JUDGE SIDENER REBUKES GIRL WHO CHEWED GUM IN COURT.

"To chew gum in court is as bad as to smoke in church," said Judge Sidener to a young woman in the First District Police Court yesterday morning. "You must stop it." Miss Mary Anderson, a tall blond, had accompanied a friend to court as a witness. She declined to give her address. While the cases were being tried the young woman chewed gum incessantly. Her jaws worked with uneven motion. Once she chewed rapidly, then slowly and seemed to enjoy the mastication. "I don't like to see young women chew gum," said the Judge to Miss Anderson. "It not only spoils their facial beauty, but it is unsightly. Please remove the gum from your mouth until you leave the court."

searched for worms and insects in the pile and scratched it all over the alley back of the Laughlin home. Following the search came along and saw the rubbish. He had orders from the Chief to arrest all persons who permitted their homes to be used as a dump. The man in custody. Judge Sidener fined Laughlin $10. COSTLY GLASS OF BEER. Mary Gardner, bent with age, was charged with being drunk. "I only drank one glass of beer, your Honor," she said to Judge Sidener. "Call the next case."

BRAZIL AND BOLIVIA CONTINUE TO QUARREL

Controversy Over Province of Acre, the Rich Rubber Region, May Yet Lead to War.

AMERICAN INTERESTS INVOLVED

Feeling Between the Two Countries Has Reached That Stage Where Retaliatory Measures Have Been Resorted To.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Representatives of South American countries in Washington are looking anxiously for further developments in the Bolivia-Brazil dispute over the Province of Acre, the rich rubber region, which is operated by a syndicate of American and German capitalists, including Emilen Roosevelt, a cousin of the President. Recent advice from both countries indicate that the condition of affairs is becoming strained, and only a few days ago a member of the Brazilian Congress was reported to have declared that the declaration of President Fando of Bolivia that Brazil's objections were not sufficient to induce an alteration of Bolivia's attitude was equivalent almost to a declaration of war. Certain representatives of South American interests have expressed fears that Argentina might be drawn into the quarrel. This is not considered likely, however, unless more questions are involved than the Acre dispute.

MARRIAGE OF SON FOURTH IN FAMILY

Double Wedding of Mother and Sister Closely Followed by Another Ceremony.

LILLIE JOHNSON THIRD BRIDE.

Fred Janssen, While Rejoicing Over Nuptials Celebrated on Tuesday, Secures License and Becomes Benedict.

Fred D. Janssen of No. 2138 Watson road, was to be outdone by his mother and sister, who were principals in a double wedding Tuesday. Fred was married to Miss Lillie M. Johnson of No. 533 Old Manchester road yesterday. Fred and his brother John and the young lady who is now Mrs. Fred Janssen participated in the festivities Tuesday night at the home of Mr. Trueman, No. 2515 January avenue, which succeeded in the double wedding of the young men's mother and sister. During the celebration the couple, who were known to be contemplating marriage, were subjected to a good deal of good-natured badinage and raillery by the guests for allowing Fred's mother and sister to steal a march on them by preceding them to the hymeneal altar. They took the joke in good nature and participated in the laugh at their expense, but preserved a discreet silence as to the date of their own wedding. While the jollification was at its height Fred and his sweetheart had a conference, the result of which was a decision to turn the laugh by getting married yesterday without disclosing their intention to the world.

Priceless Cereal meets all requirements of proper diet. Sweet, crisp flakes of wheat and malt-eaten cold. Less Meat; Better Health. "All physicians are agreed that, on the whole, we in this country eat too much meat, and to this fact is due much of the rheumatism and gout from which we people suffer, as well as some more serious and fatal constitutional diseases. The average health and longevity of our people would be improved and increased by the substitution of a vegetable and cereal diet for a portion of the meat which they are in the daily habit of consuming."—Dr. BENJAMIN LEE, Socy Pennsylvania State Board of Health.

J. J. HILL FAVORS DEEPENING RIVER

Says It Would Be a Better Investment Than the Isthmian Ship Canal.

URGES FURTHER IRRIGATION.

Money Spent on Mississippi Above St. Louis, He Thinks, Would Be More Profitably Employed in Redeeming Arid Land.

St. Paul, Aug. 20.—President J. J. Hill of the Northern Securities Company was introduced to the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress this afternoon.

He spoke on "Our Trade With the Orient," a topic on which he has come to be regarded as one of the authorities. He sketched briefly the trade of the Orient and the various movements directed toward securing it in the past.

From the opening of Japan to foreign trade that country's trade has increased tenfold, he said. He discussed the prospective trade with the Chinese people, who he regarded as more enterprising and better business men than the Japanese.

"Our trade there is capable of infinite development. All the European countries go across to reach that trade, which they greatly desire, while we need cross it but once."

Speaking of the proposed isthmian ship canal, Mr. Hill declared he would not support it in the way of its construction at an expense of some $50,000,000, out of his opinion, $35,000,000 spent in deepening the channel of the Mississippi between New Orleans and St. Louis would give far better results in the end.

As to money spent in the improvement of the upper waters of that same river, he thought it would be much better invested in irrigating the arid regions of the great West.

The railroads, he said, are not in the habit of taking into consideration river rates north of St. Louis in fixing their railroad rates. He urged that the river business in that section is comparatively small and of little value.

That for irrigation, it would be the best plan for the Government to irrigate and develop 1,000 acres of land at a probable expense of $5 or $10 an acre, then sell it at from $15 to $20 an acre, thereby creating a fund from which to carry on further irrigation schemes without any expense beyond that first involved.

Mr. Hill introduced some extremely strong anti-trust resolutions, which were under the rule, referred to the Committee on Resolutions. The original intention was navigation of the Mississippi river from Missouri to the Gulf of Mexico by Chicago, engineer of the great drainage canal.

State organizations for next year were reported in part as follows: Texas—Chairman, Norman G. Kittrell; Dallas, executive committee, F. F. Conroy; San Antonio, movement organization, W. H. Gaines, Galveston, resolutions, Walter Gresham, Galveston, Jeff D. Dryden.

Kansas—Permanent organization, J. H. Churchill; resolutions, J. H. Churchill; G. J. Jacobs, executive committee, W. R. Moses; vice president, J. H. Churchill.
