Lincoln, Neb., June 9.—On application of Bishop Boncompagni, the Supreme Court this evening granted a rehearing in the long pending suit of the bishop against the Reverend William Murphy, a priest at St. Francis.

MRS. WALLIANT UNVEILS WINDOW

Missouri Places Tribute to Confederate Dead in Petersburg, Va., Church.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES HELD.

New Orleans and Virginia Also Take Part, Both Honoring Their Sons Who Died While Fighting.

St. Petersburg, Va., June 9.—Mrs. Leroy B. Walliant of St. Louis this afternoon unveiled the Confederate window in Blandford Church given by the Confederate organizations of Missouri.

Other windows unveiled were those of Washington Artillery of New Orleans and her people by former Governor of Virginia by Mrs. David Callender of Petersburg.

The presentation of the windows and tablet was made by Judge George L. Christian of Richmond, and the speech of acceptance on the part of Petersburg and her people by former Governor William Cameron of this city.

There was a parade of the Military Confederate Veterans of this city and Norfolk and the local Fire Department. Ten thousand persons took part in the exercises.

Mrs. Walliant, Mrs. Behan and General Behan all rode in the parade. During the decoration of the soldiers' graves Mrs. Walliant placed a large wreath of red and white carnations on the Missouri plot, and Mrs. Behan placed a wreath of fragrant flowers on the plot to unknown Confederates.

For thirty-eight years the 9th of June has been observed in Petersburg as Confederate Memorial Day. The graves of Confederate soldiers killed around Petersburg and buried in Blandford Cemetery are always decorated under the auspices of the Ladies' Memorial Association, and exercises are held.

This 9th of June was selected as memorial day for the reason that on the 9th of June, 1864, the first attack on Petersburg was made by 150 men and 2000 well-equipped cavalrymen, under the command of General Kautz, who was held at bay by 150 men and 2000 well-equipped cavalrymen from the regular army.

In this engagement many of Petersburg's best-known citizens were killed, wounded or captured. The windows were recently installed in Blandford Church, unveiled.

The windows were placed in the church by the States of Virginia and Missouri and also by the Washington Artillery of New Orleans in memory of their dead. The windows were made by Tiffany of New York and are very handsome.

At the top of each window is the shield of the State, and at the base a suitable inscription between these being a life-sized figure of one of the apostles, Virginia being St. John with the loving cup, Missouri having St. Peter holding the keys, and the Washington Artillery window of New Orleans, La., having St. Paul with a sword in one hand and parchment epistle in the other.

The handsome marble tablet was erected by the Petersburg Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, in memory of those who were killed in the fight on the 9th of June, 1864.

FOREIGN DIALECT CAUSES TROUBLE IN CLEARING ASPHYXIATION MYSTERY

Mile Trbyjevich, Brother-in-Law of Nicholas Marovich, Who With His Wife Was Found Unconscious, in Broken Tongue Declares He Does Not Know How They Were Overcome—Says He Was Looking for a Position—Interpreters Cannot Understand the Language.

MR. AND MRS. NICHOLAS MAROVICH. Who were almost asphyxiated in their room at No. 2129 South Broadway yesterday morning.

Mile Trbyjevich, brother-in-law of Nicholas Marovich, who, with Mrs. Marovich, was found almost dead in their room at No. 2129 South Broadway yesterday morning, was arrested at 2:30 p. m. when he returned home. He says he was in no way responsible for the unconscious condition of his sister and brother-in-law.

Marovich and his wife were reported last night to be improving. Marovich recovered consciousness yesterday afternoon, but his wife was still unconscious last evening.

As the trio speak almost unintelligible English, it is difficult for the police to do anything in the case. Their language is a Slovak dialect, which is said to be spoken only in the south of Austria.

Marovich was interrogated last evening at the hospital, but little could be learned from his remarks. He spoke several times of a man he called "John," saying that he did not know his last name. He said he had in some way been responsible for the occurrence, though it could not be gathered from his remarks whether or not he thought the man's part in it was an accident or an attempt to asphyxiate the couple.

Trbyjevich, brother of Marovich's wife, who slept in the room next to them, and who is held by the police, cannot make himself understood when interrogated. Lieutenant Guion, of the Third District, who is working on the case, says that they speak different dialects, and they have difficulty in talking to each other. Several interpreters were tried, but they failed to get any information.

LOOKED FOR JOY. Trbyjevich said that he left his room early yesterday morning and went to look for a job. An effort was made to find out what Trbyjevich was out for. One of his room leads to the room where the couple were found another opens into Tridean street, and a third opens into the hallway behind the saloon.

Trbyjevich denied that he used a bunch of keys which the police found in the front door of the saloon. He did not appear to understand questions put to him by a Polish woman who was acting as interpreter.

When the couple was found unconscious by Mrs. Mary Beck, who lives upstairs, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Beck, of No. 232 South Third street, it was about 6:30 o'clock in the morning. It was noted that Trbyjevich was not in his room at 3:30 p. m., when Patrolman Charles Hess, who was guarding the place, heard a noise in Trbyjevich's room. Rushing in he encountered Trbyjevich, who seemed surprised at the presence of the patrolman. At the Third District Police Station he said that during his absence he had been looking for work.

Marovich and his wife bought the privilege of running the saloon, which is owned by the Green Tree Brewery, from Mrs. Barbara Miller, on Wednesday, and paid cash. Nearly $500 in cash, a bank check and jewelry were found in their room.

The couple have been married for about three years. The woman, who has come from across the water to her fiancé, who was at that time conducting a saloon in East St. Louis.

Joseph Haas, who delivers beer to the saloons, says that he tried to get the couple out of the saloon on Wednesday, at 5 a. m., and that a response came from the rooms, but that no effort was made to enter the saloon until the morning. The police hope to clear the mystery up to-day if Marovich and his wife recover sufficiently and a good interpreter is found.

CHIEFS' CONVENTION ENDS WITH BANQUET Officials of Exposition Company Are Hosts at Elaborate Function.

Major Sylvester Re-elected President by Narrow Majority Over Chief Kiely—San Francisco Gets Next Convention.

As a climax and finale to the visit of the Chiefs of Police of the United States and Canada to St. Louis, the officials of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition were hosts at a banquet to the visitors at the Irish Village on the Pike last night. Covers were laid for 500.

During the evening while the convention has been in session the heads of the police departments have been elaborately entertained, but last night's function was the principal event of the five days.

After the menu had been served President Francis was introduced and spoke at length in short addresses were made by Mayor Rella Wells, William G. Frye, President of the Board of Police Commissioners; Major Richard Sylvester, president of the Chiefs' Association, and Walter B. Stevens, Secretary of the World's Fair.

HARRY HAWES SPEAKS. Harry B. Hawes was among the speakers of the evening, and said, in part: HAWES' ADDRESS TO CHIEFS. Harry B. Hawes delivered an address, saying, in part:

It is a real pleasure to speak of our police force to the assembled Chiefs of the nation, men competent to judge, men familiar with police duty and the various police systems of the United States.

Unfortunately for St. Louis, it has one or two newspapers that have for years used their news and editorial columns in vicious assaults upon the St. Louis department for political effect.

The bad conduct of one policeman is made the basis of an assault upon the entire department. Charges are made against the integrity and personnel of the department, but are so worded that no direct charge is made against any particular officer.

Charging the department with being in politics, these papers go to such extremes in their own partnership that they stoop to deliberate misrepresentations, even to regard to the provisions of the police law, doing so on the theory that it is safe to do so, as citizens will not take the trouble to inform themselves correctly by reading the law in the statute books.

One of our familiar and oft-repeated statements for the local legislature for any increase in the number of men or salaries, other than that which has been specifically set out by legislative enactment, with the exception that they, in time of emergency, may temporarily increase the police force to cope with and meet emergencies, is that the men are discharged.

Where an emergency is declared by the Board of Police Commissioners it is a matter which can be determined by a judicial hearing, and a Board of Police Commissioners would be individually responsible did they declare such an emergency when it is not.

Chronic Sores Eating Ulcers A Constant Drain Upon the System.

Nothing is a source of so much trouble as an old sore or ulcer, particularly when located upon the lower extremities where the circulation is weak and sluggish. A gangrenous eating ulcer upon the leg is a frightful sight, and as the poison burrows deeper and deeper into the tissues beneath and the sore continues to spread, one can almost see the flesh melting away and feel the strength going out with the sickening discharges. Great running sores and deep offensive ulcers often develop from a simple boil, swollen gland, bruise or pimple, and are a threatening danger always, because while all such sores are not cancerous, a great many are, and this should make you suspicious of all chronic, slow-healing ulcers and sores, particularly if cancer runs in your family. Face sores are common and cause the greatest annoyance because they are so persistent and unsightly and detract so much from one's personal appearance. Middle aged and old people and those whose blood is contaminated and tainted with the germs and poison of malaria or some previous sickness, are the chief sufferers from chronic sores and ulcers. While the blood remains in an unhealthy polluted condition, and the sore will continue to grow and spread in spite of washes and salves, for the sore is the outward sign of some constitutional disorder, a bad condition of the blood and system, which local remedies cannot cure. A blood purifier and tonic is what you need—something to cleanse the blood, quicken the circulation and invigorate the constitution, and S. S. S. is just such a remedy. It counteracts and removes from the blood all the impurities and poisons, and gradually builds up the entire system; and when the blood has been purified the healing process begins and the ulcer or sore is soon entirely gone. S. S. S. contains no mineral or poisonous drugs of any description, but is guaranteed purely vegetable, a blood purifier and tonic combined and a safe and permanent cure for chronic sores and ulcers. If you have a slow-healing sore of any kind, external or internal, write us about it, and our physicians will advise you without charge. Book on "The Blood and its Diseases" free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Wheeling, W. Va., May 28, 1903. Some years ago while at work, I fell over a truck and severely injured both of my shins. My blood became poisoned as a result, and the doctor told me I would have running sores for life, and that if they closed up the result would be fatal. Under this discouraging report I left off my treatment and resorted to the use of S. S. S. Its effects were prompt and gratifying. It took only a short while for the medicine to cure up the sores, and I am not dead as the doctor intimated. I would be neither have the sores ever broken out again, and some 12 years have elapsed since what I have described occurred. JOHN W. FUNDIS, Care Schumacher Brewing Co.
