

VICTORIA'S REMAINS LEAVE COWES TO-DAY

Ten Miles of Warships Will Act as Escort to the Funeral Yacht En Route to Portsmouth.

PROCESSION FROM OSBORNE.

Details of the Arrangements for Taking the Royal Coffin to the British Metropolis.

Cowes, Jan. 31.—A glittering crescent of light stretches this evening from Cowes to Portsmouth. It consists of ten miles of warships, the pick of the British French and German navies.

Apart from these peaceful rows and rows of twinkling port lights, separated from each other by only a few cable lengths, one might fancy that the quiet towns of Cowes and Ryde might be undergoing a blockade.

Alberta Awaits Royal Coffin. It probably will be nearly 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon when the Alberta, with the royal coffin leaves Cowes. She will steam into the single line and then enter the passage formed by the leviathans.

The emons for fine weather to-morrow are not propitious. The mile and a half of road outside the town of East Cowes and separating Osborne from Trinity Pier, is a typical country throughout.

Some departments will be removed from the present store into the new quarters, which will give the necessary room to enlarge the different departments so that this firm will carry a stock of merchandise larger and finer even than they have been carrying.

Mr. Crawford, who has charge of the proposed alterations, said: "We are desirous of making our stock and new in every way so convenient and of such a high grade that it will be a credit to St. Louis and her people, and of such a character as the St. Louis women have a right to expect."

"Our buyers who are now in Europe will return to St. Louis early in March, and our stock will be increased at that time, so that we will be ready for our regular spring openings."

"The additional room will also enable us to make better arrangement for the accommodation and comfort of our customers."
