On last Friday night Watson B. Smith, Clerk of the U. S. Courts, at Omaha, was found dead at the door of his office, on the outside, on the third floor, in the government building. A pistol ball of large size had crushed through his head entering at the left temple. Mr. Smith was assassinated without a doubt. At a citizens meeting, in Omaha, where the people turned out en masse to express their sorrow and indignation, and to take immediate steps for the speedy arrest and punishment of the murder or murderers, a subscription of $10,000 was raised instantly. The Mayor was authorized by the subscribers to offer a reward of $5,000, which has been done. Other rewards for the detection and conviction of the culprit has been offered, to-wit: $200 by the Governor of the State (limit of the law); $200 by the Good Templars of Omaha, and $500 by the "Liquor Dealers Union." Mr. Smith was clerk of the U. S. Courts for nearly fifteen years, and was as nearly a perfect gentleman and conscientious christian as mortal ever is. The offense that led to his cowardly murder could scarcely have been other than something he did in the line of his duty as a good citizen. His friends and the people of Omaha generally believe his assassin was some saloon keeper, as he was chairman of a committee of temperance men charged with the duty of enforcing the St. Louis liquor law. The life of Mr. Smith has been threatened frequently by letter. The following written backward is a specimen: "OMAHA, October 20, 12 m. Hold before mirror. "You dirty little stinking white headed s— of a b—, if you ever interfere with my business again I will cut your — out as sure as your name is shister. You dirty hypocrat. You are a fool for a dirty sneak. T. A.

Last week we gave the testimony elicited at the coroner's inquest of the cause of the death of J. M. Paullin, the finding of the jury, Dr. Andrews' opinion as to the cause of the death, etc. The death and inquest occurred Tuesday afternoon and evening. The following from the Nemaha Times explains what additional measures were taken to ascertain the cause of the death of Paullin: Thursday forenoon a post mortem examination was held on the body of the deceased, by the following named physicians: Dr. A. Opperman, of Sheridan, Dr. C. F. Stewart and Dr. A. S. Holladay, of Brownville; Dr. Livingston, of Dorrington; Dr. B. Bell Andrews and Dr. John Crim, of Nemaha City. The operation was performed by Dr. A. Opperman and Dr. Livingston, assisted by the other physicians. They found as the result of the investigation that the right chamber of the heart was full of dark, thick blood, while in the left chamber of the heart there was hardly a drop of blood. It was decided that the cause of the immediate death of J. M. Paullin, deceased, was Embolism or blood clot, which was in no way attributable to the administration of chloroform or the amputation of the finger. That, with everybody except the ignoramuses, effectually settles the question as to the cause of Paullin's death. The post mortem was called by Dr. Andrews, who had freely expressed his opinion as to the cause of the death, and the result of the scientific examination proved that Dr. Andrews knew "what he was talking about," as some people seemed to doubt. It is also due to Drs. Stewart and Holladay to say that their expressed opinions, prior to the post mortem, agreed with Dr. Andrews.

Now is your chance to buy stoves, hardware, farm implements, cheap. Go to Thos. Richards' if you wish any goods in the line, at prices never before heard of, as he contemplates moving to Nemaha center, and wishes to reduce his stock in order to save freighting the goods and adding additional cost on them, will sell any goods in the line at figures which will pay any one to call and get the benefit of this offer. THOS. RICHARDS.

The hermaphrodite up street thinks it was Dr. Andrews, of Nemaha City, who has been telling a few truths regarding its political rascality, in our columns. It doesn't make any difference however who "Justice" is, he tells the truth all the same, as we know beyond a doubt, and as others know. A gentleman alluding to Moore's attempted treachery, said, "I know it's so—it is money he wants, g—d damn him!—that's the way he does every election." We are not at liberty to give names and details at present, but may do so if we deem it necessary.

A lady, with whom we have no acquaintance, and know only by the reputation she is making in the grand struggle for a real, instead of an honorary, citizenship for her sex, certainly comprehends the intent of the ADVERTISER. In a card addressed to us she says:

MR. FAIRBROTHER, There have been some articles in your paper (editorials) that suited my ideas of the truth more nearly than anything I have found elsewhere. Your fearless advocacy of right is so rarely found now in the newspapers, that it makes it only the more valuable.

A man recently went to the white house, Washington, and declaring he had papers from God to show that he was president, demanded immediate possession of the premises. Without looking at his documents the keepers placed the demented wretch under arrest after a severe struggle.

Secretary Blaine says the interview attributed to him and published a few days ago about the Cabinet was bogus from top to bottom.—Inter Ocean.

A man named Chas. Hebben, of St. Clair county, Michigan, recently cut the throat of his two-year old child, with a razor, and then killed himself in the same way. The lesson is contained in the fact that he was "partially insane, but considered harmless."

George Daubner, of Waukesha county, Wisconsin, received a large sum of money from the government as pension pay, and is now held for trial on the charge of defrauding the government in the matter.

Confederate bonds, worth $2 a thousand last week, have taken a drop, down to $1.50. That's an exceedingly thin speculation.

The Inter Ocean long contended that all the silver that could be carried could readily be utilized as active currency if put in the form of silver certificates. It repeatedly recommended this plan to the Secretary of the Treasury, and finally received a letter from Mr. Sherman, in which he commended the idea for the most part, and finally, through an act of Congress, was allowed to put it in operation. The result has surprised even the Treasury officials. There are over $66,000,000 of these certificates outstanding and daily employed in the business of the country, and so great has been the demand for them that but 248,000 silver dollars remain in the Treasury that are not represented by outstanding certificates. The only objection to silver in large quantities is its bulk, and when this is overcome by paper representing it all objection ceases, and it becomes as popular as greenbacks.—Inter Ocean.

Johnny Zince, of Chicago, has sued Louisa Frenzel, of Indianapolis, for breach of promise of marriage. Johnny's damages are $10,000. He was engaged to Louisa for two years, but a few weeks ago Louisa refused to fulfill the contract.—Ex.

We do not see why Johnny may not be in the right, because we can not see why a woman should not be held amenable for her promise to the same extent that men are. Believing in "woman's rights," and woman suffrage we must object to her trifling with a man's "heart strings," without a compensating penalty. The good time is now about here, that what is sauce for gander must be sauce for the goose.
