Several school children were saved yesterday by the quick resourcefulness and bravery of Patrolman Thomas Bambrick of the Eighth District, who stopped a runaway horse after having been dragged more than 200 feet.

The accident was near Spring and Washington avenues, a corner crowded with school children on their way home for midday luncheon shortly after noon.

The horse, a young Western mustang, was attached to a delivery wagon of the Monarch Tea and Coffee Company of No. 222 Olive street. It had been left standing in the neighborhood while the driver went into a customer's house. The animal took fright at some object and started down the street at full speed.

Bambrick, who was on his beat, was standing at Washington and Spring avenues when he saw the thoroughly frightened animal running over Spring avenue at the rate of twenty miles an hour. He ran out into the street directly in the

IN THIS ISSUE is presented as a fitting companion feature to Mrs. Berkeley-Loyd's "Fashions in New York" no less an authority than Edouard La Fontaine, who will furnish us with the text and illustrations each month for our Paris Letter.

M. La Fontaine is without peer on the European continent as a dress critic and a writer on all topics pertaining to fashions. Besides this, he is an artist of great individuality, as is shown by his sketches which are reproduced in his Paris Letter. They have a style and an atmosphere about them distinctly Parisian. Known personally to all the famous dress creators in the various fashion centres of Europe, he has free access to their establishments and "private views" of their latest productions long before they are seen in public. Under the arrangement just concluded, M. La Fontaine will contribute to THE DELINEATOR exclusively in America.

ANNA BURNHAM WESTERMANN, whose charming drawings have appeared for some time in THE DELINEATOR, illustrating the styles described in the "Fashions in New York," is well known as a creator of figures of living grace, which, without lessening in any way their value as fashion drawings, lifts them far beyond the plane of the usual fashion plate. Mrs. Westermann's women are sweet and womanly and, better than all for your purpose, they know how to wear their dresses. They are always well groomed, and their appearance each month in THE DELINEATOR will surely be welcomed by all of its readers. Hereafter Mrs. Westermann's fashion drawings will appear only in THE DELINEATOR.

BEAUTIFUL FASHION ILLUSTRATIONS IN COLORS

ROMANCES OF SUMMER RESORTS," by Weymer Jay Mills, begins in this number. No series of tales published for some time promises so much of general interest as these charmingly realistic tales. Their delightful telling and the quaint old pictures which accompany them assure enjoyment to every reader.

A TRAVEL SKETCH that is brimful of interest is F. Berkeley Smith's description of "A CORNER IN NORMANDY." It is interesting as a story and gives you more than a passing glance at one of the most curious nooks in the old world.

THE first installment of Albert Bigelow Paine's "THE LUCKY-PIECE," and another of the "SON RILEY RABBIT" tales by Grace MacGowan Cooke, together with the many regular departments, make this issue a remarkable one. "THE PRACTICAL SIDE OF A WEDDING," in the Home Department, discusses fully the problem of bringing the wedding festivities within a reasonable expenditure.

CHICAGO SCORES IN OWNERSHIP BATTLE

Judge Grosscup Refuses Injunction to Traction Company—City Will Use Line as Beginning of Municipal System.

Chicago, May 8.—The city scored a victory in traction litigation to-day, bringing municipal ownership a step nearer. Judge Grosscup of the Federal District Court denied a motion on behalf of the Union Traction Company to enjoin the city from interfering with the use of the so-called Adams street line of the old Chicago Passenger Railway Company.

Judge Grosscup said that he had withheld the decision for some time, believing that it would hinder rather than help negotiations for an agreement between the city and the traction interests; but that as soon as he was officially informed negotiations had been broken he framed his decision.

The court holds that the franchise of the Chicago Passenger Railway Company expired in April, 1904.

With the way cleared by today's decision, it is the intention of the city administration to use the Adams street line as a beginning for a municipal ownership of street railway systems.

SANITARIUM PATIENT KILLS HERSELF

Jonnie Hill, About Whom Little Is Known to the Officials, Puts an End to Spree With a Pistol at Hospital.

After returning from an afternoon walk through the shady grounds and the boulevards in the vicinity, Jennie Hill retired to her private room in the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium yesterday afternoon and sent two revolver bullets crashing through her right temple.

She died a few moments after the receipt of the revolver had alarmed the attendants and patients of the sanitarium.

The woman was taken to the Sanitarium last Friday afternoon suffering from alcoholism. She had been employed as a chambermaid at the home of High Campbell, No. 1508 Locust street, and according to the statements made at the Campbell residence she had been found in her room under the influence of liquor.

She was discharged, but arrangements were made by her late employer to care for her at the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium, where she took her life yesterday.

An ambulance from the institution carried her to the hospital, and she was placed in a comfortable room and received the usual attention. She rested quietly all day Saturday, and Sunday morning said she felt able to leave. She had money, and had her bill, but she returned about supper time and said to Doctor Isaac H. Caldwell, the physician in charge, that she must have either liquor or food. She received food and more medicine, and remained all night.

Yesterday she again went away, shortly before noon. The sanitarium staff was at supper when she came back again.

The physicians and nurses were alerted by the double report of the revolver, and tracing the noise to the room of the Hill woman, rushed in to find her lying across the bed, the shell casing protruding from the floor. A few moments later her heart ceased to beat. It was 6:45 o'clock when she was heard.

BODY AT MORGUE

The police were notified, and the body was taken to the morgue.

Doctor Caldwell said: "We know nothing of the woman except that she was brought to us last Friday afternoon. She was then under the influence of liquor, though able to sit up. We had been called by telephone and informed of the condition of the patient. We took the case and she remained quiet. She seemed to get along all right and seemingly had recovered from the effects of the drinking." It was said at the sanitarium that the woman had procured a bottle of whiskey somewhere in Illinois. She was a supposition that she had taken a part of the contents of the bottle.

At the home of Mr. Campbell it was said that nothing of the personality of the dead woman was known. According to the statements made at the Campbell residence she had no relatives and did not go except to church. As far as was known she had no relatives except a brother who lives somewhere in Illinois. She was 29 years old, and of prepossessing appearance.

Her trunk, which was opened at the sanitarium, was found to contain several dozens of gowns and many articles of wearing apparel.

WIFE IS INJURED; HUSBAND ESCAPES

Mrs. H. C. Pickett of No. 4746 Vernon Avenue Sustains Fractured Skull by Being Knocked Down by Horse.

Mrs. H. C. Pickett of No. 4746 Vernon avenue was run over by a United States Express Company wagon in St. Charles street last evening and sustained a fractured skull. She was removed to St. John's Hospital, where she is recovering.

The accident was caused by the running away of a horse hitched to the wagon, driven by Daniel Regan of No. 250 Stoddard street. Regan tried to stop the horse, but was unable to prevent the accident.

After the horse had run over Mrs. Pickett, just west of Sixth street, it continued west on St. Charles.

After crossing Seventh street the animal tried to pass between two wagons. There was room only for the horse to get through and the wagon became wedged between the heavier vehicles.

The harness broke, letting the horse loose. Regan was pulled off the wagon and fell behind the horse. When Regan fell the horse kicked him on the left side. He sustained severe bruises, but no broken bones.

Pickett, who is a stock broker with office at No. 339 Equitable building, was unable to give a full account of the accident. He said it happened so quickly that he could not realize what took place.

He said he had left his office later than usual and that he and his wife had stopped at a bakery near St. Charles and Sixth streets. They were on the south side and started north across the street.

They had just reached the middle when they heard the rattling of a rapidly approaching wagon. They looked up and in time to see a large black horse almost upon them. Mr. Pickett leaped out of danger. As he was between his wife and the horse, Mr. Pickett thought his wife jumped when he did.

Bystanders said that Mrs. Pickett's horse, which was running on the right side of her head, the side toward the horse, it hit her and she fell under her. She was knocked down and the wagon passed over her. Besides the fractured skull, which was from the top to the base of the skull on the right side, Mrs. Pickett sustained many contusions.

An ambulance from the hospital was taken to the City Dispensary. Then she was removed to St. John's Hospital.

MISSOURI STATESMEN VISIT CITY IN INDIAN TERRITORY.

Senator Warner and Congressman Ellis and Murphy All Declare in Favor of Statehood at Muskogee.

Muskogee, Okla., May 8.—In Muskogee to-night are three men from whom Indian Territory expects a good many things in the legislation during the next session of Congress.

They are Senator Warner and Congressman Ellis and Murphy, all of Missouri.

They came to on the Kansas City special train last night and will stay at the Commercial Club to-night.

Senator Warner says Indian Territory must have a statehood bill introduced that it will be statehood. He does not believe the restrictions on Indian lands will be removed.

Congressman Ellis is of the same opinion on statehood, but believes restrictions should be wiped out in toto, and the Indians placed on an equal footing with the white citizens, and that they should have no more protection and no less.
