

The Children's Store.

We are proud of the friendship of the small boys. When we please them we know that the clothes we make for them are right.

The mothers of boys may be better judges of prices, and we are equally pleased when we meet their requirements.

Here are some items from the Children's Department, with two prices to each. One is the lowest price at which such a suit can be sold by any one. The other is the most that it is necessary to pay for the very best of finish and style. The fit is guaranteed and there are fine values between these figures.

- Children's Suits with fancy Silk Vests, ages 3 to 8 $3.00 to $10.00
- Boys' Knee Pants Suits, ages 6 to 16 $3.00 to $10.00
- Boys' Knee Pant Suits, with vests, ages 11 to 16 $6.00 to $10.00
- Children's Wash Suits, beautiful styles white pique and fancy linen $1.50 to $5.00

GREBEL FAMILY REUNITED BY DEATH.

Mother and Daughter Buried Beside the Husband and Father in Calvary.

FATE PURSUED RELENTLESSLY.

Father, Once Wealthy, Lost His Fortune and Ended His Life—Mother's Death Follows Close on Child's.

Mrs. Ida Grebel and her 9-year-old daughter, both of whom died in St. Joseph, Mo., were buried yesterday from the residence of Mrs. Grebel's father, Charles Weizer, No. 112 Hickory street. The funeral took place at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and was attended by a large number of the most prominent citizens of South St. Louis. From the house the bodies were taken to the Holy Angels' Church, where the Reverend Father Kleitry read the burial service.

The burial was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery. The mother and daughter were placed in graves beside each other, near the spot where rests the body of George Grebel, husband of Mrs. Grebel, who killed himself four years ago. At the grave Chaplain John M. Kern of the cemetery read the Catholic ritual for the dead. The pallbearers were C. Marquard Forster, Doctor Otto Forster, William Halbrueger, Charles Meyer, B. A. Busch and Edward Faust.

The circumstances connected with the death of Mrs. Grebel and her daughter and the history of the family in recent years have been said and show the weight of the hand which fate has laid upon the family. A few years ago Mr. Weizer and his son-in-law, George Grebel, were wealthy and among the most prominent men in South St. Louis. Both met with business reverses and their entire fortunes were swept away. Mr. Weizer battled manfully to rebuild his fallen fortunes, but the younger man did not possess his father's strength. Four years ago he shot himself in the station of Albert Henry, at Poplar street and Broadway. His widow was prostrated with grief at the front and was visited with typhoid fever and died before the month was passed. The body was placed in a receiving vault until arrangements for its shipment to St. Louis could be made.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Grebel again went to St. Joseph to visit her sister, who was in poor health. One night she arose in answer to a call from her sister, and in crossing the room in bare feet she stepped upon a needle. The injury was painful and she fainted. The needle was removed from her flesh and nothing was thought of the thing for several days, until a swelling came on Mrs. Grebel's foot. Blood poisoning set in and in two days the unfortunate woman breathed her last.

The bodies of mother and daughter arrived in St. Louis yesterday. They were taken to the undertaking establishment of Eberie & Keyes, No. 118 St. Ange avenue. Later Mrs. Grebel's body was taken to Mr. Weizer's home. There the coffin was covered with floral offerings. The white hearse containing the body of the child led the funeral procession to the church.

WHAT THE GOVERNOR OF ALABAMA SAID

WHILE no one questions the nature of the subsequent action of the parties, some doubt has been expressed as to the precise phraseology of the celebrated communication of the Governor of North Carolina to the Governor of South Carolina. But no such uncertainty can exist in the mind of any one as to what the Governor of Alabama meant when he wrote the following on the 25th day of June, 1900:

State of Alabama, Executive Department,
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR,
MONTGOMERY, June 26th, 1900.

DEAR SIR: My absence from the city explains why I have delayed in thanking you for the book, which came duly to hand. Since the opening of the war with Spain I have seen so book touching any phase of the subjects it has brought up at all comparable to your volume on "Our Islands and Their People." The execution of the work is beyond compliment, and its elegance and the beauty of its illustrations fit it for ornamenting any parlor in the land. It is a timely publication, and the information that crowds its pages should be in the hands of every American. So much of value in so attractive a form, I am sure, cannot be found in any other book or series. Yours very truly,
JOS. F. JOHNSTON, Governor.

The full title of the work referred to is, as every one will remember,

OUR ISLANDS AND THEIR PEOPLE,

AS SEEN WITH CAMERA AND PENCIL.

And the cause of the Governor's unqualified approval and admiration will be instantly apparent to all who examine the publication. For instance, one of the most famous works of the world, namely, "The Cyclopaedia of History," is published in 8 large volumes, which cannot be purchased for less than $24. On the other hand, the two immense folio volumes of "Our Islands and Their People" contain more reading matter by accurate printers' measurement than the 8 folio volumes; and, in addition, they embrace more than 1,300 separate views, or OVER 2,000 SQUARE FEET of the finest NICKEL-PLATE HALFTONE PHOTOGRAPHS—actual photographs of the islands and their people—that were ever seen.

This Explains the Marked Enthusiasm of the Governor of Alabama.

INTRODUCED BY General Joseph Wheeler, Descriptive Features by Jose de Olivares,
Soldier, Statesman, Author. Author, Poet, Artist.

The whole work can be had in combination with The Republic in small monthly payments of merely a fraction more than the regular price of the paper. Do you see the point? If not, drop us a card and we will make it plain.
