

REPUBLICANS WILL SUPPORT DEMOCRATIC SENATORIAL NOMINEE

Voters of the Twenty-Ninth District, Regardless of Party, to Help Elect Victor Gebhardt as a Rebuke to Ziegenheimism, Which Is Represented by Edward Baumann of the Ninth Ward.

VICTOR GEBHARDT, Who has been nominated for the State Senate by the Democrats in the Twenty-ninth District.

When the Democratic Convention of the Twenty-ninth Senatorial District nominated Victor Gebhardt last Tuesday evening the delegates from each of the wards represented declared that he would run far ahead of his ticket in the fight which he will make against Edward Baumann, the Republican nominee for the State Senate from that district.

Embraced in the district are wards 3, 4, 11 and the Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Sixteenth Precincts of ward 12, and all excepting precincts 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 of ward 24. While the district is normally Republican, the population is regarded as one of the most independent in the city.

Two and four years ago these same wards gave to Ziegenheimism, one of the most stinging rebukes any party ever received at the hands of its supposed friends. Former Mayor Henry Ziegenheim lived in the Ninth Ward, but he lost it by a large majority in the spring election of 1901.

Victor Gebhardt is a supporter of the Public Ownership movement at that time fought Ziegenheim at every stage. With his four sons, he is a well known citizen of South St. Louis, where he has lived since 1885, when he removed here from Covington, Ky., with his parents. He was born in Baden, Germany, ten years before the war he was a journeyman cigarmaker. He joined the Fourth Missouri Volunteer Cavalry and served until the close of the war. He afterward followed his trade until 1871. He was in the Water Department under Mayor Brown and was later a Deputy Sheriff. During the last fourteen years he has been a notary public, with an office at No. 209 South Broadway.

He has always taken an interest in politics. He organized Hasenbuehel Post, No. 1, in 1887. He has been an ardent supporter of Circuit Attorney Folk, and his speeches are all commendatory of the Democratic nominee for Governor. If he is nominated, his record and character are such that he may be safely counted against every sort of evil lobby influence.

Baumann, on the other hand, is considered one of the most practical politicians in the city. He has always been allied with Ziegenheimism and in his ward has been the mainstay of the Ziegenheim element. Two years ago he was put out of the Republican City Committee for trying to effect a union with Butler.

He has been a member of the City Hall in the special tax department. He was interested in the work of the House of Delegates and attended a number of caucuses. During the last two years he has been employed securing saloon locations for a local brewery.

THE AMERICAN NAVY: MAY ITS GLORY NEVER GROW LESS, IS KING EDWARD'S TOAST.

London, Oct. 20.—The American Navy: may its glory never grow less. were the words in which King Edward toasted his naval guests at the luncheon at Buckingham Palace to-day.

Ambassador Choate first presented Rear Admiral Jewell, commanding the European Squadron of the North Atlantic fleet, and his staff: Captain Colby of the cruiser Olympia and Lieutenants William C. Watts and Charles T. Jewell, aids of the Admiral, who were accompanied by Secretary White and Captain Charles H. Stockton, the naval attaché of the American Embassy.

Then, with an informal "Well, let's have luncheon," the King, wearing an Admiral's uniform, led the way to the dining-room, where eighteen persons sat down, mostly members of the household, with Captain Prince Louis of Battenberg, Director of Naval Intelligence; Admiral Lord Walter Kerr, First Sea Lord of the Admiralty, and Sir Thomas Lipton.

Ambassador Choate was on the King's right and Admiral Jewell on his left. The King, as usual with American guests, demanded their latest stories and chatted most informally until near the end of the luncheon, when he rose and proposed the health of President Roosevelt, the American Navy and the officers of the visiting squadron. No formal reply was made, but Admiral Jewell told King Edward how much he appreciated the compliment.

The King chatted with each member of the party, showing how he was always pleased to see American war vessels in England.

DR. M'GEE TO SOON RETURN FROM EAST

Wife of Chief of Anthropology Department at the Fair Has Been Red Cross Nurse in Japan.

Doctor Anita McGee, who at the opening of hostilities in the far East, went to Japan with a corps of Red Cross nurses, will sail for home from Yokohama tomorrow.

Advice of Doctor McGee's return was received by her husband, Doctor WJ McGee, Chief of the Department of Anthropology at the World's Fair, yesterday. Mrs. McGee will arrive in St. Louis about November 11.

Doctor Anita McGee is probably the only American woman who is so conversant with the progress of the war and its present situation. In her letter received yesterday she says:

"The scenes that I have witnessed beggar description. The carnage has been terrible. The losses have been enormous. The conditions are very much worse than even the most pessimistic reports give."

Doctor McGee's work in the Japanese emergency hospitals near the field of battle gave to her a good insight into the history of the conflict.

Doctor McGee is a daughter of Professor Simon Newcomb, the scientist, and is one of the best-known members of her profession.

REGISTRATION DAYS FOR INVALIDS AND ABSENTEES.

Must Appear at the City Hall November 1 or 2 With Properly Signed Affidavits.

Invalids and all persons who were absent from St. Louis during the period of registration from September 19 to 22, inclusive, will be entitled to register November 1 and 2 at the office of the Election Commissioners in the City Hall, provided they produce proofs of their absence or illness.

An absentee must have an affidavit sworn to by two qualified registered voters in his precinct, showing that he was absent from the city during all four days and that he is unable to appear at the city limits.

A certificate made under oath from the returning officer who is required to fill in the certificate must set out the nature of the illness.

All applicants for registration under these two heads must file blanks within five days after the election, and must appear at the City Hall on November 1 or 2.

Those who have changed their place of residence since the election, whether they have removed next door to their former residence or ten miles away, must make personal application for transfer at the Election Commissioners' office before 3 p. m. on November 1, to be entitled to vote.

SEIBER SUES ELECTION BOARD.

Seeks to Be Rerecognized as Candidate for Senator.

George J. Seiber applied to the St. Louis Court of Appeals yesterday for a writ of mandamus to compel the Board of Election Commissioners to place his name upon the ballots of the coming election as Democratic candidate for State Senator of the Thirty-first District.

An order was made directing the Election Commissioners to show cause next Wednesday why the prayer should not be granted.

Seiber alleges that he was nominated at the convention October 6, and that after filing his nomination with the Board of Election Commissioners he was notified by John Ellspermann, Jr., secretary of the board, that the board had decided not to place his name upon the ballots, but to put instead the name of Thomas E. Kinney.

Seiber alleges that Kinney is not eligible to the office of Senator under section 12, article IV, of the Constitution of Missouri, because of being a member of the House of Delegates.

Twenty-First Ward Republicans.

A meeting of the Abraham Lincoln Republican League Club of the Twenty-first Ward will be held to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Spring and Election avenues, prominent speakers will address the meeting.

ABUSE OF FOLK NOT POPULAR.

Brewster's Speech at Savannah Is Not Well Received.

Savannah, Mo., Oct. 20.—The much-advertised Walbridge Republican rally took place here this afternoon and was a tame affair. Mr. Walbridge was not in good trim and his address was very brief.

The principal speech was made by A. W. Brewster, the Republican boss of Northwest Missouri. It was a trade of abuse of Joseph W. Folk. Brewster contended that Folk was a traitor to the cause of the State and that Folk prosecuted a few poor Aldermen and let the rich boodlers run the show.

He denounced Folk as an enemy of the State and said that no self-respecting man could afford to vote for him. His talk did not even please many of the Republican hearers.

THIS MORNING WE INAUGURATE AN EXTRAORDINARY REMNANT SALE OF CARPETS AND RUGS. An event that cannot fail to prove of intense interest to every housewife in St. Louis. Our tremendous World's Fair business has left us with an immense accumulation of remnants of fine Carpets and Rugs—and these we now propose to clear out with a rush. We've gone through the entire lot, cut prices exactly in half, and now invite you to share in the most remarkable values ever offered in this or any other city in America to-day and Saturday.
