Imperative Unloading Sale

of Black and Colored Dress Goods Delayed by E. St. Louis Transfer Strike.

The great freight blockade in E. St. Louis has left us in a sorry plight. Here have carloads of auction and regular dress goods in black and colors lain in East St. Louis for weeks, and we unable to get them because of the strike. The anxiety of seeing this immense stock become a burden by reason of the rapidly advancing season has made us desperate. We have at last got possession of the goods, and to-morrow morning we will offer them at the "forced sale" sort of prices. Nugent's never was and never will be a storage warehouse. The overstock caused by the delay must go out quick. Look out for these splendid bargains in dress goods.

Underprice Sale of Well-Made Clothing for Young Men and Boys, also for Men Under 38 Chest.

The sale of fashionable, well-made clothing for less than the price charged by most merchants is a triumph of modern methods—selling for cash and buying for cash makes a combination of underbuying and underselling possible. In the items below the term "worth" means that that is the average selling price in most stores. Our prices save you one-fourth to one-third of the regular selling price of equal goods.
