

PUGILISM

Kid Sayers of Milwaukee and Jack Lowry Battle To-Night at the West End Club.

SAVERS UP RECORD TO UPHOLD RECORD

Northerner Hopes to Be Vindicated of Criticism Anent Bout in His Home Town.

WILL MEET ALL COMERS.

States That He Prefers to Fight Under Local Referees and Wants to Meet Anyone at His Weight.

- TO-NIGHT'S BOXING CARD AT THE WEST END CLUB. Maurice Sayers of Milwaukee and Jack Lowry of New York meet in the main event, being carded to box fifteen rounds at catch weights.

To prove that Maurice Sayers of Milwaukee has not received favors from the hands of referee in his home town and that he is capable of meeting any man in his class is the object of to-night's bout at the West End Club, according to Manager Dan Clark, who is coaching the city youngster with the Northern fighter.

"Because we have preferred to box in Milwaukee, where Maurice has a strong local following, verdicts in his battles have often been assailed by the outside sporting press," said Clark yesterday. "Also we want to take on a series of matches here to show that the boy has been winning on his merits."

"We want to fight any good man at our weight—135 pounds. Jack McEldanoff of the ring, who has been carded to box with a light. When we have cleaned out the class in other cities, just as we have done in Milwaukee, we will have shown what the boy can do."

"So sure did Sayers get over criticism attaching to his record that he will fight here. He is a local following that turns out in force for every fight. We can get good money for every fight, have no wear and tear of traveling and no chance of being injured. We have always allowed visitors to have an equal chance in naming the referee. Yet we have received criticism because Sayers has won."

"We intend to take a local referee in every city we visit. As for fighting in our home town, why should we? Sayers has a local following that turns out in force for every fight. We can get good money for every fight, have no wear and tear of traveling and no chance of being injured. We have always allowed visitors to have an equal chance in naming the referee. Yet we have received criticism because Sayers has won."

ST. LOUIS J. PLAYS CARBONDALE TO-DAY

Local Eleven Will Probably Have a Strong Opponent in Illinois Team at the Stadium.

St. Louis University will play the Carbondale High School team at the World's Fair Stadium this afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Delaney will put his heaviest team in the field, as he has heard that the visitors are a strong bunch.

The local team went through light practice work at Sportman's Park yesterday afternoon and the players are in first-class shape for to-day's contest.

Coach Delaney sent in his men against the charging machine yesterday, and now has his team working low. The machine is built for this purpose, and the men have been trained to play low, which benefits them greatly.

Two years ago the Carbondale team defeated the local eleven so badly that several of the players of the blue-and-white team were laid out for two weeks. This will hardly be the case this season, as the St. Louis team is heavy and fit at all points.

Although several of the regular players are on the sick list, Coach Boynton lined up two teams selected from the Washington University squad and went through some hard work with the boys at League Park yesterday afternoon. While many of the players will be rather sore, Boynton thinks that he can hold, if not beat, the Illinois team in their game at the stadium Saturday.

Delaney has several games to be played in the next week, but is anxious to have the game played at St. Louis and Washington between next Tuesday. To-day the St. Louis team will play Carbondale, Saturday, at the stadium. The Illinois team will play a team from Southern Illinois.

The Washington-St. Louis game is scheduled for Tuesday, and while this will give St. Louis two games in succession, the championship game is played at Carbondale. Delaney says that he probably will play both.

When asked if he would play C. B. C. if that team was allowed by Chief Sullivan to compete in the championship, Delaney said that he would play if he is allowed to compete. I certainly will send in my team against them, as that would put the college boys in the same class with my squad, and I would play rather than forfeit the game."

Chief Sullivan has been asked if the C. B. C. can compete in the championship scheduled for next Tuesday, but has not said whether he will allow them to enter. The Washington-St. Louis game is scheduled for Tuesday, and while this will give St. Louis two games in succession, the championship game is played at Carbondale. Delaney says that he probably will play both.

Chief Sullivan thinks, however, that the Washington team will play, as it would mean a contest in the city. Washington followers themselves want the contest to come off.

Delaney was induced to allow his team to play and stop all rumors of his being afraid of defeat.

Bar le Duc at Fifty to One Comes to Life. New York, Nov. 2.—The Remsen Handicap, five and a half furlongs, Jamaica's feature of the closing day, was easily won by the 15-to-20 favorite, Dandelion, the distance being covered in 1:36.45. Dandelion broke in front and made all the pace, winning by two lengths from Gamara. In turn was the same distance in front of Gamara and Jack-Battin.

Bar le Duc, a 50-to-1 shot and practically unbeaten, won the second race by a neck. Five, six furlongs—Diamond 113 (Hedford), 1 to 2; second, Mornet, 19 (Gannon), 16 to 1; third, Time, 19 (Martin), 20 to 1; fourth, Time, 113.24. New York, Jamaica, Gold Cup, five and a half furlongs—Diamond 113 (Hedford), 1 to 2; second, Mornet, 19 (Gannon), 16 to 1; third, Time, 19 (Martin), 20 to 1; fourth, Time, 113.24.

Bar le Duc, a 50-to-1 shot and practically unbeaten, won the second race by a neck. Five, six furlongs—Diamond 113 (Hedford), 1 to 2; second, Mornet, 19 (Gannon), 16 to 1; third, Time, 19 (Martin), 20 to 1; fourth, Time, 113.24.

TO-DAY'S SERIES AT FOREIGN TRACKS

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. First race, six and a half furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S LATONIA ENTRIES. First race, seven furlongs: Marjorie Ward, 10; Ethel, 10; Marjorie Ward, 10; Ethel, 10; Marjorie Ward, 10; Ethel, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Second race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Third race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Fourth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Fifth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Sixth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Seventh race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Eighth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Ninth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Tenth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Eleventh race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Twelfth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Thirteenth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Fourteenth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Fifteenth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Sixteenth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Seventeenth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Eighteenth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Nineteenth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Twentieth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Twenty-first race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Twenty-second race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Twenty-third race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

TO-DAY'S AQUEDUCT ENTRIES. Twenty-fourth race, six furlongs: Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10; Young Henry, 10; Monte Carlo, 10.

SHOOTING

De Oro Beat Jerome Keogh in Hard-Fought Game by the Score of 125 to 120.

Hall of Illinois and Anderson of Kansas Tie in Handicap with Thirty Kills.

Garrett Wins Amateur Cup. Final Round in the Trophy Will Be Shot To-Day—Cloudy Misses.

With twenty-three marksmen competing in the initial round of the World's Fair Handicap shoot at Du Pont Park yesterday, two made clean scores of thirty kills—Tom Hall of Loomis, Ill., and Henry Anderson of Salina, Kas., being the successful contestants.

Fast birds and rather dark weather of last morning caused many misses on the part of the expert marksmen yesterday, but the day about 4 o'clock, the target events then being shot off. At the clay birds, John Garrett proved the most successful, winning the shoot-off and the amateur cup.

On the first round of the main event, shot in series of twenty-five birds, chances for Joe O'Neil, the only one who looked extremely bright. He killed twenty-five straight, and seemed to have fully as good a chance as the visiting sportsmen. He went to pieces on the round at five birds, missing two out of the number and losing one dead out of bounds.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

SHOOTING

De Oro Beat Jerome Keogh in Hard-Fought Game by the Score of 125 to 120.

Hall of Illinois and Anderson of Kansas Tie in Handicap with Thirty Kills.

Garrett Wins Amateur Cup. Final Round in the Trophy Will Be Shot To-Day—Cloudy Misses.

With twenty-three marksmen competing in the initial round of the World's Fair Handicap shoot at Du Pont Park yesterday, two made clean scores of thirty kills—Tom Hall of Loomis, Ill., and Henry Anderson of Salina, Kas., being the successful contestants.

Fast birds and rather dark weather of last morning caused many misses on the part of the expert marksmen yesterday, but the day about 4 o'clock, the target events then being shot off. At the clay birds, John Garrett proved the most successful, winning the shoot-off and the amateur cup.

On the first round of the main event, shot in series of twenty-five birds, chances for Joe O'Neil, the only one who looked extremely bright. He killed twenty-five straight, and seemed to have fully as good a chance as the visiting sportsmen. He went to pieces on the round at five birds, missing two out of the number and losing one dead out of bounds.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

SHOOTING

De Oro Beat Jerome Keogh in Hard-Fought Game by the Score of 125 to 120.

Hall of Illinois and Anderson of Kansas Tie in Handicap with Thirty Kills.

Garrett Wins Amateur Cup. Final Round in the Trophy Will Be Shot To-Day—Cloudy Misses.

With twenty-three marksmen competing in the initial round of the World's Fair Handicap shoot at Du Pont Park yesterday, two made clean scores of thirty kills—Tom Hall of Loomis, Ill., and Henry Anderson of Salina, Kas., being the successful contestants.

Fast birds and rather dark weather of last morning caused many misses on the part of the expert marksmen yesterday, but the day about 4 o'clock, the target events then being shot off. At the clay birds, John Garrett proved the most successful, winning the shoot-off and the amateur cup.

On the first round of the main event, shot in series of twenty-five birds, chances for Joe O'Neil, the only one who looked extremely bright. He killed twenty-five straight, and seemed to have fully as good a chance as the visiting sportsmen. He went to pieces on the round at five birds, missing two out of the number and losing one dead out of bounds.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

SHOOTING

De Oro Beat Jerome Keogh in Hard-Fought Game by the Score of 125 to 120.

Hall of Illinois and Anderson of Kansas Tie in Handicap with Thirty Kills.

Garrett Wins Amateur Cup. Final Round in the Trophy Will Be Shot To-Day—Cloudy Misses.

With twenty-three marksmen competing in the initial round of the World's Fair Handicap shoot at Du Pont Park yesterday, two made clean scores of thirty kills—Tom Hall of Loomis, Ill., and Henry Anderson of Salina, Kas., being the successful contestants.

Fast birds and rather dark weather of last morning caused many misses on the part of the expert marksmen yesterday, but the day about 4 o'clock, the target events then being shot off. At the clay birds, John Garrett proved the most successful, winning the shoot-off and the amateur cup.

On the first round of the main event, shot in series of twenty-five birds, chances for Joe O'Neil, the only one who looked extremely bright. He killed twenty-five straight, and seemed to have fully as good a chance as the visiting sportsmen. He went to pieces on the round at five birds, missing two out of the number and losing one dead out of bounds.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson from the thirty-two yard mark. Crosby caught a pair of unusually swift birds in each round of the trap, and his score of twenty-seven was made under considerable odds.

Tom Marshall of Illinois, who has twice the Grand American, competed from the thirty-three yard line, and shot down for a 27 at the game and completed the thirty-two yard handicap.

Rich and Marshall both shot well in the final round of the trophy, the latter being the thirty-four yard mark. Hall, who tied with Anderson, shot from the thirty-three-yard line, and Anderson