

NORMAL TRUSTEES ASKED TO RESIGN.

Governor Tanner Tired of Wrangling Over the Selection of a School Site.

THINKS THEY CANNOT AGREE.

Mr. Keefe, One of the Officials, Says He Expected This Action and Will Step Down and Out.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 6.—Governor Tanner today called for the resignations of the trustees of the Western Illinois Normal School, for the reason that they have not been able to agree upon a site for the location of the school.

MR. KEEFE EXPECTED IT.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 6.—The Republic's responsibility for the resignation of the trustees of the Western Illinois Normal School, from this city, tonight, and informed him of Governor Tanner's action in calling for the resignation of the present trustees, Mr. Keefe said:

"Judging from the last ballot taken by the trustees at the meeting at Beardwood, where each trustee voted for a different town, there is but little prospect for an agreement. The last ballot gave each of the competing cities one vote, except Quakaw, and from that it is plain that we were no nearer a settlement than on the first ballot.

FELL DOWN THE STEPS.

Man Supposed to Be Louis Kaiser Seriously Injured.

A man whose name is thought to be Louis Kaiser, is in a serious condition at the City Hospital, the result of a compound fracture of the skull, by a fall. While under the influence of liquor, it is said, he attempted to ascend the steps at No. 211 Chestnut street last night. When he had almost reached the top step he lost his footing and fell backward. His head struck the steps and sidewalk with great force, and when he was picked up he was found to be unconscious. He was removed to the City Hospital in an ambulance. The fracture is at the base of his skull. A doctor here cannot recover.

ARGUES AGAINST TRUSTS.

Charles C. Allen Appears Before Industrial Commission.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Charles C. Allen, of St. Louis, was before the Industrial Commission today and submitted a legal argument on the subject of trusts. It was in reply to the argument made last month by John R. Dosson, and was generally against trusts, and was a compilation of decisions and legislation on the subject.

PRINCE CARNIVAL AT THE NIEDERKRAUZ.

An Evening of Fun and Frolic Enjoyed by Two Thousand Persons.

JABS AT THE CITY FATHERS.

Collection Proposed to Buy Candles to Light the Darkened Institutions—A One-Man Ballet—Burlesque Opera.

A brilliant carnival was given last night at the Lieberhaus Society. The affair was such as is seldom seen in St. Louis. Prince Carnival was the guest of the society, and he, with his court of "fools," reigned supreme. The mischievousness and fun which radiated from the Prince and his suite was contagious, for the brilliant audience became so hilarious that the commander of the affair, Prince Carnival, could hardly be estimated that at least 2,000 persons paid homage to Prince Carnival last night, and a great portion of these were ladies dressed in brilliant toilet.

PRINCE AND SUITE ENTER.

As the Prince and his suite entered the hall, where his faithful subjects were gathered at tables set all around. He was attended by a court of "fools," and he, with his court of "fools," reigned supreme. The mischievousness and fun which radiated from the Prince and his suite was contagious, for the brilliant audience became so hilarious that the commander of the affair, Prince Carnival, could hardly be estimated that at least 2,000 persons paid homage to Prince Carnival last night, and a great portion of these were ladies dressed in brilliant toilet.

WARRANT FOR WINN. Charged With Shooting Herman Fielsticker, a Saloonkeeper. (Colonel Johnson issued a warrant charging Winn with shooting Herman Fielsticker, the latter a man's saloon at Prince and Taylor streets, early yesterday morning. Winn, 27 years old, single and lives with his parents at No. 608 Park avenue. Early yesterday morning, according to Fielsticker's story, Winn entered his saloon on a Saturday evening. He began talking to the saloon keeper and fell sound asleep. The proprietor of the saloon thought that Winn had come in simply to wait for a car and did not wake him. He says that when he awoke half an hour had passed, however. Fielsticker thought that it was time for the man to move along. He awakened Winn and told him to get up. Winn refused to leave and, when moved toward the door, shot at the threshold and striking Fielsticker, who was leaning over to enter the saloon, Fielsticker shot him on the forehead. Winn fired about fifteen shots. Winn suddenly fired the front door was thrown open and he strode into the saloon. Fielsticker says that Winn shot a pistol from his pocket and fired point blank at him. The ball struck in the right shoulder, and Fielsticker rushed in and grabbed the trigger which caused two more shots were fired, one of which struck a big photograph mirror at the far end of the saloon. Winn then turned around and fired over to a policeman, who was attracted to the spot by the noise of the shot. Winn was taken to the City Hospital and Fielsticker returned to his home. Winn was held in the City Jail on a $10,000 bond. Winn was held in the City Jail on a $10,000 bond. Winn was held in the City Jail on a $10,000 bond.
