EARLY SWEETHEART'S WOOING PREVAILS WITH ARMY NURSE.

Miss Clara Marie Zeller of St. Louis, Who Nursed Uncle Sam's Soldiers in Cuba, the Philippines and China, Breaks Engagement to Professor Blessing of Manila and Will Wed Banker J. Willis Moore in Chapel Where They First Met Ten Years Ago.

HAVE NOT SEEN EACH OTHER SINCE THEY PARTED IN 1894.

MISS CLARA MARIE ZELLER, Army nurse, who broke engagement with Philippine professor to marry sweetheart of school days.

PROFESSOR W. K. BLESSING, at present in the Philippines, to whom Miss Zeller was engaged.

After eight years' separation from the sweetheart of her youth, after traveling the world over, and after a three-year engagement to a professor in the Philippine Islands, Miss Clara Marie Zeller, an army nurse, living at No. 259 Washington boulevard, will marry J. Willis Moore, a banker of Newark, O., who courted her in girlhood.

The ceremony will be performed June 29 in the chapel of the Grady O. Female College, where as a boy and girl, almost ten years ago, they first met. On June 25, Miss Zeller will join Mr. Moore at Newark, O., where he now lives. Then they may note what changes the passage of eight years has wrought in their faces, for in their inter-continental correspondence has been their only medium of communication.

When both were only 17 and lived at Grady, they were affianced, but opposition prevented their marriage. Miss Zeller's father led her to distant cities and to foreign lands, exposing her to the hardships of the sea and the perils of the tropics. It was only when she returned to St. Louis that she met Mr. Moore, who was then a student at the normal school at Manila. He prevailed, and he expected that their marriage would take place some time this year.

In December of last year, Miss Zeller was discharged honorably from the United States service and returned to this country, making her home in this city. Mr. Moore reopened correspondence and by letter rekindled the first love. There was nothing to prevent their marriage, but the opposition of her long separation, letters passed between them, and she was finally prevailed upon to return to the United States, where she met her former sweetheart. The object of the European trip was to visit her mother in Germany, and to spend a few weeks amid the beauties of Switzerland.

Mr. Moore, the banker, possessed her affection. "No," she said in answer to a question, "I never nursed either Mr. Blessing or Mr. Moore. I don't think it would pay to marry your patients. I love them so long as they are sick, but only as patients."

Professor Blessing had as yet no opportunity to express himself to Miss Zeller in regard to her matrimonial letter to him is about due at Manila at this time, and his answer cannot reach the United States until after the date of the ceremony. It will be a long interval before a letter from the professor reaches her.

Miss Zeller is 27 years old. When 17 years old her parents moved from Germany to Manila, Ill. Then she was a child both in her father and mother's life, bearing the charge of an aunt and a guardian, Doctor H. Brown of Decatur. When 17 years old she was sent to the normal school at Manila, where she was graduated. When her marriage to Moore was proposed she decided to enter a religious order. She came to this city for the purpose, but she was too young, and was general superintendent of the normal school in connection with St. Luke's Hospital. She completed the course, received a diploma and returned to Manila, where she was in charge of the normal school. It was only when she returned to St. Louis that she met Mr. Moore, who was then a student at the normal school at Manila. He prevailed, and he expected that their marriage would take place some time this year.

ELIZABETH MOHR, whose recovery from fractured skull, arms and legs is considered remarkable by doctors.

CUBAN BILL DONE TO DEATH BY ITS SECRET ENEMIES.

Second and Possibly the Last Conference of Republican Senators Results in Nothing But Talk. WASHINGTON, June 20.—Complete confirmation of the suspicions which are now held by the administration itself, that Cuban reciprocity was done to death more by secret influences and lukewarmness than by any open hostility, was found in the induction of the second and possibly last conference of Republican Senators held this evening.

counterbalancing duty being imposed upon the United States. Thus the United States is placed in the position not only of preventing Cuba from making reciprocity treaties with other countries and refusing tariff concessions, but also of making it impossible for the Cuban Government to sell its own people out of its own pocket, so that the Cuban people are left with no other recourse than to wait for the United States to take action. The imposition of this counterbalancing duty is mandatory, and it must be equal to the Cuban duty. There was no outcome of today's conference but talk. Eight so-called administrative members of the Senate, who are not members of the open-revolt contingent said that nothing should or could be done. The only member of the open-revolt contingent, Senator Aldrich, who will again be in the city tomorrow, moved adjournment at the call of the chairman and adjourned.

Senator Platt of Connecticut, who is now locked upon by Congress and the administration, about the only switch-reciprocity warrior, said after the conference that the fishing was too good up in England. Senator Aldrich, who will again be in the city tomorrow, moved adjournment at the call of the chairman and adjourned.

The young couple were to have been married last Friday night, and guests gathered at the home of the bride-to-be to attend the wedding, but neither of the principals appeared on the scene. Mrs. Bruemleve declared that the wedding should not take place, and Mrs. Leahy was equally positive in her determination that it should. What the result was only the young people know.
