

HIS BREAD CAST ON WATERS RETURNS

Gamprel, Sick Hungarian, Who Aided Thousands of His Countrymen, Finds a Friend.

WAS EMIGRANTS' CHAMPION.

Man Whom Gamprel Helped at Ellis Island Years Ago, Learning of His Plight, Will Return Favor.

When Alois Gyauzyany Gamprel, now sick and penniless in the observation ward at the City Hospital, was interpreter for the Hungarian Government at the emigrant station at Ellis Island, New York, he met more than 25,000 Hungarians, to many of whom he lent material assistance, not alone in getting them admission to the United States, but in starting them right, once they got beyond the free borders.

In discussing his sad case with a Republican reporter last Friday Gamprel recalled the assistance that he had rendered to thousands of his countrymen.

"I talked to more than 25,000 of my countrymen during my administration at Ellis Island," he said, "and I am wondering to-day if there is one man out of that 25,000 who would come to my aid, now that I am in a strange city, penniless and in ill health.

Gamprel's story was printed in yesterday's Republic and it was read in St. Louis by a man who remembered distinctly the assistance that Gamprel had rendered him when he came to the emigrant station at Ellis Island five years ago. He had forgotten the name, but could remember it when he saw it in print. In the portrait printed in the Republic he saw the likeness of his first benefactor in the United States.

The man is John Simon, a merchant, and soon before breakfast he had determined to go to the assistance of the unfortunate Gamprel.

He communicated with other members of the Hungarian community yesterday and he will visit Gamprel to-day and offer him any assistance within his power. Gamprel desires to return to New York where he has many good friends, and Simon will see that the necessary transportation is provided.

BEEN KEEN NOT FORGOTTEN.

When Simon came to this country he was afflicted with a disease in the optic nerves which came very near depriving him of a residence in the United States. There was a defect in his right eye, and a defect which ultimately led to permanent blindness in this eye.

Simon, however, explained his case to Gamprel, secured him of his ability to support himself, as well as having ample means to provide against poverty.

Gamprel gave his personal attention to the case, although he had never before seen Simon, and after a hard struggle with the emigration officials finally succeeded in getting the Hungarian passed into this country.

Simon did not hear of Gamprel again until he picked up a copy of the Republic yesterday morning and read of the Hungarian's enforced presence at the observation ward at the City Hospital.

"I owe Gamprel a debt of gratitude," said Simon to the Republic, "and I shall make any sacrifice to help him. He helped me when I was a total stranger to him and when I needed his assistance badly. I would be glad to do anything to take out of the miserable predicament in which my good and noble friend finds himself."

Gamprel feels greatly improved in health since being removed to the hospital. His case is not a serious one, so the hospital authorities say, and he probably will be discharged in the course of a few days.

MASS MEETING FOR RELIEF OF JEWS

Gathering at Shaare Emeth Temple in Response to Appeals for Aid.

MANY PROMINENT SPEAKERS.

Moses Fraley, Chairman of Committee on Permanent Organization Receiving Thousands of Dollars.

The instantaneous response of the Hebrews of St. Louis to the call for assistance for the relief of Jews who are sufferers in the Russian massacres augurs well for the success of the relief meeting to be held at Shaare Emeth Temple, at the corner of Vandeventer avenue and Lindell boulevard, to-day at 2:30 p. m.

Several thousands of dollars were received yesterday by Moses Fraley, chairman of the Committee on Permanent Organization for the relief of Jews, in response to an appeal which was published in the papers yesterday morning. This sum will be largely increased at the meeting to-day.

At to-day's meeting there will be a number of notable speakers, among those expected to address the meeting are the Reverend Doctor Sale, the Reverend Doctor Leon Harrison of Temple Israel; Pastor J. Wade, president of the Mercantile Trust Company; Elias Michael, vice president of the Rice-Six Dry Goods Company; Fred W. Lehmann, the Reverend Samuel J. Nichols of the Second Presbyterian Church; the Reverend Father J. T. Coffey of St. Leo's Catholic Church, and Moses Fraley, chairman of the permanent relief organization.

The meeting to-day is the result of an appeal issued to the citizens of St. Louis in yesterday morning's papers, which was made after the receipt of a telegram from Jacob H. Schiff of New York, treasurer of the National Committee for the relief of sufferers by Russian massacres. The telegram from Mr. Schiff urged that a meeting be called for the purpose of forming a permanent committee to collect immediate funds, stating that the necessity was great, owing to the appalling conditions existing among the Russian Jews.

Following the receipt of the telegram from Mr. Schiff, Mr. Fraley, to whom it was addressed, called a meeting, at the following officers were elected: Moses Fraley, chairman; Julius Lesser, vice chairman; Benjamin Esman, treasurer; Judge M. N. Sale, honorary secretary, and Charles A. Stix, acting secretary.

After quoting the text of the telegram from Mr. Schiff, the appeal in yesterday's papers stated that countless people had been murdered and many brutally mangled and tortured during the recent massacres in Russia. The statement of the signers of the appeal is that the families of perhaps 20,000 Jews are without food or shelter, their homes having been destroyed and livelihood ruined.

Those signing the appeal to St. Louis citizens are: Elias Michael, William Stix, Ben Esman, Joseph Gisser, Morris Gisser, J. J. Wertheimer, M. Bernheimer, Sam Raskow, Doctor H. A. CLEARING SCHEEL MURDER MYSTERY, WHICH POLICE FAILED TO UNRAVEL

Grand Jury Indicts William, Alias "Red," Giebe, and Is After Gang Said to Have Been Implicated in Killing of Law Student in Election Fight—Arrest of Witnesses Friday Night in Connection With Affair—Moody, Who Was Shangaied, Robbed and Beaten, and Sent 200 Miles in a Box Car, Gives Testimony Concerning the Murder.

DETECTIVES INDICTED IN THE KILLIAN ASSAULT CASE.

Among a batch of indictments returned by the Grand Jury yesterday in its particular report to Judge Matt G. Reynolds in Division No. 11 of the Circuit Court was one charging murder in the first degree against William, alias "Red," Giebe, a well-known police character, who is accused of having shot and killed Fred E. Scheel, the young Belleville law student in front of the St. Louis Law School, No. 115 Locust street, Monday, September 13, 1904.

Following the announcement of the finding of a true bill against Giebe, Detectives John J. McCarthy and John Schmidt and Special Officer Al J. Geraghy of the Central District, arrested Giebe at Broadway and Carr street. He was placed in the lockup.

For fourteen months the Scheel murder mystery has remained unsolved. Circuit Attorney Sager, when he took office last January, declared that he would clear the mystery, and he has worked incessantly against the handicap of police laziness.

He struck a hot trail a month ago when he found a witness who knew the name of every man in the gang of disturbers who raided the registration booth at Fourteenth and St. Charles streets on the day of the killing. A batch of subpoenas were issued.

William A. Moody, who was regarded at that time as a most important witness, was subpoenaed to appear before the Grand Jury, and, according to the story, shipped out of the city in a box car by a gang of thugs, who waylaid him on his way home at night, chloroformed and robbed him. He regained consciousness at Marshallfield, Mo., 200 miles from home. He was out of the city the day he was to have testified before the Grand Jury, and his absence was a mystery the police did not clear.

WITNESSES ARRESTED.

In connection with the Scheel murder case it is understood that other indictments will be returned charging perjury and complicity. The name of each man who participated in the riot on the day of the killing is said to be in the hands of the Grand Jury, and his movements in the affair, it is understood, are known.

The investigation by the Grand Jury was kept a secret from the police. The strategy of Circuit Attorney Sager was displayed several times during the investigation, when he requested the police to arrest men who were not at the time under suspicion.

Friday night eight men were arrested, but were released. This, it is understood, was done as a ruse to prevent Giebe from being "tipped off" that he was to be arrested yesterday morning.

Fred E. Scheel was shot and killed while leaving the St. Louis Law School building. A few minutes before the tragedy a band of robbers entered the registration booth in the Eighth Precinct in the Fourth Ward, located at Fourteenth and Locust streets.

ROOSEVELT WOULD PRESERVE NIAGARA

President to Recommend to Congress That Grandeur of the Falls Be Not Sacrificed.

FEDERAL ACTION IS PROBABLE.

If the State of New York Does Not Keep Wonder Inviolable, Then Government Will Take a Hand, Says Executive.

Washington, Nov. 11.—President Roosevelt placed himself on record to-day strongly in favor of the preservation intact of the wonders of Niagara Falls. To visitors who called to urge the President to use his influence through the combined action of the American and Canadian Governments, for the preservation of the Niagara Falls, and to prevent the diversion of their waters to commercial and industrial uses, the President said he regarded it as a great national duty to do all that might be in his power to preserve Niagara Falls, and that in his message to Congress he would recommend action along that line with all the force of which he was capable.

He said he believed that Niagara Falls, the Grand Canyon of Colorado, the big trees of California, and the buffalo should be preserved for posterity.

California, he added, had presented to the nation a grove of the big trees, and if the State of New York could not preserve Niagara Falls, the national Government should step in to keep them as they are now for the American people, one of the great natural wonders of the world.

The President said that if he were to make a public address before the convening of Congress he would take the opportunity to speak in favor of the preservation of Niagara Falls.

She showed a badly battered face as evidence.

Mrs. Huskey declares that she has been married four times. Her family is as mixed up, she says, that she has forgotten her own age. ILLINOIS YEOMEN CHARGE GROSS IRREGULARITIES.

Supreme Secretary and Supreme Treasurer of Order Alleged to Have Received Money in Improper Manner.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Charges are made that Supreme Secretary Charles M. Chastot and Supreme Treasurer Charles E. Corlette of the Yeomen of America, a fraternal insurance organization, went to the organization's building at Aurora, Ill., earlier this week, and stole $10,000 in cash, bonds and securities, and used the money to put into the hands of one of the accused officials.

A bill containing many accusations of irregularity on the part of officers and directors of the organization has been filed in the Circuit Court of Kane County.

Among the additional charges contained in the bill are:

That the two officials sold the land and gravel out of lots owned by the organization and that the accused officials pocketed the money; that the defendants bought property with the order's money, charging the society much more than the defendants paid; that the defendants loaned money for 5 and 6 per cent and only paid 3 per cent for the same to the society.

A total of $22,000 is alleged to have been misappropriated by the officials. The petition for an accounting is made in behalf of the policy holders by J. L. Walker, C. D. Judd and W. B. Shambaugh.

Edgar Bailey Smilingly Departs From Kansas City Prison.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 11.—"There goes the first man I ever saw who was glad to go to the Penitentiary," said a Deputy County Marshal, to-day, as he pointed to Edgar G. Bailey, who was leaving the jail shackled by ankle and wrist to a burglar.

Bailey, smoking a cigar, was all smiles as he shook hands with the jail officials and bade them good-by.
