The Chicago Style.

'Maybe it's a chestnut worked over,' remarked the drummer to the hotel clerk, 'but I heard a story the other day which illustrates the kind of men some Chicagoans are.'

'Let her go,' said the clerk encouragingly.

'One of those rich fellows there,' continued the drummer, 'had a close-fisteh Yankee friend of his with him at his country place, and during the evening the friend dropped a quarter in the grass and immediately went down on his knees to find it.'

'What are you looking for?' inquired the host, who was talking to another guest some distance off.

'I've dropped a quarter in the grass.'

'Here, let me help you with a little light,' said the Chicago man, and he kindled a $5 bill with a match and held it till the Yankee found his lost quarter.

It is reported that the British naval estimates include provision for four large war vessels patterned after the United States vessels "Columbia" and "Minneapolis." They will have triple screws and will include other features which are considered decidedly American. The English vessels will have a calculated speed of 22 knots, will be furnished with 25,000 horsepower, and will be somewhat longer than the ships above mentioned—Railway Review.

Recently a court in New York decided that money dropped upon the floor of a street car, although by falling between the slats of the wooden mat it had become entirely hidden, was a lawful tender of fare, which the conductor must not only accept, but supply the required change. Scientific American.

Major Henry C. Dana was a through passenger for Sydney by the Alameda. A gentleman of that title and name delivered a series of interesting lectures in Honolulu a few years ago.

SPORTS.

The Jockey Club Is Ready For June 11.

In another column appears the programme for the 11th of June races. The INDEPENDENT desires to express its admiration for the discretion and good judgment shown in the framing of the racing events. The executive committee has done well, and there ought to be no kick coming this year. The INDEPENDENT as a matter of course, must kick. We are celebrated for our crankiness, and we want to know why the committee couldn't make a 1 1/2 mile or 2 mile race instead of settling down to the orthodox 1 1/4 dash. There are horses enough here who could enter and win a two mile race, but they don't get any show now-a-days.

The trotting races are all right. The 2:20 race has been dropped, but there is ample opportunity for any ambitious owner of a trotter to enter in the "free for all race." Creole isn't going to run away with everything in Honolulu. The two bicycle races are good, and it is to be hoped that the efforts of the club to make the day interesting in two kind of sport will be appreciated. Before the races take place we will take pleasure in giving the "tip" to our readers. And the sporting editor of the INDEPENDENT has never lost yet. The Kealia horses will not be entered, but there are lots of other horses on which money can be won or lost.

One sure thing is, that the gentlemen who have taken up the concern this year mean business, and are doing their level best to insure a success of the national day of Hawaii, and a broom for the Hawaiian Jockey Club.

And in that 1 1/4 dash the INDEPENDENT bets four to one on—against— We were just going to mention names of horses, when the religious editor sat on us, and reminded us of an INDEPENDENT editorial against gambling a few days ago. But we will give the tip anyhow.

JAPANESE HOLIDAY.

A Great Celebration Tomorrow.

The patriotic and enthusiastic spirit of the Japanese residing in Hawaii will have full swing tomorrow. The brave little men from the islands of the Rising Sun well deserve to memorize by festivities the decisive victories of their countrymen over their enemies. It is highly commendable that the Japanese leaders here do not in the flush of victory attempt to deride their fallen enemy but that the fête tomorrow will be in a most conciliatory spirit and devoid of any demonstration which might hurt the feelings of the Chinese citizens here. No official invitations will be issued and only the private friends of the representatives will be admitted to the Legation during the festivities which, according to the programme will take place there. The executive committee asks all employers of Japanese to give their servants a holiday tomorrow. Such action will be highly appreciated and there can be no doubt that the employer will be the gainer in the long run even if a small inconvenience should result at once. The most ignorant and poorest Japanese is an ardent patriot. To prevent him from taking part in the national celebration tomorrow will be unjust and unwise. Ewa plantation has set a good example by granting a general holiday to its Japanese tomorrow, and Honolulu people should not be behind in kindness, even if they for once have to cook their own dinner or nurse their own babies. The complete programme of the festival will be published in tomorrow's issue.

COURT RECORD.

Closing of the Trial for Conspiracy.

JURY ACQUIT NAWAHI AND DISAGREE ON BUSH.

After the conclusion of Mr. Nawahi's evidence for the defense on Wednesday, Mr. Kaulia offered in evidence copies of the Advertiser of October 4 and 10, 1894. At 4:50 the Court adjourned for the day.

The trial of John E. Bush and J. Nawahi for conspiracy was resumed at 9 a. m. yesterday before Judge Cooper and a Hawaiian jury.

C. L. Hopkins was sworn as Hawaiian interpreter.

Attorney General Smith concluded the cross examination of Mr. Nawahi.

Sam Pua, Kahaleluhi, Keauu, Sam Kaanaana, Punini, Kanealii, A. Sinclair and Hoopii were called before the noon recess.

In the afternoon Mrs. Bush, R. W. Wilcox, Lot Lane and J. E. Bush were on the stand for the defence. Mr. Kaulia offered in evidence a copy of Ka Leo o ka Lahui [Mr. Bush's paper] of July 31, 1894.

In the Attorney General's cross examination of Mr. Bush, questions and answers were at times somewhat warm.

At 4:52 Mr. Kaulia began his closing address to the jury in behalf of the defendants.

After recess Attorney General Smith closed for the prosecution. Judge Cooper gave a colorless charge to the jury, confining himself to law points.

When the jury were out two hours they came out for instructions. They retired again and at 8 o'clock returned a verdict of not guilty for Nawahi and unable to agree on a verdict in the case of Bush.

It is understood that the jury stood 7 to 5 in favor of acquittal of Mr. Bush.

Judge Cooper discharged Mr. Nawahi and, thanking the jury for their close attention, dismissed them until 9 o'clock this morning.

Patrick Cullen, charged with murder, will probably be put on trial this morning.

Bruce Cartwright and H. E. McIntyre, executors of the will of the late Dr. Geo. Trouseau, by their attorney, F. M. Hatch, have made answer as follows to the suit of Emma Defries for $3000. They deny the truth of each and every allegation in the plaintiff's complaint, and "give notice that among other defenses they rely on fraud on the part of the plaintiff, forgery, want of consideration, illegality and the statute of limitations; and that suit was not brought on plaintiff's claim within sixty days after the same was rejected and disallowed by defendants."

Abraham Fernandez, executor of the will of Maria Sullivan, has filed his return of sale of property, showing that certain land was sold at auction to Charles L. Carter for $1225.

The Supreme Court yesterday heard the appeal from the Circuit Court of Allen & Robinson vs. Hawaiian Lodge, No. 21, F. & A. M., and F. H. Redward. It is a question of mechanics and material men's lien. Hatch for plaintiffs; Carter & Kinney for the defendants.

Commander of the Forces.

R. H. McLean, who comes to take charge of the Hawaiian army, was a passenger by the Alameda. President Dole escorted him over the Government buildings. In the Judiciary building a visit was paid to the Circuit Court session, and McLean took the oath to the constitution before Henry Smith, clerk of the Judiciary Department. He registered his birthplace New Jersey, his age 44 and his occupation a naval officer.

Judge Bellinger at Portland Or., ordered the plea of guilty made by Doc. Davenport to the charge of counterfeiting set aside for the reason that Davenport was instigated to issue counterfeit money by Charles French, an agent of the Government.

HEALANI BOAT CLUB.

Grand House Warming of the New Club House.

An event looked forward to for some months with the most sanguine expectation of pleasure took place last night. This was the house warming or inaugural ball of the Healani Boat Club in its large and handsome club house just erected on the Kakaako reef.

A great many invitations were issued for the event, a large proportion of which were accepted in person. There were about four hundred people present. Their welcome was artistic, brilliant and cordial. Guests on stepping out of their carriages at the old immigration depot found mauila carpeting spread from the road to the pier, which prevented the sand from getting into the dainty shoe of the ladies and the dancing pumps of the gentlemen.

The long pier leading to the boat house was lined with colored lanterns, looking like a Japanese night procession at a halt. A colored crescent of lamps was suspended beneath the club house flagstaffs, and the front of the building was a blaze of glory from lanterns outside and the electric lights within. Simply splendid were the decorations within the hall on the upper floor. Upon entering the room the at head of the stairs, the first object to attract the guests' admiring gaze was a horse shoe of colored electric lights at the opposite end over the middle of the veranda arches. This iridescent object enclosed a large portrait of the president of the club, Theo. F. Lansing, and on either side of it were the American and Hawaiian flags gathered in artful folds. On the Waikiki side there was a life boy inscribed "Healani Yacht and Boat Club" enclosing the portrait of the club's captain, Clarence W. Macfarlane; also the club's monogram, "H. B. C." done in variously colored margarites, enclosed in a wreath of Maile vine. At intervals on the same and the opposite side were crossed oars, one pair of which was marked with a silken ribbon bearing the name of the sister organization "Myrtle Boat Club." The wall of the town side had, besides teaeries of ferns and vines, framed group pictures of the club's Pearl Harbor winning crew of October 8, 1892, and of A L C Atkinson's native barge crew that, in the Kapiolani, defeated the U S S San Francisco and the Kanoelani barges over a six-mile course at Pearl Harbor regatta on March 17, 1892. The entrance was draped with American and Hawaiian flags, and the wall at that end bore a good colored picture of the club house, and a large frame containing the roll of members. The railing of gallery the overlooking the hall was festooned with vines and streamers.

President Lansing was floor director, with W. F. Dillingham, A L C Atkinson, J O Carter jr., and F B Oat as aids. Mrs T F Lansing, Mrs A Brown, Mrs H F Wichman and Mrs G E Boardman were the matrons of the ball.

President Dole, attended by Col J H Soper, spent about an hour at the assembly, and among others present were Chief Justice Judd and wife, Mr and Mrs C M Cooke, Col McLean, the newly arrived instructor of the National Guard, and Admiral Boardlee and officers of the U S flag ship Philadelphia.

There was a programme of twenty dances well-arranged, and Bandmaster Berger's orchestra supplied excellent music. Light refreshments were served from 10 o'clock onward on the lower floor. Nothing but thorough enjoyment was evinced in the faces or voices of the large company. The house indeed received a rattling good inauguration, and, as a beautiful and commodious home for the Healani Boat Club, it deserved nothing less.

The Healani Yacht and Boat Club looked up a few years ago, filling the place of the defunct

Honolulu Yacht and Boat Club. It was a necessary rival of the Myrtle Boat Club that for years upheld aquatic sport all but alone and was in danger of losing even its grip for want of rivalry. To establish a name and a place for itself, however, it was essential that the Healani club should have proper headquarters. This its energetic membership has now supplied in the fine large structure, occupying a site the farthest seaward in a series of buildings at Kakaako which were designed for aquatic purposes. It is of two stories covering a ground area of about 75 feet by 40 feet. On the lower floor are the boat room and the carpentry room, also shower baths, lockers for the members' rowing costumes and bathing suits, etc., etc. Above the lockers, between floors are a storage loft for sails, etc., and a bedroom for the janitor. The upper story is designed for social purposes, and is nicely fitted and finished. There are dressing rooms for ladies and gentlemen at the head of the stairs on either side. A veranda runs along the front and the Waikiki side, opening from a large dancing hall. On the Waikiki side is a gallery looking down upon the ball room, which, besides being a point of vantage for spectators, adds to appearances and lends itself well to decoration as seen last night. Lucas Bros, constructed the building in substantial and finished workmanship. George Turner did the painting and paper hanging, which show well for his skill.
