TOSSED MONEY TO NEWSBOYS.
Funders of Lost Coins Declined to Keep Them.
REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
New York, Oct. 21.—A nice-looking young man and two girls stood on the corner of Fourteenth street and Broadway at 11 o'clock waiting for a northbound car. Another young man dashed by them after a southbound car, which he boarded. From his pockets slipped three half dollars, two quarters and a dime.
The nice-looking young man and the two girls picked up the money and walked in concert to the lower. There was no answer. They looked at one another in an awkward way.
The money was not recognized and were in trouble. It was evident that they were honest.
They appealed to a policeman, offering him the money. He said he did not belong to the "graft squad," and whispered advice in the ear of the young man.

The girls handed to him their share. He tossed it in the air. There was a scramble among the newsboys. The two girls boarded the first car, and the young man waited until several cars had passed before he continued his journey.
Author Hango Moves to Country.
REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
New York, Oct. 21.—John Kendrick Hango, the author, who for some years has been dividing his time between Yorkers and New York, has become a countryman again. "I have blue-penciled city life," he said recently. "My eye is on a farm in New England, where I hope to be able to provide an appreciable public with limited editions of squabblers, large Payer turkeys and deck-chairs. And, he added slyly, "no item in either class will go out without my signature."

Girl Plunges From Window.
REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
New York, Oct. 21.—Held on a charge of stealing lace from a woman for whom she worked, Bertha Leftwich, 16 years old, leaped from a third-story window of the Gerry Society's building, at No. 26 1/2 Rensselaer street, Brooklyn, and landed on a roof fifteen feet below, sustaining a scalp wound. She was taken to the Brooklyn Hospital.

Yearly Drawn for Baseball.
REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
New York, Oct. 21.—Six-year-old Dominick Dougan's eagerness to catch a baseball that had been thrown to him caused him to tumble into the Harlem River at One Hundred and Fourteenth street. He still clutched the ball when "Nick" Coagere plunged in and rescued him.

Find Robbers' Hoot.
REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
Port Jervis, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Robberies along the Erie, between Deposit and Susquehanna, has been so frequent that Captain W. E. Glass of the Erie pulled off Port Jervis, went to Susquehanna to investigate. He was joined by Chief McWhorter of that place and Detective Fitzgerald of Corning. They visited "Elestial Island," in the Susquehanna River, and found a row of built houses of lumber stolen from the Erie company. It was furnished with bunk and stove, taken from the railroad company.

American Restaurant.
Stark and Olive; now open; popular place.
