It has been said that the Cardinals are more to giving credit to the best of support. Certainly their game behind "Wee Willie" yesterday should dispense the statement. The score was 5 to 5 for St. Louis.

It was Hahn against Sudhoff yesterday. The latter came out victorious by the good work of the team behind him, both in fielding and batting. The game was an important one for Hahn and Sudhoff, aside from regular features. One strong to wipe out the memory of the previous defeat at Cincinnati Friday while the other worked hard to duplicate his former feat. He succeeded up to the fourth inning, when the Reds, by a couple of timely hits, succeeded in sending a man over the plate. The pitchers struck out two men each, and each gave three bases on balls.

Sudhoff displayed a great deal of control in the fourth inning, but after that he settled down and performed creditably. Hahn did not come to the front with any especially brilliant doings, and was not on the list of aces in the left-handed stickers as was predicted. He was unsteady at critical times, and was, in the main, responsible for the four runs which were added to their string in the fourth inning.

Although Hahn seemed to play in hard luck, he was fairly well supported, and had it not been for the wholesale scoring of the Reds, which was not on the score, the game would have been close indeed. In the ninth inning the Reds, although five runs to the lead, garnered up and chased two runs across the park.

Home Peltz Does Good Work. Home Peltz of Goose Hill returned was the man behind the mask for the Reds, and his work was of a sterling character. He stopped one of Hahn's attempts to pitch his way out of a jam, and his work would have shown even better than it does in the score. A fast runner would have registered a home run on Peltz's hit backstop but three bases. In the fifth Peltz cracked out a safety, which, with the further aid of Hahn's put-out, ended, and in the final inning he secured an out, and in the final round smashed the ball out to the left-field bleachers for three bases.

Stories of the desertion of National League players to the American are rife, but almost as fast as rumors are circulated they are refuted. In Chicago, for example, Hart is already signing his men for next season, as several of them are reported to have offers from the American League as far as is known, the American League agents have not attempted to capture any of them. In St. Louis, a rumor has been spread that the Cardinals have signed to play next year in St. Louis. It is said that the Cardinals have signed to play next year in St. Louis. It is said that the Cardinals have signed to play next year in St. Louis.

Left Fielder McCarthy of the Cleveland club was so badly injured by Peltz's ball that he will be unable to play a single game, and fear is expressed that he will be unable to play a single game, and fear is expressed that he will be unable to play a single game.

Fireworks Begin in Fourth. "Hot Mon" Wallace started the pyrotechnic display, and Kruger was lucky enough to go safe on a scratch in front of the plate. The bases were filled when Nichols trotted down to first, after stopping one of Hahn's shots with his shoulder. Mr. William Schriver did the proper thing in the shape of a clean hit between Steinfield and Magoon, and Wallace and Kruger were out. Hahn seemed nervous, and when Sudhoff knocked a dead one half way out to the pitcher's box "Noodles" had a sudden attack of drowsiness and Sudhoff reached first safely. Thus the bases were again filled and Burdett batted in two more scores on his single to right. Sudhoff got as far as third, and there expired on cuts by Padden and McGann. Singles by Fox and Peitz and a fielder's choice netted the Reds their first run in the fifth inning.

In the sixth inning, rapped out another single and got around to the third corner on a hit by Padden. Hahn kindly threw wild while Kruger was at bat and Burdett connected with the home plate before Peitz could recover. The bases were again filled, and again did Hahn present to Kruger a free title to first, but with two men out Donovan succumbed on a grounder, retiring the side. The Cardinals had a runner on first, as they had a good one, although the Reds had secured two runs in the first half of the inning.

There was nothing doing on either side in the seventh, but the following inning the locals annexed two more runs. Herd-hitt made a good stop of Burdett's hard-hit grounder, but when he went to pick up the ball from around his fingers he slipped only this air and Burdett made the first corner in easy time. Padden was forced at second on McGann's hit, which locked at first like the Red Sox. From the grand stand the ball was lined out by McGann, McGann and Magoon, by a jump, succeeded in knocking it down. Magoon recovered the ball barely in time for Peitz to catch McGann. McGann was therefore credited with a hit. The drive was a fierce one and had not Magoon succeeded so well in checking the ball it probably would have been good for a double.

Two More Runs in the Eighth. The Reds went up against hard luck again when Donovan, following McGann, tore off a three-bagger, scoring Burdett and McGann. The ball fell just outside the foul line. Crawford made a game sprint and barely got his hands on the ball, when it landed on his grip. From the grand stand the ball was lined out by McGann, McGann and Magoon, by a jump, succeeded in knocking it down. Magoon recovered the ball barely in time for Peitz to catch McGann. McGann was therefore credited with a hit. The drive was a fierce one and had not Magoon succeeded so well in checking the ball it probably would have been good for a double.

Mrs. Annie T. Hartnett, wife of Joseph P. Hartnett, secretary of the J. M. Quinlan Manufacturing Company, died at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning at the family residence, No. 469 West Belle place.

Mrs. Hartnett was born November 1, 1833, in St. Louis. Young Girl Saves Lives. Heroic Della Laverre Stops Runaway Horse With Umbrella.

Della Laverre, 17 years old, living in the neighborhood of O'Fallon and Eighth streets, stopped a runaway horse yesterday afternoon, possibly saving the lives of a young woman and her child from East St. Louis. The rescued woman refused to give her name. When offered a pecuniary reward the girl refused it, because, she said, "I weighed him yesterday," said Mr. Murnighan, "and he weighs just 108 pounds. He was not good after his hard mile last week at Poughkeepsie, but we will have to win here, I guess."

Ketcham Confident. Mr. Ketcham believes Creceus will win over The Abbot. When told that The Abbot was wonderfully good just now, he responded: "Well, so am I." Both horses look their best, and Creceus' legs stand better examination than the ex-champion's. He stands as firm as a rock on them, while The Abbot trembles at the knees a little. Had a Souvenir Glass. Summer Garden Patron Arrested—Caterers Complain.

W. H. C. Caterers having refreshment privileges in the various summer gardens in St. Louis have complained greatly this season of missing fancy glassware in which drinks are served. The matter was looked into, and it was discovered that the issues were due to souvenier hunters who had been treating the public to a "souvenir" glass. At Forest Park Highlands Sunday evening William B. Meyers was discovered leaving the grounds with a souvenir glass. He was arrested and locked up in the Mercantile District Police Station. Meyers explained that he was only taking the glass as a joke, and that he had not intended to steal any one's property. A warrant charging petty larceny was issued against him yesterday.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. It is called Sudden Death. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisened blood will attack the vital organs or kidneys themselves break down and waste away by cell.

Gladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the
