

SPURNED WIFE USED A PISTOL.

Phillip Kennedy Shot and Killed by Woman From Whom He Was Seeking Divorce.

KICKED THE LIFELESS BODY.

Lulu Kennedy Went to Her Husband's Office, Called Him Out and Put Five Bullets Into His Body.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 10.—This afternoon at 5:30 o'clock Lulu Kennedy called her husband, Phillip H. Kennedy, agent for the Merchants' Dispatch Transportation Company, to his office in the New Ridge building and deliberately put five bullets into his body. Death resulted from the man being heard to utter a word other than a shriek of pain. Before being apprehended, the exasperated woman severely kicked the fallen and at that time dead man full in the face, saying in a burst of passion: "You will never ruin, never wrong another girl."

The pair were married less than a month ago, but on the day of the wedding the husband left the wife, not since had he spoken to her. He did speak of her, however, and in unkindly tones. Last Thursday the bride learned he had instituted divorce proceedings, alleging in his petition that he had been forced to marry the woman who to-day took his life. The allegation was colored by current reports that Kennedy said he had been obliged to marry at the point of a pistol in the hands of her father.

This broke the girl's heart and the passion her wrongs, real or fancied, sprang up in her, and finally took form in the passion for revenge. Mrs. Kennedy telephoned to her husband this afternoon that she wanted to see him and evidently it was planned that she was to call at his office to see him. At 4:30 o'clock she entered the building and after leaving the elevator she walked to the door which she then opened. She saw her husband sitting at his desk and she followed him to a secluded spot in the hallway a few steps away.

Once there she turned like lightning and then for the first time she saw her husband and the gleam of her revolver. Whether she spoke to him or not is not known. Suddenly throughout the building there rang the sharp reports of two shots, fired almost as one, and as men in their offices stood wondering, there rang out four more from the dead man's brother, T. F. Kennedy, who happened to be in the office at the time, was the first to reach the spot where the man lay. He was placed on the ground and a second later she sprang loose from his grasp and over the dead body of her husband.

Before a hand could reach her, she was struck by several whiffing fogs, which she thought were the whiffing fogs of a check. "You will never wrong another girl," broke from her lips passionately. Then she made no answer, but she strongly and she was led to one side.

A crowd was gathering and a police officer arrived. Suddenly she cried: "Take me away. I can't bear it any longer."

At no time had she made any effort to escape, and passively gave herself up to those who held her. Her husband was placed in a room and a doctor was called to attend to him. Police Officer Crans told her she was under arrest and led her away to the police station, where she was placed in a cell on the charge of having killed her husband.

Philip H. Kennedy, the dead man, agent for the Merchants' Dispatch Transportation Company, with offices in the New Ridge building, was married to Miss Lulu K. Prince, who resides with her parents at 2411 First avenue, on the afternoon of December 4 by Judge Gieseler. Her father and her brother will be with her at the wedding. The story of the tragedy of to-day was the culmination of love and jealousy on her part, and the belief that her husband had scorned her love and her affection.

It is known that she had gone to see him several times during the past month, presumably for the purpose of trying to win him over to her. Then, when she learned that he was to ask the courts to separate them on the alleged grounds that he had been forced to marry her, the disgrace of it and the bitterness of the last reproach brought on, apparently, a desire for revenge.

But this is not all the story, for the real cause of the trouble seems to lie in the fact that there was another woman whom Kennedy cared for more tenderly than he did for her, and to whom he was engaged to be married at the time he married Miss Prince. He seemed to be engaged to her over a year ago, and for a long time was a constant and faithful lover.

Then, less than a month ago, she learned that there was another woman whom Kennedy loved and she learned that her husband had been engaged to be married to another woman.

Used 20 Years. We do not know of any other hair preparation that has been used in one family for twenty years; do you? But Mrs. Helen McKenny, of New Portland, Me., says her mother used Ayer's Hair Vigor that long and always liked it as a hair dressing. You can rely upon it for stopping your hair from falling out, for keeping your scalp clean and healthy, and for restoring color to gray hair. One dollar a bottle. If your druggist cannot supply you, send us five cents and we will express a bottle to you. Address: J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Send for our handsome book on The Hair.

CADETS RECEIVE SCATHING REBUKES.

Members of Congressional Committee Investigating Hazing Treat Matter Seriously.

DO NOT LAUGH AT TESTIMONY.

On Contrary, Tell Witnesses, Who Confess to Brutal Practices, They Must Change Their Ideas if They Be Soldiers.

West Point, N. Y., Jan. 10.—The five members of the Congressional investigating committee held three sessions to-day at the West Point Academy. Three witnesses were examined. They were Cadets Bettison, Innis and Keller. The first-named, who comes from Kentucky, was on the stand nearly six hours, giving up nearly all the time of the morning and afternoon sessions. His story was examined at great length by every member of the committee on all points entailed in the inquiry, and his evidence was evidently intended by the committee to be used as a basis for their future plans in conducting the investigation. Everything of any importance touching the Breth, Booz, or any other cases, involved in the inquiry, was taken up, and Bettison answered every question without hesitation.

Finch Fights With Bare Knuckles. Cadet William H. Bettison of Kentucky was the first witness. He testified that he was a cadet at West Point and that Cadet Booz was his classmate and that Cadet Booz was a fourth-class man, while he (the witness) was a third-class man. He never knew of Booz before he came to West Point, and he said he was present at his first year and was present at two of them.

Witness said that there were nine fights during the year 1898-1899 and seven during the present year. Bettison recalled the names of the participants in nearly all of these fights. He said none of these fights had been investigated by the authorities and consequently no one punished. He had never been principal in a fight, but had officiated at several as referee. He was a member of the "Spartan" committee, which decided when a fight was to be arranged.

Bettison described the fights as bare-knuckle contests under Marquis de Queensberry rules, except that the rounds were two minutes each. He said the principals stripped to the waist and fights were usually to a finish.

"Then you here told fights of a brutal nature which the laws of forty-one out of forty-five States in the Union have prohibited," said Mr. Driggs. "I believe it is a violation of the laws of the United States," Bettison made no reply.

Mr. Driggs then inquired if hazing or assisting at fights of cadets was violating the laws of the United States. Bettison replied that he did not know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells.

Mr. Driggs then inquired if hazing or assisting at fights of cadets was violating the laws of the United States. Bettison replied that he did not know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells.

Mr. Driggs then inquired if hazing or assisting at fights of cadets was violating the laws of the United States. Bettison replied that he did not know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells.

Mr. Driggs then inquired if hazing or assisting at fights of cadets was violating the laws of the United States. Bettison replied that he did not know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells.

Mr. Driggs then inquired if hazing or assisting at fights of cadets was violating the laws of the United States. Bettison replied that he did not know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells.

Mr. Driggs then inquired if hazing or assisting at fights of cadets was violating the laws of the United States. Bettison replied that he did not know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells.

Mr. Driggs then inquired if hazing or assisting at fights of cadets was violating the laws of the United States. Bettison replied that he did not know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells.

Mr. Driggs then inquired if hazing or assisting at fights of cadets was violating the laws of the United States. Bettison replied that he did not know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells.

Mr. Driggs then inquired if hazing or assisting at fights of cadets was violating the laws of the United States. Bettison replied that he did not know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells.

Mr. Driggs then inquired if hazing or assisting at fights of cadets was violating the laws of the United States. Bettison replied that he did not know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells.

Mr. Driggs then inquired if hazing or assisting at fights of cadets was violating the laws of the United States. Bettison replied that he did not know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells.

Mr. Driggs then inquired if hazing or assisting at fights of cadets was violating the laws of the United States. Bettison replied that he did not know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells.

Mr. Driggs then inquired if hazing or assisting at fights of cadets was violating the laws of the United States. Bettison replied that he did not know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells.

SELECTION OF ROLLA WELLS AS GENERAL MANAGER OF THE REPUBLIC.

Choice of Democrats for Mayor Is Commended by Representatives of Many Classes.

HE IS OUT OF THE CITY.

The announcement that Rolla Wells had been agreed upon by Democrats as the most available man for the nomination for Mayor this spring was a topic of general discussion in the city yesterday.

Expressions of confidence in Mr. Wells' decision, should the plan to nominate him carry, were heard in many quarters. Mr. Wells is out of the city and it is not known positively whether he will accept the nomination. His friends, however, think that he will accept the nomination, and with anything like unanimity. Mr. Wells is expected to return to-morrow.

Prominent Democrats yesterday, in discussing the matter, were unanimous in their praise of Mr. Wells, generally expressed entire satisfaction and gave it as their opinion that if the nomination is made the Democratic ticket will sweep the city next spring. Even the supporters of Zach Tinker, the only avowed candidate for the nomination, conceded that in Mr. Wells the party would have an excellent leader and the city a thoroughly capable and representative Mayor. Charles F. Kelly, one of the Tinker leaders, said: "We are glad to know that we will have an opponent as a man of the class of Mr. Wells. He is a good, clear-headed, energetic young business man, and in him Mr. Tinker will find a man worthy of his steel. The suggestion of Mr. Wells guarantees a straight, honest primary fight, and that is what we want, and if we are beaten we will give to Mr. Wells our earnest and hearty support. He will take care of his friends to support Mr. Tinker if he should be nominated."

Citizens who were asked to express themselves on the subject of Mr. Wells gave it as their opinion that the selection was a business administration, and get for the Fair Mayor, and he will have the hearty support of those who have been engaged as independents. His father, the late Edward Wells, was for many years in Congress, a most efficient representative of the business interests of the city. His nomination by the Democrats will give the city the business administration of a business administration.

Colonel William H. Swift: "We need a business man for our candidate to give us a business administration, and get for the Fair Mayor, and he will have the hearty support of those who have been engaged as independents. His father, the late Edward Wells, was for many years in Congress, a most efficient representative of the business interests of the city. His nomination by the Democrats will give the city the business administration of a business administration."

John Sartorius, Elmhurst Ward: "The German people in my ward are for a business man, and they want to elect a man who will take care of their interests. Mr. Wells is the man for the job. He is a business man, and he will have the hearty support of those who have been engaged as independents. His father, the late Edward Wells, was for many years in Congress, a most efficient representative of the business interests of the city. His nomination by the Democrats will give the city the business administration of a business administration."

Charles H. Turner, president of the Suburban Railroad: "I am for Rolla Wells. I don't know any man in the business world who would be so favorably received by the laboring men as Mr. Wells. He is a business man, and he will have the hearty support of those who have been engaged as independents. His father, the late Edward Wells, was for many years in Congress, a most efficient representative of the business interests of the city. His nomination by the Democrats will give the city the business administration of a business administration."

Harry B. Hawes, president of the Jefferson Club: "The Jefferson Club has no candidates before the primaries. It does not intend to support any man for Mayor. It is a business man, and he will have the hearty support of those who have been engaged as independents. His father, the late Edward Wells, was for many years in Congress, a most efficient representative of the business interests of the city. His nomination by the Democrats will give the city the business administration of a business administration."

Mr. Wells is out of the city and it is not known positively whether he will accept the nomination. His friends, however, think that he will accept the nomination, and with anything like unanimity. Mr. Wells is expected to return to-morrow.

ROOT EXASPERATED OVER CADETS' FATE.

War Department Officials Say Recruiting Will Be Harder and Desertions More Numerous.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Secretary Root is exasperated over the desertion of the army cadets. To-day, in discussing it, he said: "It is a very unfortunate affair. It is likely that the soldiers will now get bad whisky instead of good whisky."

The whole War Department feels aggrieved over the practical abolition of the cadets. They say the action of the Senate committee, making it impossible to recruit soldiers, is a serious matter. They say the action of the Senate committee, making it impossible to recruit soldiers, is a serious matter. They say the action of the Senate committee, making it impossible to recruit soldiers, is a serious matter.

REUNITED AFTER MANY PERILS. Heroine of Pekin Siege and Hero of the Klondike Engaged.

Washington, Jan. 10.—The engagement of Miss Mary Condit-Smith to Lieutenant Richard S. Hooker of the Marine Corps, now at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, which was formally announced in society, yesterday, to-day, in Washington, and with the Klondike and his fortune. Billings good-by to the Klondike, and returned to the frozen North and remained about eighteen months, at the end of which time he came back to civilization again, irresistibly drawn by the thought of the lovely girl, who had been his sweetheart. He had kept up a correspondence during his period of life in the land of snow and hardships.

PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION. Purpose Is to Advance the Interests of Book Business.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Articles of incorporation of the American Publishers' Association, with principal offices in New York City, were filed with the Secretary of State to-day. It is proposed to advance the interests of the book-publishing industry. The directors are Charles Scribner, G. B. M. Harvey, Daniel Appleton and Frank H. Dodd of New York City; George H. Mifflin of Boston; George F. Swift of Chicago; C. A. Lippincott of Philadelphia, and Frank H. Scott of Orange, N. C.

Death Comes to an Old Pioneer. Republic Special. Wichita, Kan., Jan. 10.—Charles Anthony, Sr., one of the real pioneers of this section, died early this morning. Death was caused practically by old age.

Oklahoma Pioneer Dead. Republic Special. Oklahoma City, Ok., Jan. 10.—William R. Colcord, aged 74 years, one of the early settlers of this city, died this morning.

HAWES TELLS OF LAST CAMPAIGN.

Testifies in Horton-Butler Contest About Work Done in the Recent Election.

CHIEF CAMPBELL ON STAND.

He Explains How Police Officers Were Distributed at Polls—Election Commissioner Kingsland Examined.

The taking of testimony in the Horton-Butler congressional contest was resumed yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in several places, as usual. Witnesses were examined before Notary O. E. Buder in room No. 92, Bank of Commerce building, and the examination of Harry H. Hawes, President of the Police Board, was suspended at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and resumed in the morning before Notary North in the Laclede building.

The examination of Mr. Hawes yesterday was without any of the exciting incidents that had marked the first day's session of the contest. The questions put were of a formal nature and not particularly provocative. The witness testified that the negotiations between the Independents as represented by James Campbell, F. N. Judson, James L. Blair and several others before the nomination of the last Democratic ticket, were gone over and the part played by the Independents fully explained.

The order of the day, and the instructions given to the officers. This line of inquiry completed, counsel for the contestant turned his attention to the police law, the Howard Jones by the Jefferson Club and other Democratic organizations in the city was detailed, and developed the fact that the Democratic organization at the last election was the last party ever had in the city. At the end of Mr. Hawes' testimony, Chief of Police Campbell was called.

The line of examination in Chief Campbell's case was about the same as was pursued in the examination of Captain Reynolds and Mr. Hawes. The Chief detailed the disposition he made of police officers on election day, and the instructions given to the officers. This line of inquiry completed, counsel for the contestant turned his attention to the police law, the Howard Jones by the Jefferson Club and other Democratic organizations in the city was detailed, and developed the fact that the Democratic organization at the last election was the last party ever had in the city.

James Campbell, broker, was the next witness. He testified that he was a candidate for Mayor's Fair Mayor, and that he was a business man, and he will have the hearty support of those who have been engaged as independents. His father, the late Edward Wells, was for many years in Congress, a most efficient representative of the business interests of the city. His nomination by the Democrats will give the city the business administration of a business administration.

James Campbell, broker, was the next witness. He testified that he was a candidate for Mayor's Fair Mayor, and that he was a business man, and he will have the hearty support of those who have been engaged as independents. His father, the late Edward Wells, was for many years in Congress, a most efficient representative of the business interests of the city. His nomination by the Democrats will give the city the business administration of a business administration.

James Campbell, broker, was the next witness. He testified that he was a candidate for Mayor's Fair Mayor, and that he was a business man, and he will have the hearty support of those who have been engaged as independents. His father, the late Edward Wells, was for many years in Congress, a most efficient representative of the business interests of the city. His nomination by the Democrats will give the city the business administration of a business administration.

CITY HALL GANG ON THE RUN.

Filly Declares He Has No Traces to Make—Judge Murphy's Address.

The city administration received a severe scoring last night at the hands of Chauncey I. Filly and Judge David Murphy, the speakers at the Good Government League Republican Club meeting, held at the headquarters of the party, in the Globe-Democrat building, last night.

Judge Murphy prefaced his address by a remark which drew the attention of the League Club. He had made the remark that the people seemed to have lost confidence in the administration which they pronounced to be a failure. He said: "I have taken a long time to find this out, but as we found it out three weeks ago, it is not a surprise. The present party will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform."

They have taken a long time to find this out, but as we found it out three weeks ago, it is not a surprise. The present party will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform.

They have taken a long time to find this out, but as we found it out three weeks ago, it is not a surprise. The present party will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform.

They have taken a long time to find this out, but as we found it out three weeks ago, it is not a surprise. The present party will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform.

They have taken a long time to find this out, but as we found it out three weeks ago, it is not a surprise. The present party will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform.

They have taken a long time to find this out, but as we found it out three weeks ago, it is not a surprise. The present party will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform.

They have taken a long time to find this out, but as we found it out three weeks ago, it is not a surprise. The present party will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform.

They have taken a long time to find this out, but as we found it out three weeks ago, it is not a surprise. The present party will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform.

They have taken a long time to find this out, but as we found it out three weeks ago, it is not a surprise. The present party will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform.

They have taken a long time to find this out, but as we found it out three weeks ago, it is not a surprise. The present party will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform, a fitting memorial of the present administration which will be a party of reform.

THE FIRST SLEEPING CAR THE FIRST DINING CAR AND THE FIRST RECLINING CHAIR.

THE FIRST SLEEPING CAR THE FIRST DINING CAR AND THE FIRST RECLINING CHAIR. EACH IN THEIR TURN, RUN BY THE ST. LOUIS RAILROAD WHICH WAS ALSO FIRST TO RUN A LIMITED DAY TRAIN AND MIDNIGHT SPECIAL BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND CHICAGO. IT IS STILL LEADING IN PERFECT PASSENGER SERVICE TO CHICAGO AND KANSAS CITY.

THE GLOBE-DEMOCRAT. NEW TICKET OFFICE, CARLETON BUILDING, SIXTH AND OLIVE.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

THE DIFFERENT MEMBERS OF THE BOARD TOOK THE witness stand before Mr. Tausig and each was commanded to deliver over the ballot books. Each replied that he had not in his possession or under his jurisdiction, and was asked to produce the ballot book of Precinct No. 1, of the Fourteenth Ward. This he did, then, being ordered to open the box, he refused to do so. Mr. Tausig did not seem disposed to break the seal, and the box was turned to Mr. Howard Jones, who explained it to the court. Witnesses were present when the box was removed from the vault and put in its place.

WE BEG TO ANNOUNCE. Our Fancy Suiting Sale. It is inaugurated because we need less fancy suitings than we've got. We anticipated a big demand for fancy weaves. Anticipations were a little off. Fashion wind veered toward Oxford. Beamed port of our fancy suitings. Starting Tuesday, January 8, we will fit any one to any $28.00, $30.00 or $35.00 fancy weave, until Saturday, February 23, for... $25.00. During same time you may choose any $40.00 or $45.00 fancy suiting by paying $30.00. And this means fancy weaves—nothing else. Reductions for a similar period on trousers, overcoats and vests of a similar style of fabric. MacARTHUR-EVANS TAILORING CO., 820 Olive St. Opp. Post Office.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought.

WE BEG TO ANNOUNCE. Our Fancy Suiting Sale. It is inaugurated because we need less fancy suitings than we've got. We anticipated a big demand for fancy weaves. Anticipations were a little off. Fashion wind veered toward Oxford. Beamed port of our fancy suitings. Starting Tuesday, January 8, we will fit any one to any $28.00, $30.00 or $35.00 fancy weave, until Saturday, February 23, for... $25.00. During same time you may choose any $40.00 or $45.00 fancy suiting by paying $30.00. And this means fancy weaves—nothing else. Reductions for a similar period on trousers, overcoats and vests of a similar style of fabric. MacARTHUR-EVANS TAILORING CO., 820 Olive St. Opp. Post Office.

COUNT BONI AND WIFE AVE $4,000,000. Attorneys for London Bro's & Bro's Dealer Want Her Allowance Cut to $100,000. SEEK TO ENJOIN THE GOULDS. Latter Claim New York Court Has No Jurisdiction and That Countess de Castellane Could Not Legally Encumber Income.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The suit brought by Anton J. Dittmar, a New York lawyer, as assignee of Asher Wertheimer, a London bro's & bro's dealer, to enjoin the trustee of the late Jay Gould from paying over to the Countess de Castellane any portion of the income of her share of the estate, was called in the Supreme Court to-day, on an application to continue, pending the trial of the action, a temporary injunction issued by Justice Fitzgerald in favor of the Countess de Castellane.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The suit brought by Anton J. Dittmar, a New York lawyer, as assignee of Asher Wertheimer, a London bro's & bro's dealer, to enjoin the trustee of the late Jay Gould from paying over to the Countess de Castellane any portion of the income of her share of the estate, was called in the Supreme Court to-day, on an application to continue, pending the trial of the action, a temporary injunction issued by Justice Fitzgerald in favor of the Countess de Castellane.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The suit brought by Anton J. Dittmar, a New York lawyer, as assignee of Asher Wertheimer, a London bro's & bro's dealer, to enjoin the trustee of the late Jay Gould from paying over to the Countess de Castellane any portion of the income of her share of the estate, was called in the Supreme Court to-day, on an application to continue, pending the trial of the action, a temporary injunction issued by Justice Fitzgerald in favor of the Countess de Castellane.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The suit brought by Anton J. Dittmar, a New York lawyer, as assignee of Asher Wertheimer, a London bro's & bro's dealer, to enjoin the trustee of the late Jay Gould from paying over to the Countess de Castellane any portion of the income of her share of the estate, was called in the Supreme Court to-day, on an application to continue, pending the trial of the action, a temporary injunction issued by Justice Fitzgerald in favor of the Countess de Castellane.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The suit brought by Anton J. Dittmar, a New York lawyer, as assignee of Asher Wertheimer, a London bro's & bro's dealer, to enjoin the trustee of the late Jay Gould from paying over to the Countess de Castellane any portion of the income of her share of the estate, was called in the Supreme Court to-day, on an application to continue, pending the trial of the action, a temporary injunction