requests the visits of her friends, and parents and guardians interested, between the hours of 4 and 9 o'clock, P. M. dec 5-1f

PROSPECTUS

For publishing in the City of Washington, a Democratic Newspaper, to be called

"THE CONSTITUTION."
THE undersigned, having purchased the materials of the Spectator, will issue, on or before the 10th inst. the first number of a new paper to be called "THE CONSTITUTION." It will be devoted to the steady advocacy of that system of measures which will preserve unimpaired the sacred instrument from which we borrow the name; and as constantly oppose whatever is not sanctioned by it. We shall unflinchingly oppose a National Bank—the Protective Tariff—Internal Improvements by the General Government—a Distribution of the Proceeds of the sales of the Public Lands—Assumption of the State Debts—an abrogation of the Executive Veto, as unconstitutional and inexpedient.

We hope to make the paper worthy of the confidence and support of the Democratic party. It shall be the faithful expositor of their principles, and the ever ready medium to convey their sentiments and wishes to the public. The Democratic cause, is the cause of truth and justice. It courts the light. It shuns no investigation. And we are determined to see whether a paper, conducted with a devotion to the principles, rather than to the men, of our party, will further the great object of human progress, rather than the mere advancement of particular individuals, will not commend itself to the confidence and favor of the people.

As soon as the all engrossing topics of the elections are over, we shall devote a liberal portion of our columns to subjects of general literature and science; endeavoring to present such matter as will amuse, instruct, and edify.

The proceedings of Congress will receive particular attention, and a full and comprehensive summary will be given, including the yeas and nays upon all important questions.

The paper, for the present, will be issued semi-weekly during the recess, and daily during the sessions of Congress, at five dollars per annum, in advance.
Oct. 5-1f

JNO. HEARNE.

The volume will be printed and finished with the same ease and accuracy as book-work. The fifty-two numbers will form two volumes truly worthy of preservation, of 416 pages each; equal in quality to 1,200 pages, or three volumes of Rees's Cyclopaedia. Each volume will be accompanied by a title page and index.

Subscriptions to the above will be received by the subscribers, at whose Bookstore a specimen of the work may be seen, and by whom the work will be regularly forwarded, strongly enveloped, to any post office in the United States.
