REFORMS APPROVED BY RUSSIA'S CZAR

Representation of Zemstvo and Abolition of Press Censorship Among Them.

London, Dec. 25.—A despatch to a news agency from St. Petersburg says it has been stated on reliable authority that the manifesto on the subject of reforms approved by Emperor Nicholas will contain four points, as follows:

First—Each Zemstvo shall send to the Council of State three representatives to advise on the question of internal affairs.

Second—That the press censorship shall be abolished and the press made free.

Third—That freedom of conscience shall be allowed.

Fourth—That elementary education shall be made compulsory throughout the Empire.

The Daily Mail's St. Petersburg correspondent says that the manifesto probably will be issued December 26.

POST-OFFICE FIGHT WARMER. Expected Press Convention Will Develop New Feature.

REPUBLICAN SENATORIAL. St. Petersburg, Mo., Dec. 25.—There is a probability that the Republican Press Convention at St. Joseph, December 29 and 31 will develop some new features in the Post-Office fight here, which is gradually growing warmer, although the time for appointing a new Postmaster is a year hence.

The candidate who is getting the best support here is "Chambers," and he has opened a real estate office, which has come to be the headquarters of his fight.

Don't Experiment With a Cold. Take Parker's Cascara Quinine Tablets. They cure colds and malaria. No bromides.

RAILROADS

HEAVY TONNAGE CALLS FOR MORE EQUIPMENT.

Railroads Place Large Orders for Locomotives and Freight Cars—Small Output Last Year.

Reports of an enormous tonnage to be moved from all sections of the country have caused railroad officials to send in large rush orders for additional equipment.

Practically all lines, but particularly the Southwestern railroads, have placed large orders for freight cars and locomotives.

The orders for passenger equipment have not been so numerous, however, for though it is believed that when the car plants make several deliveries, no orders for freight equipment passenger coaches will be in demand.

It is estimated that 52,500 cars were built for the railroads in 1904. Of these 60,000 were freight and 2,100 passenger. This is much less than the deliveries in 1903, which amounted to 55,000, of 12,100 freight and 2,900 passenger, but the total of 1903 leads all, with a total of 65,200 cars, divided into 64,500 and 1,900.

The small orders placed this year are accounted for by the uncertain conditions existing at this time in 1904, when gross earnings decreased rapidly while operating costs continued to increase. The figures given for 1904 are exclusive of equipment built at the shops of the railroads.

This year 2,041 locomotives were built at the various plants in the United States, as against 1,152 last year. This, also, is exclusive of locomotives built at the car road shops, and includes 36 electric locomotives. In 1902 4,320 locomotives were built and in the year preceding that were built.

IMMIGRANT TRAFFIC REVENUE. Earnings 21 Per Cent Less Than Corresponding Period Last Year.

A statement of the revenue received by the Western roads from immigrant traffic during the first ten months of 1904 shows a falling off of about 21 per cent on the earnings, compared with the corresponding period last year.

The revenue received by roads of the Western Passenger Association during the first ten months of 1904 and 1903 is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Month, 1904, 1903. Rows: January, February, March, April, May, June, July, August, September, October, Totals.

Large Rail Orders. Orders placed by the Pennsylvania Railroad for 12,700 tons of steel rails, divided between the United States Steel Corporation, Lackawanna Iron Company, Cambria Steel Company and Pennsylvania Steel Company, and the product of orders recently accepted for the New York Central, are generally taken as indications of a fair amount of work to be done next year.

Mr. Buckley on State Legislation. In a communication received from Edward H. Buckley, Representative from the Fifth District of St. Louis in the next Assembly, Mr. Buckley says, regarding the President's message: "I believe that as a result of the message, the commission should be established with power, which a given rate has been established, and after full hearing, the commission is responsible to decide, subject to judicial review, what shall be a reasonable rate, and to refer the commission to take effect immediately."

MAD INDIAN KILLS FOUR. Suffering From Hydrophobia, He Stabs Mexicans Regardless.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL. Austin, Tex., Dec. 25.—Advices were received here today of the killing of four persons by a Mexican Indian, named "Chavante," near Tamaulac, Mexico, while suffering from an attack of hydrophobia. The madman ran out of town and encountered Vincento Silva and his mother, both of whom he killed with a knife. He afterwards killed a shepherd, also with a knife.

A detachment of rurales was sent to intercept him. As soon as the madman saw the rurales he began to fire upon them with a revolver, killing one of them and wounding another. When he ran through his supply of ammunition he drew his knife and attacked the rurales, but the latter fired upon him and killed him on the spot.

Chavante went mad as a result of being bitten by a coyote several months ago.

WILL SETTLE QUESTION. "I would very much like to know if Mr. Akins called Mr. Brown's attention to the fact that his right hand in politics," Mr. Thomas K. Niedringhaus, was one of Mr. Akins's friends referred to at all of these times and on every occasion when a fight was made on the President and in every factional fight waged in Missouri since Akins's advent into politics—that Mr. Niedringhaus has been silent.

This reminds me of Mr. Akins calling me to St. Louis after his return from a visit to the President and emphatically stating to me that he had been in Washington and now knew a few things, and commended that the world must go down the line without regard to personal choice that Mr. Parker must be the next Senator from Missouri and exhibited personal letters to this effect he was then sending out. Mr. Akins also stated he had sent for all the new Congressmen elect to come to St. Louis to receive their instructions and intimated that any failure or refusal to comply therewith would deprive us of any voice in the matter of appointments in our various districts.

The prisoners are Samuel Hunt, Walter Tern, Albert Tunstall and Joseph Henderson, all residents of Plainfield.

The negroes had been standing on street corners yelling "Merry Christmas" at everyone who passed and demanding money to buy drinks. The policemen attempted to arrest the gang, and were knocked down and beaten. They did not shoot for fear of hitting onlookers. The firemen and citizens joined in the battle, which was waged nearly half an hour.

When the negroes were about to be taken to jail there were cries from the crowd of "Bring a rope" and "Lynch them." The policemen warned the hooligans to keep away, but members of the crowd got close enough to strike the negroes.

A crowd hung about the jail for hours, and all through the day, both in Plainfield and North Plainfield, there were frequent tilts between white men and negroes.
