TEN BUILDING PERMITS REVOKED
Commissioner Heimburger Stops Work on Barmner Avenue Reported to Be Unsafe

Building Commissioner Heimburger has commenced a crusade against shoddy house construction in St. Louis, and yesterday revoked the permits of ten buildings on Barmner avenue, which, he says, do not come up to requirements.

The revocations are due to examinations made by Chief Inspector John R. Rolfe, who reported that the ten dwelling houses in course of erection at Nos. 2012 and 2028 Barmner avenue are unsafe for habitation.

The houses are being built by Contractor George Meckler. According to the records of the Building Office, they are the property of Oscar Neuhaus. The ten buildings are being erected at a cost of $10,000 each. Permits were granted for them on May 4, consequently the structures are nearing completion.

According to the report furnished the Building Office, many of the houses have concrete walls. Others are bulged out of all proportion. Several walls, it is claimed, are six inches out of plumb six feet from the ground. Every house in the row is claimed to have defects. Some have cracked walls and almost every wall has drawn away from the joists which support the roof.

One dwelling, No. 2020, has been ordered down entirely, and before the work of completion is started, the contractor must be given the Building Commissioner that all defects will be remedied.

MORE NONUNION MEN BROUGHT INTO ZEIGLER.
Train Bearing Them Meets No Interference and Large Contingent Many Come To-Day.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL.
Carbondale, Ill., Aug. 11.—Another day void of violence marked another importation of laborers to Joseph Letter's plant. The contingent consisted of thirty-four laborers, six of whom are claimed to be miners, accompanied by a heavy guard of police.

The same plan that has previously been adopted by Letter was followed, that of passing through the town at a high rate of speed. No effort whatever was made to interrupt the train, and the only incidents were the derails about small boys and women to them. This condition of today is hardly due to two causes.

The miners had a few hours previous, succeeded in inducing three of those inside the Letter stockade to quit, and the miners were greatly elated over the fact. The officials pleaded with the men for peace. The number of guards and Deputy Marshals has certainly been increased, but it has reached such proportions that people have wondered at Letter's intentions. It is now announced that preparations to import men have only now reached such a point that Letter could safely land a large contingent.

In the next forty-eight hours he expects to place 200 skilled men into Zeigler.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL.
Springfield, Ill., Aug. 11.—By agreement the hearing on the motion to dissolve the temporary injunction issued against the Illinois Mine Workers' union, and the individual members of the organization will be opened Monday morning.

Judge R. W. Wright, presiding in Duquoin, communicated with Judge C. J. Otis Humphrey of the United States District Court while the latter was enjoying a vacation on his farm and the arrangement was perfected.

This motion really involves the whole issue in the case. The miners are now restrained in any way interfering with the operation of the coal mines of the Zeigler Mining Company.
