Joe Goss wants to fight Tug Wilson for $2,500. We presume he can be accommodated, and get licked in the bargain.

James Watson, living near Lincoln, was recently seriously gored by a Jersey bull. His injuries are believed to be fatal.

For Good Pictures go to Goss' rooms North Auburn. He is permanently located here and it is to his interest to do good work.

In Franklin county, Nebraska, a great deal of broom corn is raised, and they advertise for a large number of hands to take care of it.

Mr. Levi Benefiel, of Anderson, Madison county, Ind., was in town last week. He likes Nemaha county, and concluded to purchase a farm as a future home.

FOR SALE.—20 head of fat cows and 50 head 2-year old steers, at private sale—one or all to suit purchaser. Address JOHN G. KITE, Burchard, Neb.

A man known as "Tip" Davis at Corning, Mo., went to sleep on the railroad track. There were scarcely enough of the pieces found for a funeral. Perhaps Tip tipped the convivial glass once too often.

At the recent convention of Illinois distillers, they did the very curious thing of passing a resolution favoring the enforcement of the Sunday laws. They also favored the increase of license fees.

A. C. Hessing, formerly a German editor and politician of Chicago, was recently murdered on his ranche in Sonora, Mexico. It is believed his servant did it for his money. Later reports say that the above is a mistake.

A telegram from Chicago says, "contracts will be at once let for an extension from Tecumseh to the main Denver line, making another saving in distance." This extension will be to Beatrice or Wymore, more likely the latter.

J. F. Devin and T. H. Dunn, two of South Auburn's gay and festive gentlemen, took a flying trip to Talmage last Sunday, and returned heavily laden with grapes and peaches which the good people of that vicinity saw fit to bestow upon them.

A boy named Forbes, at Oxford, Ind., coming home wet and explaining to his mother that he had fallen into the creek, she petulantly said he ought to have stayed there. A few moments later the boy got a revolver and shot himself through the head.

Dr. B. Bell Andrews, of Nemaha City, has his office at his residence, where he is prepared to treat acute and chronic diseases. Pleasant waiting rooms for patients. Surgical diseases a woman's specialty. His success as a surgeon is well known from cases in this vicinity operated upon with permanent relief.

Does Good Printing Pay?

We do not suppose there is anything that men buy which gives them more genuine satisfaction in its use than good stationery. There is a pleasure in using good stationery, especially in private correspondence, which can not be obtained by the use of a poor article, however it may be managed. The value of good stationery to business men is rarely appreciated by even those who are in the habit of using it. A letter always creates an impression. Especially is this true when the letter is from a stranger. Accordingly it is well for every one who writes letters to consider what kind of an impression his epistle is likely to create in the mind of the person to whom it is addressed.

The most important element in creating a favorable impression by the letter one writes is in the style and quality of the paper and envelope, the character of the printing forming the letter head and the taste displayed in the general arrangement. If the whole be done in a way that indicates taste, a favorable impression is almost invariably made. On the other hand, if the general style of paper and printing be slouchy, an impression quite the opposite of favorable will be created in the minds of the persons addressed. There is nothing which the business man uses in which cheapness is such bad policy as the stationery employed in his correspondence. He may pay his clerks only half salaries, he may descend to all sorts of meanness in his management, and perceive no disastrous results arising from his policy, because no one outside of his own store will know it. Such management can not be patent to his customers, and therefore can have no effect upon their mind. On the other hand, every one with whom he deals by the medium of correspondence has an opportunity to judge of him by the character of the letter he writes, and will not be slow to form an opinion. A handsomely written letter, upon good letter-paper, having a fine heading, indicating that good taste has been exercised in selecting it, never fails to create a good impression.—Brunswick (Mo.) News.

There is a young editor wandering on the face of the earth who formerly published a paper at Storm Lake, Iowa. He left there the day after the last paper, and is supposed to be crossing the state on foot, to get away from the infuriated female population. It seems there was a concert given by the young ladies of the city, and the gallant young editor wrote it up in splendid shape. The same day he had visited a herd of short-horned cattle owned by a farmer in the vicinity, and he wrote up the cattle show also. The cross eyed foreman of the office got the two articles mixed up as follows: "The concert given last evening by sixteen of Storm Lake's most beautiful and interesting young ladies was highly appreciated. They were elegantly dressed, and sang in a most charming manner, winning the plaudits of the entire audience, who pronounced them the finest short-horns in the country. A few of them are of a rich brown color; but a majority of them are spotted brown and white. Several of the heifers were fine-bodied tight-limbed animals, and promise to be good property. Their limbs were shapely and their movements graceful. They must prove good breeders, and the farmer who secures them may well smack his lips."

We have claimed, and do still claim, that Nemaha county contains citizens of average good sense and moral worth; and being such would not persist in indorsing for high and honorable positions, a fool nor a knave. The Pawnee Banner, thinking over the matter, evolves the following very sensible marks:

We believe that every man, no matter who, is entitled to fair treatment from the people and the press. No man in the state is more widely known in Nebraska politics than Church Howe. No man in the state has been fought so persistently by the press as he, and among that number ourselves. No man has been more bitterly assailed from politicians, both in his own county and outside; yet in spite of all this he has gone on from victory to victory in his own county, where the true status of the man should be best known, until he now is absolute master of the field. One thing is certain, Church Howe is a great deal better man than he is credited with' or else Nemaha county is populated with more knaves, poltroons and ignoramuses, to the square inch, than any other county in America.

The Albany Evening Journal, which originated the charge that ex-Senator Conkling attempted to bribe Governor Cornell, now backs out of the story, and explains that "Mr. Conkling did not in person, nor as counsel," attempt the bribing, "but intimate friends of his visited the Governor and in his name solicited him to sign the bill." This puts an entirely different face upon the matter, for the Journal, emphatically and positively, state in its original publication that Mr. Conkling approached the Governor and attempted to use corrupt means to induce him to withhold a vote; and it has repeated the assertion again and again.—Inter Ocean.

A liar and slanderer is always cowardly, and when in close quarters will acknowledge their perfidy, as the Albany Evening Journal, has done.

Emery J. Garfield, a cousin of the late president, has mysteriously disappeared, and his friends have advertised for him.

Chief Engineer Calvert, of the B. & M., has been promoted to be general superintendent of bridges and construction.

The Constantinople papers allege that Gen. Wolsey lost 4,000 men, at the recent repulse of the British on the Suez Canal.

The project to build in West Point a Catholic school, to cost $3,000, is being successfully agitated. It will be placed in charge of the sisters.

Capt. B. M. Bailey, with his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Cross, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wm. Bailey, returned Friday from their visit to Tennessee.

Red Cloud is an anti-monopolist and terribly down on railroads. In this respect he doesn't hold much over the Omaha Bee and Tecumseh Torchlight.

A flock of buzzards attacked a large rattle-snake at Brady, Tex., and killed it. H. C. Fisher measured the snake and it made eleven feet long, with sixteen rattles.

Jas. Lynch, who committed murder in Fulton county, Ind., seven years ago, has delivered himself to the officers. The man he murdered was William McNeil.

The Republican State Central Committee, of Missouri, by a vote of 28 to 8, decided not to call a state convention. Congressional nominations will be made in all districts not overwhelmingly democratic, and the party organization held intact.

Two or three weeks ago the bank of Kewanee, Ill., was robbed by two men, of $20,000. Since that a commercial traveler of Chicago, by the name of Edward N. Welch, and his cousin also named Welch, have been taken in by the Pinkertons for the crime.

There seems to be a general impression that Gov. Colquitt, of Georgia, will succeed the late Senator Hill in the United States Senate. The Legislature will meet early in the winter, and meanwhile Gov. Colquitt will hardly appoint anybody to fill the term.

An Iowa firm of farmers one day this week paid $15,400 for two adjoining farms a few miles west of Brownville. Both were highly improved and consisted of a half section each. That amount looks large, being nearly twenty-five dollars per acre, but in our opinion these farms were sold for little more than half they are worth.—State Journal.

The Chicago Exposition will open Sept. 6th. The Exposition will be exceptionally good this year. The Elkhart carriage and harness manufacturing company, of Elkhart, Ind., will exhibit their work with other first-class makers. Top buggies $90, three-spring wagons $65, platform wagons $75, single harness, oak leather $8.50 to $20, best team harness $25. They ship anywhere with privilege to examine before paying.

At Tecumseh, according to the declarations of the Torchlight, the B. & M. railroad employes mustered at the primaries in favor of Church Howe. In this county they did exactly the reverse. We infer, therefore, that the B. & M. employes, or rather the section men, track layers and other laborers on the road, voted to suit themselves, so far as interference from the railroad company was concerned, and that if there was any interference it was by the undertrappers in the employment of the company who would be politicians had they the brains and other requisites necessary to run politics successfully.

The report of the Commissioner of the General Land office for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1882, will show an inroad upon the area of the public domain unprecedented in the history of the country. The report last year showed the disposal of lands by cash sales to amount to 1,547,617 acres. This year's report will show under the same head 3,699,899 acres of agricultural lands alone, including the trilling sales of Indian lands, to which should be added sales of 37,064 acres under the mineral land act, and 169,055 acres under the desert land act, and 7,194 acres of coal lands. The homestead entry last year covered 5,023,100 acres, while for the fiscal year just closed there were taken under this act the enormous area of 6,347,729 acres. The increase in settlements under the timber-culture act is no less striking, the last report showing entries under this law of 1,783,799 for the fiscal year ended June 30, '81, while for the fiscal year closing June 30, 1882, the number of acres was 2,609,797. The grand total of acreage taken for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1881, was 10,893,897, against 15,999,848 for the fiscal year closed last June.
