RUPTURE OF CHILDREN

The ruptures of childhood are of still greater urgency than in the adult, as hernia in the active and reckless little ones, who make the sunshine searts and homes, is very fatal, and, unhappily, very common. In the Hospital for Ruptured and Crippled, New York, one-fourth of the entire number of hernias received and treated were those of children under 14. The younger the patient when treatment is begun, the shorter the time necessary to effect a cure. To neglect these cases is criminal, as even when the children survive they are incapacitated for life from entering the army or navy, from any active and many responsible positions, while girls are rendered unfit to become

My treatment is singularly successful with children, whom I take from earliest infancy. Very few treatments are all that is necessary to restore to them the heritage of a sound and perfect constitution.

In conclusion, it cannot be too urgently pointed out that hernia, whether exhibited in man, woman or child, is a disease that it never pays to neglect. It is not so easy in these days to secure a competence and provide for family, old age and death even under the most favorable circumstances. How great is the difficulty increased when handicapped by the constant gnawing of this terrible disease. There is no age, sex or station in life that can afford to ignore these facts. As a mere business speculation it is better to call on me at ace and avail yourself of the cure I offer, at a moderate expense. What, indeed, is the latter but a mere trifle when compared to the risks, humiliations and wretchedness ever attendant upon him who pays host to a rupture? Nor can you afford to delay, as you cannot tell what evil a day may bring forth. Now is the time, before the hot weather starts in; besides, to-morrow, next week or next month may be too late, as strangulation may end your life at he True Story of the Invention of Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drums Told by Geo. H. Wilson, the Inventor-

Told by Geo, H. Wilson, the InventorI was deaf from infancy. Eminent doctors, surgeons and ear specialists treated me at great expense and yet did me no good. I tried all the artificial appliances that claimed to restore hearing, but they failed to benefit me in the least. I even went to the best specialists in the world, but their efforts were unsvailing.

My case was profounced incurable! I grew desperate; my deafness tormented ma. Daily I was becoming more of a recluse, avoiding the companionehip of people because of the annoyance my deafness and sensitiveness caused me. Finally I began to experiment on myself, and after patient years of study, labor, and personal expense I porfected something that I found took the place of the natural eardrums, and I called it Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drum, which I now wear day and night with perfect comfort, and do not even have to remove them when washing. No one can tell I sem wearing them, as they do not show, and as they give no discomfort whatever I scarcely know it myself.

remove them when washing. No one can tell I am wearing them, as they give no discomfort whatever I scarcely know it myself.

With these drums I can now hear a whisper. I join in the general conversation and hear everything going on around me. I can hear a sermon or lecture from any part of a large church or hall. My general health is improved because of the great change my Ear Drums have made in my life. My spirits are bright and cheerful. I am a cured, changed man.

Since my fortunate discovery it is no longer necessary for any deaf person to carry a trunpet, a tube, or any other such old-fashicord makeshift. My Common Sense Ear Drum is built on the strictest scientific principles, contains no metal, wires, or strings of any kind, and is entirely new and up to date in all respects. It is so small that no one can see it when in position, yet it collects all the sound waves and focuses them against the drum head; it will not this even when the drum head; it will not his even when the strictest all the sound waves and focuses them against the drum head; it will do this even when the strictest all the sound waves and focuses them against the drum head; it will do this even when the stroyed, perforated, causing you to hear natural and particular are partially of entire testroyed, perforated, causing relaxed, or thickened. It is the nerves that cause the heart to pulsate, the lungs to inhale the oxygem, the brain to direct the motion of every organ of the body, the stomach to digest food, the liver to secrete the bile, the kidneys to filter the blood and the bowels to carry off the waste.

When the nerves of the stomach become weakened or exhausted, indigestion. Constipation and Inflammation result, because the stomach is inactive.

Line of Refrigerator Steamers to Bring Beef and Mutton to United States.

ENGLAND USES THIS MEAT.

Trip From Buenos Ayres to New York City Can Be Made Three Days Quicker.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

New York, April 9.-Beef and mutton from the Argentine Republic, by the shipload, to be sold here in competition with the products controlled by the Beef Trust, is the promise held out by a syndicate of capitalists, who have obtained concessions, secured options and laid plans for operation on a large scale.

At the office of the Consul General from Argentina, in the Produce Exchange build-ing, it was said that contracts have been made for a site for a large refrigerating plant and wharves for ocean-going steam-ships to carry beef and mutton to this port.

According to the information which has reached the Consul General, Senor R. Alvarez de Toledo, a line of refrigerator steamers is to be established between Buenos Ayres and New York, and beef equal to the best product of our Western plains is to be shipped here. Lamb and mutton that will hold its own with Canada's best is included in the project. TO CUT TRUST PRICES.

It is said that the beef and muttor will be offered here at prices considerably less than those maintained by the Beef Trust. In European markets beef and mutton from the Argentine Republic have been in keen competition with American meats for from the Argentine Republic have been in keen competition with American meats for several years.

Shipped from the South American Republic in refrigerator steamers to London, Liverpool and other ports, beef has sold in large quantities at from 6 to 8 cents wholesale. The Beef Trust has met these prices abroad, but has invariably obtained higher rates here.

There have been no less than five groups of capitalists and persons interested in beef and provisions who have made inquiries at the Argentine Consulate during the last year regarding the shipment of meat products here.

"We are not at liberty to give the names of the persons who have obtained the concession," said a representative of Senor de Toledo yesterday. "We were called upon about three months ago by a man who later went to Argentine, and after spending two months there investigating the business of exporting beef and mutton has returned to this city.

bringing beef here, but it is bound to come."

Official statistics compiled by the Minister of Agriculture of the Republic of Argentina give the total exports of beef for 1933 as 1.019.835 quarters. The exports of lamb and mutton for the year were 3.427.83 carcasses. This large business has been built up since 1833, when the first refrigerating plant was established in Buenos Ayres. There are now five large concerns operating there. They are the River Platte Fresh Meat Company, the Bansinean Refrigerating Company, the Las Palmas Produce Company. E. Terrasson and the La Blanca Company.

In 1932 Edward and William V. Casey of London attempted to combine the Argentine companies and form an alliance with the Beef Trust of this country, covering the foreign trade. The attempt failed.

GOOD CHEAP BEEF.

Beef of good quality is sold in Buenos Ayres at 2% cents per pound on the hoof. The very best beef for export purposes is sold at 3 cents a pound, while poorer grades are quoted as low as 14 cent a pound. Mutton is quoted at about $3.50 per carcass, or about 3 cents a pound.

At retail beef of good quality in Argentina may be had for 22 cents a kilo Argentine money, which is equivalent to about $40 cents a pound American money. Mutton retails at $50 cents. It is claimed that steamers can make the trip to this port in three days less than from Buenos Ayres to London, and that Argentine beef can be delivered here cheaper than in England.

Considerable secrecy is maintained as to the individuals who compose the syndicate which has undertaken the importation of Argentine beef. Offices have been opened in the Produce Exchange Amex by the International Live Stock Products Company, capitalized at $1,000,00. O. B. "This plant is known to botanists as the 'dioon,' a genus of the 'cycadu' family," said Doctor Chamberlain. "They are the lowest order of the seed-bearing plants, and are the nearest related to the extinct plants of geological times.

"The plants are like big ferns or some kinds of palms in appearance, with a thick trunk, 6 or 8 feet high from the top of which spring great leaves 8 feet long. Spinster Falls Deeply in Love With a Young Syrian Rug Dealer.

HUSBAND ONLY TWENTY-EIGHT

She Was Margaretta Johnson and Says She Never Knew Love Until She Met Gabriel.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL New York, April 9.—In the marriage of Gabriel Abu Kalil, a Syrian, who came to this country ten years ago, and Miss Mar-garetta Johnson of Buffalo, who in the seventy years of her spinsterhood has accumulated a fortune of more than half a million dollars, there is a most remarkable union of youth with age. After a courtship of several years the marriage was solemnized on February 4 in the Church of St. Chrysostom, at Sev-enth avenue and Thirty-ninth street, by the Reverend Thomas Henry Sill, rec of the church. Since that time Mr. Kalll the Reverend Thomas Henry Sill, rector of the church. Since that time Mr. Kalli has continued to keep his apartment in the Hotel Marie Antoinette, while his aged bride has open most of the intervening time in Buffalo. She is said to be closing up her affairs there, with the purpose of soon coming to New York to make her home with her husband.

It was while the young Syrian was selling Orental jewelry in Buffalo that Miss Jonnson met him. She soon became interested in his personality far more than in his warrs. That was between five and sky years ago. Although before she met Kallinotning had been farther from Miss Johnson's thoughts than matrimony, she found that she had become so attached to the young man that her life was incomplete without him.

It appears to have been about two years ago that the subject of marriage first began to be discussed between them. Such of her friends as she took into her confidence warned Miss Johnson against taking the step and pointed to the difference in their ages and to the fact that while she was wealthy the Syrian was comparatively poor. But protests of all sorts were useless in turning her from her purpose. HAPPY FOR THE FIRST TIME.

Until a few days ago the marriage was kept so close a secret that hardly anyone was aware of it. At the Marie Antoinette, where Mr. Kalil has been living for the last year, there was a great surprise when it was learned that he was no longer a bachelor, and in Buffalo the announce-ment of the marriage will be startling news to a large circle of Mrs. Kalil's friends.

news to a large circle of Mrs. Kalil's friends.

"Why shouldn't I marry whom I please?" Mrs. Kalil asked one of the few persons whom she has taken into her confidence. "I have far more money than I need, and not a relative nearer than a third cousin or two, to whom I am under no sort of obligation. If I choose to fall in love, even though I am almost an old woman, that is my own affair. I am absolutely happy for the first time in my life. In fact, I never before knew what real happiness was."

Mrs. Kalll has always had enough money so that she could live comfortably and gratify her taste for literature and the arts, but it is within the last few years that she has made the bulk of her

Still, this business does not occupy all of Mr. Kalil's time. He has a brother, who has had experience in the restaurant business, who looks after the details for him, leaving him free to make frequent, though brief, visits to Atlantic City. There he is well known at the St. Charles Hotel, where he is looked upon as a well-to-do New York business man. Washington, April 9.—Secretary Moody intends to send a strong letter to Police Magistrate Maumer of Brooklyn, protesting against his shunting undesirable characters into the navy. Because he is represented as having agreed to discharge 18-year-old George Taylor, charged with theft, on condition that he would enlist in the navy, the animosity of nearly every official in the Navy Department has been aroused. They declare that such tactics are unworthy of any court and that Magistrate Maumer has attempted to make the United States Navy a substitute for jail.

Newspaper clippings sent to the depart-ment stated that Taylor was charged with the theft of a bag of potatoes from S. J. Kornblum, a dealer in the Wallabout Market, and that, when he was arraigned, his father appeared and said:

"My son has promised to go into the navy if you will discharge him on this complaint. The complainant is willing to Maxistrate Maumer is quoted as renly-

This incensed the authorities of the Bureau of Navigation. Commander Alexander Sharp, chief of the division of enlisted men in this bureau, telegraphed to the naval authorities at the New York yard that this boy must not be accepted. He could not enlist as an apprentice, but could as a landsman. Then a letter was written to the Magistrate. Before it was sent it was decided to rewrite it, make it stronger and have Secretary Moody sign it.
