

DOCKERY HAS PROVED A STRONG CAMPAIGNER.

Southeast Missouri Tour May Change Complexion of Several Counties.

AROUSING GREAT ENTHUSIASM.

Effective Speeches Delivered Before Immense Audiences—Campaign Incidents.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

The campaign made by Mr. Dockery in Southeast Missouri last week promises to exercise a decided influence on the political complexion of at least two counties at the election next month. Most of the counties visited were not in need of missionary work. The speeches of Mr. Dockery in those counties were the occasions of gigantic turn-outs of Democrats and supplied an escape valve for pent-up enthusiasm.

Mr. Dockery spoke in Scott, Butler, Stoddard, Wayne, Reynolds, Iron, Washington and Jefferson counties during the last week. Wayne and Jefferson counties gave Republican majorities in recent elections. Mr. Dockery's three speeches in Wayne County—at Leeper, Greenville and Williamsville—and his three speeches in Jefferson County—at Festus, Hillsboro and De Soto—coupled with the enthusiasm aroused in the Democrats of these counties and with the renewed energy imparted to the political workers by his visit promises to make these counties safely Democratic next month.

Jefferson County especially the effect of the speeches was apparent. Mr. Dockery's audiences were large and those who composed them appeared eager for instruction in the issues. They followed the words of the speaker closely and their laughter and applause abounded. The speaker's remarks were received with the attention which the speaker's remarks received. There was no inclination here, as in Iron County, for instance, to shout and hurrah for the speaker. The applause was the expression of the approval of the points scored by the speaker. The audiences were highly receptive.

In Festus, Mr. Dockery spoke to a large section of the employees of the Crystal City plate-glass works, and in De Soto to a large section of the employees of the Iron Mountain Railroad shops. They had given a majority for McKinley in 1896, and they seemed to appreciate the 1896 issue was superseded by new issues in the present campaign raised by the policy of the McKinley administration. Men who study the present issues and usually end in strong opposition to William McKinley and the citizens of Festus, Hillsboro and De Soto are studying them.

The passage of Mr. Dockery through a section, his mere shaking hands with those who come to meet him, has done more for the effect of Mr. Dockery is a strong campaigner. He takes pride in the record he has made during twenty years of active campaigning—that he has never in all that time missed an appointment to which he was assigned. On one occasion he was obliged to engage a special train to take him from Moberly to Mexico, Mo., to keep an appointment. And when he got to Mexico it was knowing, and I spoke to a mere handful of men," he says reminiscently.

Mr. Dockery has the quality indispensable to a long and arduous campaign of husbanding his physical resources. He can catch up lost sleep at an instant's notice anywhere—in a railroad train, surrounded by an enthusiastic reception committee. In a jolting wagon going cross-country on a rock road, on a hotel lounge or in a chair. He is a patient, patient, patient, no matter how irregularly the meals come. He can eat or go without an emergency command. He, however, seems to exercise a special supervision to get his meals as nearly as possible at stated times.

There is a magnetism in the candidate, a heartiness that is not superficial. He has the politician's memory for names and faces. He seldom forgets a name, "the name, please" and when he does an identification of some relation or connection of the person addressed usually follows. His wide acquaintance among Missouri Democrats enables him to make these identifications with surprising frequency. He has a way of addressing the small boy, whose propensity to stare and peep at strangers, in the deepest fear of small men, with an "I wouldn't do that, honey," which brings instant respectful obedience.

One of the remarkable traits of the candidate is his constant, unerring presence of mind. He is never taken unawares. Whether in a colloquy with an auditor in a speech or while skipping hands he is awake to everything around him.

An incident in the parade at De Soto showed this trait well. The Reception Committee, desiring to honor "the next Governor" had put out for the parade a number of small boys walked beside the candidate's vehicle shouting and blowing horns. The driver restrained the horses with difficulty, and when the horses balked and the crowd joined the hubbub the horses went through the entire curriculum of the haute école in an effort to escape from the clamor. Then the hand struck up suddenly and the horses took the bits in their teeth and started off at a runaway gallop blithely down the crowded street. The driver had the reins wrapped around his hands and was unable to check them. Mr. Dockery leaped over from the rear seat where he was ensconced, got a grip on the reins over the driver's shoulders and, with a mighty jerk, jerked the horses back on their haunches. Serious results might have followed but for Mr. Dockery's activity, strength and presence of mind. He refused to drive further in the parade behind the horses.

"I don't want anybody killed on my account," he explained.

On his tour Mr. Dockery is almost invariably addressed as "show-brother," and those who introduce him at the "speaking" always refer to him as "the next Governor."

At the beginning of the campaign," says Mr. Dockery, "but I found I had to make one continued protest, so I quit protesting."

JOHN C. LEBENS.

NO BICYCLE SUITS FOR SUPREME COURT.

Visitor Forced to Don Apparel Becoming the Chamber's Dignity.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL. Washington, Oct. 14.—Bicycle suits are barred in the Supreme Court of the United States. This discovery was made by the correspondent of a Western paper yesterday, who was refused admittance to the court. Mr. Dockery is a strong campaigner. He takes pride in the record he has made during twenty years of active campaigning—that he has never in all that time missed an appointment to which he was assigned. On one occasion he was obliged to engage a special train to take him from Moberly to Mexico, Mo., to keep an appointment. And when he got to Mexico it was knowing, and I spoke to a mere handful of men," he says reminiscently.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Tinned Skewers, 25c set. Skewer Pullers, 10c each. Potato Scoops, 35c. Potato Parers, 10c. Knife Sharpeners, 25c. Butcher Knives, 6-in., 20c. Paring Knives, 5c and 10c. Larding Needles, 10c and 15c. Corkscrews, 5c, 10c and 15c. Can Openers, 5c and 10c. Metal Polish, 15c. Flour Scoops, 5c and 10c. Second Floor.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- $3.50 American Grade Hammerless Shot Gun, action simple and strong, fitted with fine steel barrels, bored for nitro powders. Automatic shell ejectors. Same gun without automatic ejector only $2.50. Sample Guns—We have a few left at $12.50, $13.50, $15.00, $18.00 and $30.00. These are bargains.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Gun Cases. It pays to keep a good gun in a good case. Saves barrels from dents and stocks from scratches. A fine orange leather case, made in heavy material, nicely stitched and finished, $3.50. Fine quality leg-of-mutton case, flannel lined; inside tool compartment. A very handsome case, $5.00. Others at $5.50, $7.00, $10.00, $12.00 and $20.00.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Gun Implements. To take proper care of a gun means that you must have the proper instruments to do it with. Here are a few: Cleaning Rod—Three-jointed brass, with screw driver and oil can, $1.25. Cleaning Rod—Three-jointed Madera wood; complete with rag wiper and wool swab, 35c. Recall Pad—Highest quality, pure rubber, 60c. Gun Cleaner—Latest improved, will remove dust and lead from inside of gun barrels, 75c.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Making Pictures. It is quite easy nowadays to make good pictures with very little practice. If you think it hard, come and let us show you what a simple thing it is. It won't cost you anything. We always have on hand the best Cameras and supplies of every sort, and for those who do not wish to do it themselves, we develop, print and mount pictures, and we do it well. Our prices are right, of course. Brownie Kodaks, 80c. Folding Pocket Kodaks, $8.00, $9.00, $10.00, $12.00 and $14.00. Bull's-Eye Kodaks, $6.40, $9.60. Prema Cameras, $3.75 to $100.00. Ask to see the new Reflex Camera; has a focal plane shutter, and finder that shows the full size of image, $40.00; with special lenses up to $75.00 each.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Footballs. It would be hard to find elsewhere football goods of better quality than these. Football Pants—Moleskin, heavily padded, reinforced at all points of strain, elastic at knees $3.00. Head Harness—Protect ears, forehead and top of head, made of leather, thickly lined with felt, strong and easily adjusted, $2.00. Skin Guards—Of canvas, leather bound, rattan filler, 8-inch size, 50c; 12-inch size 75c. Intercollegiate Football—Used in all the St. Louis matches—genuine pigskin, very strong, $3.50. Sweater—The famous College Special, made in all the College colors, fine wool, fast dyes, $5.00.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- The Whitley A complete home gymnasium. Its use will benefit the strongest exerciser, man or the smallest child. It is an insurance against ill health in men and women, and it promotes the development of children. Can be carried in a grip and put up anywhere. Absolutely noiseless. Prices, $2.00, $2.50, $3.50, $4.50 and $10.00.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Striking Bags. Punching the bag is a great exercise not only for the muscles, but for the eye. One learns to see quickly after a few weeks' practice. $1.25 Oil-tanned Leather Bag, canvas lined, rawhide loop. $2.00 Olive green, oil-tanned Leather Bag, re-reinforced, canvas lined. $2.75 Extra fine oil-tanned Leather Bag, double silk stitched. A good, durable bag. $4.00 Extra quality oil-tanned Bull Skin, welted and stayed seams. A very fine bag. $5.00 The Celebrated Frazier Striking Bag Ceiling, can be put up in any room, adjustable for height; makes less noise than any other ceiling.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Andirons and Fire Goods. To lovers of the beautiful nothing is more pleasing than the large open fireplace, with its Andirons and Fender, but the design must be appropriate to its surroundings. Our display of these goods is very complete, affording an opportunity for the gratification of all tastes. Andirons—Old Colonial painted brass, 36 inches high, fluted column, with square base and urn top, $18.00 per pair. Andirons—Louis XVI. pattern, 32 inches high, relief work in antique finish, rest of pillar in dull brass, $75.00 per pair. Brass Fender—Plain rope finish, polished brass, 42 inches long, 6 inches high, $8.50. Brass Fender—Florentine pattern, graceful scroll, finished in mat brass, 42 inches long, $16.50. Brass Fire Sets, $5 to $20. Folding Brass Screens, $2.50 to $30. Second Floor.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Andirons and Fire Goods. To lovers of the beautiful nothing is more pleasing than the large open fireplace, with its Andirons and Fender, but the design must be appropriate to its surroundings. Our display of these goods is very complete, affording an opportunity for the gratification of all tastes. Andirons—Old Colonial painted brass, 36 inches high, fluted column, with square base and urn top, $18.00 per pair. Andirons—Louis XVI. pattern, 32 inches high, relief work in antique finish, rest of pillar in dull brass, $75.00 per pair. Brass Fender—Plain rope finish, polished brass, 42 inches long, 6 inches high, $8.50. Brass Fender—Florentine pattern, graceful scroll, finished in mat brass, 42 inches long, $16.50. Brass Fire Sets, $5 to $20. Folding Brass Screens, $2.50 to $30. Second Floor.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Andirons and Fire Goods. To lovers of the beautiful nothing is more pleasing than the large open fireplace, with its Andirons and Fender, but the design must be appropriate to its surroundings. Our display of these goods is very complete, affording an opportunity for the gratification of all tastes. Andirons—Old Colonial painted brass, 36 inches high, fluted column, with square base and urn top, $18.00 per pair. Andirons—Louis XVI. pattern, 32 inches high, relief work in antique finish, rest of pillar in dull brass, $75.00 per pair. Brass Fender—Plain rope finish, polished brass, 42 inches long, 6 inches high, $8.50. Brass Fender—Florentine pattern, graceful scroll, finished in mat brass, 42 inches long, $16.50. Brass Fire Sets, $5 to $20. Folding Brass Screens, $2.50 to $30. Second Floor.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Andirons and Fire Goods. To lovers of the beautiful nothing is more pleasing than the large open fireplace, with its Andirons and Fender, but the design must be appropriate to its surroundings. Our display of these goods is very complete, affording an opportunity for the gratification of all tastes. Andirons—Old Colonial painted brass, 36 inches high, fluted column, with square base and urn top, $18.00 per pair. Andirons—Louis XVI. pattern, 32 inches high, relief work in antique finish, rest of pillar in dull brass, $75.00 per pair. Brass Fender—Plain rope finish, polished brass, 42 inches long, 6 inches high, $8.50. Brass Fender—Florentine pattern, graceful scroll, finished in mat brass, 42 inches long, $16.50. Brass Fire Sets, $5 to $20. Folding Brass Screens, $2.50 to $30. Second Floor.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Andirons and Fire Goods. To lovers of the beautiful nothing is more pleasing than the large open fireplace, with its Andirons and Fender, but the design must be appropriate to its surroundings. Our display of these goods is very complete, affording an opportunity for the gratification of all tastes. Andirons—Old Colonial painted brass, 36 inches high, fluted column, with square base and urn top, $18.00 per pair. Andirons—Louis XVI. pattern, 32 inches high, relief work in antique finish, rest of pillar in dull brass, $75.00 per pair. Brass Fender—Plain rope finish, polished brass, 42 inches long, 6 inches high, $8.50. Brass Fender—Florentine pattern, graceful scroll, finished in mat brass, 42 inches long, $16.50. Brass Fire Sets, $5 to $20. Folding Brass Screens, $2.50 to $30. Second Floor.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Andirons and Fire Goods. To lovers of the beautiful nothing is more pleasing than the large open fireplace, with its Andirons and Fender, but the design must be appropriate to its surroundings. Our display of these goods is very complete, affording an opportunity for the gratification of all tastes. Andirons—Old Colonial painted brass, 36 inches high, fluted column, with square base and urn top, $18.00 per pair. Andirons—Louis XVI. pattern, 32 inches high, relief work in antique finish, rest of pillar in dull brass, $75.00 per pair. Brass Fender—Plain rope finish, polished brass, 42 inches long, 6 inches high, $8.50. Brass Fender—Florentine pattern, graceful scroll, finished in mat brass, 42 inches long, $16.50. Brass Fire Sets, $5 to $20. Folding Brass Screens, $2.50 to $30. Second Floor.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Andirons and Fire Goods. To lovers of the beautiful nothing is more pleasing than the large open fireplace, with its Andirons and Fender, but the design must be appropriate to its surroundings. Our display of these goods is very complete, affording an opportunity for the gratification of all tastes. Andirons—Old Colonial painted brass, 36 inches high, fluted column, with square base and urn top, $18.00 per pair. Andirons—Louis XVI. pattern, 32 inches high, relief work in antique finish, rest of pillar in dull brass, $75.00 per pair. Brass Fender—Plain rope finish, polished brass, 42 inches long, 6 inches high, $8.50. Brass Fender—Florentine pattern, graceful scroll, finished in mat brass, 42 inches long, $16.50. Brass Fire Sets, $5 to $20. Folding Brass Screens, $2.50 to $30. Second Floor.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Andirons and Fire Goods. To lovers of the beautiful nothing is more pleasing than the large open fireplace, with its Andirons and Fender, but the design must be appropriate to its surroundings. Our display of these goods is very complete, affording an opportunity for the gratification of all tastes. Andirons—Old Colonial painted brass, 36 inches high, fluted column, with square base and urn top, $18.00 per pair. Andirons—Louis XVI. pattern, 32 inches high, relief work in antique finish, rest of pillar in dull brass, $75.00 per pair. Brass Fender—Plain rope finish, polished brass, 42 inches long, 6 inches high, $8.50. Brass Fender—Florentine pattern, graceful scroll, finished in mat brass, 42 inches long, $16.50. Brass Fire Sets, $5 to $20. Folding Brass Screens, $2.50 to $30. Second Floor.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Andirons and Fire Goods. To lovers of the beautiful nothing is more pleasing than the large open fireplace, with its Andirons and Fender, but the design must be appropriate to its surroundings. Our display of these goods is very complete, affording an opportunity for the gratification of all tastes. Andirons—Old Colonial painted brass, 36 inches high, fluted column, with square base and urn top, $18.00 per pair. Andirons—Louis XVI. pattern, 32 inches high, relief work in antique finish, rest of pillar in dull brass, $75.00 per pair. Brass Fender—Plain rope finish, polished brass, 42 inches long, 6 inches high, $8.50. Brass Fender—Florentine pattern, graceful scroll, finished in mat brass, 42 inches long, $16.50. Brass Fire Sets, $5 to $20. Folding Brass Screens, $2.50 to $30. Second Floor.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Andirons and Fire Goods. To lovers of the beautiful nothing is more pleasing than the large open fireplace, with its Andirons and Fender, but the design must be appropriate to its surroundings. Our display of these goods is very complete, affording an opportunity for the gratification of all tastes. Andirons—Old Colonial painted brass, 36 inches high, fluted column, with square base and urn top, $18.00 per pair. Andirons—Louis XVI. pattern, 32 inches high, relief work in antique finish, rest of pillar in dull brass, $75.00 per pair. Brass Fender—Plain rope finish, polished brass, 42 inches long, 6 inches high, $8.50. Brass Fender—Florentine pattern, graceful scroll, finished in mat brass, 42 inches long, $16.50. Brass Fire Sets, $5 to $20. Folding Brass Screens, $2.50 to $30. Second Floor.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Andirons and Fire Goods. To lovers of the beautiful nothing is more pleasing than the large open fireplace, with its Andirons and Fender, but the design must be appropriate to its surroundings. Our display of these goods is very complete, affording an opportunity for the gratification of all tastes. Andirons—Old Colonial painted brass, 36 inches high, fluted column, with square base and urn top, $18.00 per pair. Andirons—Louis XVI. pattern, 32 inches high, relief work in antique finish, rest of pillar in dull brass, $75.00 per pair. Brass Fender—Plain rope finish, polished brass, 42 inches long, 6 inches high, $8.50. Brass Fender—Florentine pattern, graceful scroll, finished in mat brass, 42 inches long, $16.50. Brass Fire Sets, $5 to $20. Folding Brass Screens, $2.50 to $30. Second Floor.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Andirons and Fire Goods. To lovers of the beautiful nothing is more pleasing than the large open fireplace, with its Andirons and Fender, but the design must be appropriate to its surroundings. Our display of these goods is very complete, affording an opportunity for the gratification of all tastes. Andirons—Old Colonial painted brass, 36 inches high, fluted column, with square base and urn top, $18.00 per pair. Andirons—Louis XVI. pattern, 32 inches high, relief work in antique finish, rest of pillar in dull brass, $75.00 per pair. Brass Fender—Plain rope finish, polished brass, 42 inches long, 6 inches high, $8.50. Brass Fender—Florentine pattern, graceful scroll, finished in mat brass, 42 inches long, $16.50. Brass Fire Sets, $5 to $20. Folding Brass Screens, $2.50 to $30. Second Floor.

DOCKERY HAS PROVED A STRONG CAMPAIGNER.

The campaign made by Mr. Dockery in Southeast Missouri last week promises to exercise a decided influence on the political complexion of at least two counties at the election next month.

Most of the counties visited were not in need of missionary work. The speeches of Mr. Dockery in those counties were the occasions of gigantic turn-outs of Democrats and supplied an escape valve for pent-up enthusiasm.

Mr. Dockery spoke in Scott, Butler, Stoddard, Wayne, Reynolds, Iron, Washington and Jefferson counties during the last week.

Wayne and Jefferson counties gave Republican majorities in recent elections. Mr. Dockery's three speeches in Wayne County—at Leeper, Greenville and Williamsville—and his three speeches in Jefferson County—at Festus, Hillsboro and De Soto—coupled with the enthusiasm aroused in the Democrats of these counties and with the renewed energy imparted to the political workers by his visit promises to make these counties safely Democratic next month.

Jefferson County especially the effect of the speeches was apparent. Mr. Dockery's audiences were large and those who composed them appeared eager for instruction in the issues.

They followed the words of the speaker closely and their laughter and applause abounded. The speaker's remarks were received with the attention which the speaker's remarks received. There was no inclination here, as in Iron County, for instance, to shout and hurrah for the speaker.

The applause was the expression of the approval of the points scored by the speaker. The audiences were highly receptive.

In Festus, Mr. Dockery spoke to a large section of the employees of the Crystal City plate-glass works, and in De Soto to a large section of the employees of the Iron Mountain Railroad shops.

They had given a majority for McKinley in 1896, and they seemed to appreciate the 1896 issue was superseded by new issues in the present campaign raised by the policy of the McKinley administration.

Men who study the present issues and usually end in strong opposition to William McKinley and the citizens of Festus, Hillsboro and De Soto are studying them.

The passage of Mr. Dockery through a section, his mere shaking hands with those who come to meet him, has done more for the effect of Mr. Dockery is a strong campaigner.

He takes pride in the record he has made during twenty years of active campaigning—that he has never in all that time missed an appointment to which he was assigned.

On one occasion he was obliged to engage a special train to take him from Moberly to Mexico, Mo., to keep an appointment. And when he got to Mexico it was knowing, and I spoke to a mere handful of men," he says reminiscently.

Mr. Dockery has the quality indispensable to a long and arduous campaign of husbanding his physical resources. He can catch up lost sleep at an instant's notice anywhere—in a railroad train, surrounded by an enthusiastic reception committee. In a jolting wagon going cross-country on a rock road, on a hotel lounge or in a chair. He is a patient, patient, patient, no matter how irregularly the meals come. He can eat or go without an emergency command. He, however, seems to exercise a special supervision to get his meals as nearly as possible at stated times.

There is a magnetism in the candidate, a heartiness that is not superficial. He has the politician's memory for names and faces. He seldom forgets a name, "the name, please" and when he does an identification of some relation or connection of the person addressed usually follows.

His wide acquaintance among Missouri Democrats enables him to make these identifications with surprising frequency. He has a way of addressing the small boy, whose propensity to stare and peep at strangers, in the deepest fear of small men, with an "I wouldn't do that, honey," which brings instant respectful obedience.

One of the remarkable traits of the candidate is his constant, unerring presence of mind. He is never taken unawares. Whether in a colloquy with an auditor in a speech or while skipping hands he is awake to everything around him.

An incident in the parade at De Soto showed this trait well. The Reception Committee, desiring to honor "the next Governor" had put out for the parade a number of small boys walked beside the candidate's vehicle shouting and blowing horns.

The driver restrained the horses with difficulty, and when the horses balked and the crowd joined the hubbub the horses went through the entire curriculum of the haute école in an effort to escape from the clamor.

Then the hand struck up suddenly and the horses took the bits in their teeth and started off at a runaway gallop blithely down the crowded street. The driver had the reins wrapped around his hands and was unable to check them.

Mr. Dockery leaped over from the rear seat where he was ensconced, got a grip on the reins over the driver's shoulders and, with a mighty jerk, jerked the horses back on their haunches. Serious results might have followed but for Mr. Dockery's activity, strength and presence of mind. He refused to drive further in the parade behind the horses.

"I don't want anybody killed on my account," he explained.

On his tour Mr. Dockery is almost invariably addressed as "show-brother," and those who introduce him at the "speaking" always refer to him as "the next Governor."

At the beginning of the campaign," says Mr. Dockery, "but I found I had to make one continued protest, so I quit protesting."

JOHN C. LEBENS.

NO BICYCLE SUITS FOR SUPREME COURT.

Visitor Forced to Don Apparel Becoming the Chamber's Dignity.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL. Washington, Oct. 14.—Bicycle suits are barred in the Supreme Court of the United States. This discovery was made by the correspondent of a Western paper yesterday, who was refused admittance to the court. Mr. Dockery is a strong campaigner. He takes pride in the record he has made during twenty years of active campaigning—that he has never in all that time missed an appointment to which he was assigned. On one occasion he was obliged to engage a special train to take him from Moberly to Mexico, Mo., to keep an appointment. And when he got to Mexico it was knowing, and I spoke to a mere handful of men," he says reminiscently.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Tinned Skewers, 25c set. Skewer Pullers, 10c each. Potato Scoops, 35c. Potato Parers, 10c. Knife Sharpeners, 25c. Butcher Knives, 6-in., 20c. Paring Knives, 5c and 10c. Larding Needles, 10c and 15c. Corkscrews, 5c, 10c and 15c. Can Openers, 5c and 10c. Metal Polish, 15c. Flour Scoops, 5c and 10c. Second Floor.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- $3.50 American Grade Hammerless Shot Gun, action simple and strong, fitted with fine steel barrels, bored for nitro powders. Automatic shell ejectors. Same gun without automatic ejector only $2.50. Sample Guns—We have a few left at $12.50, $13.50, $15.00, $18.00 and $30.00. These are bargains.

SHOT GUNS AND OTHER SPORTING GOODS.

The best of the shooting season is just ahead. Better prepare for it now by buying your supplies at your leisure than wait until an hour or so before train time. You will find a more complete stock to choose from and be better satisfied.

- Gun Cases. It pays to keep a good gun in a good case. Saves barrels from dents and stocks from scratches. A fine orange leather case, made in heavy material, nicely stitched and finished, $3.50. Fine quality leg-of-mutton case, flannel lined; inside tool compartment. A very handsome case, $5.00. Others at