LOCAL MATTERS.

Mrs. J. B. Hoover, we regret to learn is still in very poor health.

C. W. Lambeth, agent for Fowler's celebrated Fly Fan gave us a call on Wednesday.

A child about nine months old, of Mr. E. Cummings, of Nemaha precinct, died last week.

Recently a son of Mr. Charles Bingham, of Lafayette precinct, was thrown from a horse and had his arm broken.

Nemaha county was blessed with splendid rains on Sunday night and Monday forenoon. Tall corn and big potatoes.

Read the synopsis of Hendrick's speech on the outside of this paper, and you can gather a pretty fair idea of his war record.

Read the article headed "Sammy Tilden's War Record." More convincing evidence that he was a secessionist in principle, no reasonable man could desire.

Little Mabel, daughter of W. S. Clark, Nemaha City, who has been very sick for some time, we are pleased to learn, is much better and considered out of danger.

When you hear one of those Tilden fellows harping on corruption, and reform, just take a good look at him—look at what he has been and what he is now, and you will find that he has been engaged in some suspicious business, such as a railroad wrecker on a small scale; or a misappreciator of other people's money; or a sorehead, angry because the people will not trust him with an office, or an "out" whose highest ambition and most exalted principle is to manage to get "in"; or a fellow who must be a Tilden man because the Tilden says he must; or else he is an ignoramus and whines about reform because he has heard somebody else whining about it, and has only brains enough to ape and imitate some more cunning knave.

On Wednesday we saw what we have not seen on our streets for a long time, a regular old-fashioned yoke of oxen under the yoke, hitched to a kitchen wagon, moving slowly westward. The driver was sitting in front by his woman, with his feet on the haunds, and he said "gee now, gee now," just as they used to in Indiana.

On Wednesday of this week Mr. A. P. Cogswell removed from this city to Falls City, where he has purchased a lively steed and the railroad transfer. Mr. Cogswell is an old citizen here, has done much for our city, is enterprising, esteemed by all, and we regret to lose him. Yet we congratulate him upon his acquisition of a good business, and we wish for him as an old esteemed friend, unlimited prosperity.

The Republican Club was well attended on last Saturday evening. Judge Still made the speech of the evening, and it was a telling one. Much enthusiasm prevailed, demonstrating that the Republican boys are waking up. Everything is lovely and Republican principles are in the ascendancy. Republicans, be vigilant, and attend every meeting of the club. Next Saturday night we will have a good time again.

That old renegade and salary-grabber, Tipton, on last Saturday night made a speech in favor of that old-tailor-box stuffer, Tammany thief, railroad wrecker, bond evildoer, silk stocking rascal lawyer, rebel sympathizer—Tilden. Did anyone ever see the "eternal fitness of things" more truly illustrated. When such a man as Tipton supports such a man as Tilden, there is a consistency in it truly gratifying.

On Tuesday night the Democracy had a little meeting at Minick's school house. Three Brownville speakers present made the assertion, as we are informed by one who heard them, that the revenue of this government was not sufficient to pay the expenses. When men make such barefaced and false assertions, they must think their auditors fools. Men can stand up and lie, and assert anything, when they have not a figure nor a fact to prove a word they say. The truth is the government under Grant has paid its expenses and reduced the government debt monthly from four million to five millions of dollars, and those Brownville barabargues know it well.

Fowler's Fly Fan is on sale at Roy's furniture store. They are said to be a good thing. Call and see them.

Mr. Lev Johnson, Mayor of Nemaha City, gives notice to those interested that work will be done on the Nemaha Cemetery grounds next Saturday.

Rev. L. F. Britt furnishes us with another very interesting letter from Salt Lake, which will appear next week. Mr. Britt's universal popularity, especially in this county, where he is so well known, insures that his communications will be universally read and admired.

Our Democratic friends are making the assertion in Brownville that the revenues of this government are not sufficient to pay its expenses. They say this right in the face of the fact that every year since 1863 this government has not only paid all its expenses, all the interest on the enormous debt contracted to suppress the Democratic rebellion, but at the same time has paid off from 50 to 75 millions of the principal of that debt annually.

We meant precisely what we said last week about Tilden soldiers. We believe of them—they are known by the way they squirm. The hermaphrodite across the road, just as we intended, did not like it at all. Get the article and read it and don't believe what others are telling, because they lie. You will endorse every word if you were a Union soldier, because you loved your country. But if you are now mauling with those fellows who then trailed the stars and stripes in the dirt and mustered under the stars and bars, and those fellows who rejoiced over rebel victories, and those fellows who wanted to compromise with traitors—we say, if that is the crowd you are now in with, you are no reformer, never was much of a soldier, and if you ever had any loyalty to the old flag it was as unsubstantial as the morning dew and as transitory as a spring mushroom.

As evidences of the prolific resources of the soil and climate of Southern Nebraska we make the following record for our wondering readers to ponder over:

Mr. Jason Kyles, of Bedford precinct, this county, has a pullet, hatched in the month of February, last which has laid thirteen eggs and hatched twelve of them on the 19th day of August. Now, isn't she a nice little hen?

Mr. J. M. Wheeler, living in Richardson county, near the Nemahala line, has a sow that brought forth, a few days ago, a litter of nineteen pigs.

Mr. C. S. Gillespie, living on a Missouri bottom farm, about three miles below this city, brought a stalk of corn to town this week, grown on his farm, which measured exactly fourteen feet in length, and which sported an ear of corn just eight feet from the top of the stalk.

Now, if anybody has anything that will beat these things, or any other product to report, wonderful or curious, we will be gratified to give the same publicity.

When you hear one of those Tilden fellows harping on corruption, and reform, just take a good look at him—look at what he has been and what he is now, and you will find that he has been engaged in some suspicious business, such as a railroad wrecker on a small scale; or a misappreciator of other people's money; or a sorehead, angry because the people will not trust him with an office, or an "out" whose highest ambition and most exalted principle is to manage to get "in"; or a fellow who must be a Tilden man because the Tilden says he must; or else he is an ignoramus and whines about reform because he has heard somebody else whining about it, and has only brains enough to ape and imitate some more cunning knave.

Sometimes several of these Democratic virtues are found in the same individual. They can be seen daily sitting around on pine boxes in front of the stores, and are always ready to commence boring with their little tongues every decent person that comes along, and their theme is "Corruption! corruption!" As we said, their characters and motives will not bear close inspection, for they are notoriously of that class most susceptible of corrupt practices, and would steal the country bankrupt had they all a chance to do so; but they are not at all dangerous because they will not be trusted.

About four weeks ago a man came to this city having in his possession a span of horses, but of which, judging by his actions, he was not the lawful owner. After being about the city a short time he undertook to sell the horses and did sell them, or bargain them away—one to Fred August and the other to R. F. Barrett. To August he gave his name as Commodore Perry, and to Barrett as John Henry. August paid him $30 for the animal he purchased, and Barrett $15 for his. When the purchasers of the horses came to learn from each other that the fellow couldn't remember his name very well, they thought there might be something wrong about the title to the horses, and they sought out and did find the said John Henry Commodore Perry and demanded their money back. He made no objections, but handed the residue of Mr. August and gave Mrs. August the $30 dollars, and then stepping out he broke and ran out among the bluffs and that was the last that has been seen or heard of him. As it is generally "put up," that "the guilty flee when no man pursueth," and as nobody was after John Henry, etc., that anybody knows of, and as he was not even accused or threatened it was thought he must be a horse thief. Before his sudden departure he did not demand the return of the horses, nor indicate what he desired done with them, hence they are still in the possession of August and Barrett. As it may assist some poor fellow to recover his horses we will describe them as well as we can: The animal August has is a bay mare said to be about ten years old, medium size. Barrett's is a brown young stallion. We have not seen this horse and cannot describe him more accurately.

Mr. August has consulted an attorney as to what he had better do with the mare, but he is in doubt, because there appears to be no statute providing for such a case.

THE PLOWING MATCH. Report of the Judges Announced at the Plow Trial held at Grant, August 12th, 1876.

It was the intention of the committee to test each plow as to quality of work and also as to draft, but owing to the scales not working satisfactorily the test was made as to quality of work only. The following were the plows entered for trial:

- No. 1—Pearl gang plow, and two 12-inch plows, by Richards & Smith, of Brownville.
No. 2—Horsum 16-inch sulkey plow, by Wm. Horem, of Grant.
No. 3—John Deere 14-inch sulkey plow, entered by J. M. Patrick, of Grant.
No. 4—Crosley gang, and two 12-inch plows, entered by Hawley & Douglas, of Brownville.
No. 5—Skinner gang, and two 12-inch plows, entered by Geo. Smith, of Johnson county.
No. 6—Furst & Bradley 16-inch sulkey plow, entered by H. Childs, of Johnson county.
No. 7—Skinner 16-inch sulkey plow, entered by Clark Puffer, of Otoe county.
No. 8—Crosley 16-inch sulkey plow, entered by Henry Ewan, of Grant.
No. 9—Furst & Bradley 16-inch sulkey plow, entered by John Osborn, of Otoe county.
No. 10—Bloom gang and sulkey plow, and one 14-inch plow, entered by R. V. Black, of Grant.
No. 11—Crosley 16-inch sulkey plow, entered by Milo Elliot, of Otoe county.
No. 12—Read iron-beam walking 16-inch plow, entered by Wisner Plow Co., of Nebraska City.
No. 13—Reed iron-beam walking 16-inch plow, entered by Louis Clark, of Grant.

The first trial was in a field which had lain fallow for the past year and was thickly covered with a very rank growth of fire-weeds. It was a very difficult piece to plow. They were tried for a short time on a piece of stubble land. The committee awarded the first preference to the John Deere sulkey plow; the second to the Crosley sulkey plow; the third to the Skinner gang plow. Although nearly all did their work in a very satisfactory manner. The Skinner was the only gang plow that was in a suitable condition for work, the other two being new from the shop and not scouring sufficiently well; but we are of the opinion that when in order they would work equally well. The Reed iron-beam was the only walking plow entered for trial. It did its work in a very satisfactory manner, turning the weeds under nearly as well as the sulkey plows, and that without either chain or hook attached. We are of the opinion that in ordinary plowing it would do as good work as any sulkey plow, and the draft be considerably less, two horses seeming to work with as much ease to it as three to the sulkey plows. We would especially recommend it to the attention of farmers.

wholly the result of light prices, and as the relatively high receipts now ruling can scarcely result otherwise than in greatly augmenting the supplies, an early reaction is almost inevitable. The prevailing figures were $4.00@4.55 for common to choice shipping steers; $3.00@3.75 for Colorado. The hog trade opened dull, with prices showing a downward tendency. The depression was greatest in heavy grades. Up to the close of business on Thursday there had been a reduction in packing hogs of fully 25@30c per 100, and in light weights of 5@10c. Under the materially diminished receipts of Friday and Saturday all the decline in light, and about 5c of the decline in heavy weights were recovered, closing quotations being for the former $8.20@6.25, and for the latter $5.75@6.10 for common to prime.

It is important to the Traveling Public. The duty of all persons, before starting on a journey to ascertain by what route they can reach their destination with the least trouble, and if there are two or more roads leading to the same point, to decide which is the safest and most pleasant to travel. We take pleasure in stating that the CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY is the oldest, and several miles the shortest, route between Omaha and Chicago. Within the past two years the road bed has been in an admirable condition, and almost the entire line has been relaid with steel rails. The Depot in Chicago is centrally located, and as their trains arrive there thirty minutes in advance of all other lines, passengers can always be sure of making Eastern connections. For all points in Northern and North-Eastern Iowa, you should purchase tickets via Marshall, Cedar Rapids, or Clinton. For points in Northern Illinois or Wisconsin, via Fulton; and if you are going to Chicago, or East, you should, by all means, purchase your tickets by the Old Pioneer Route—THE CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN. You will find on all through trains Pullman Sleepers, and magnificent Day Coaches, and the best Smoking and Second Class Cars now on any road in the United States. Particular information, with maps, time tables, etc., may be had at any of the Through Ticket Offices in the West, or upon personal or written application to J. H.
