She was an old resident of this city, her home being for years on Chapel street, corner of Kensington street.

TOWN RAIDED BY BURGLARS

NEARLY EVERY STORE IN NEW HARTFORD'S CENTER.

Drilled a Hole in an Unlocked Safe—A Clerk's Writings—The Burglar's Note in Reply—The Burglars Also Robbed the Almost of a Church.

New Hartford, Jan. 27.—This town was invaded by a gang of bold burglars last night, who broke into nearly every store in the center of the town and ransacked the stores in search of cash. The first place that was entered was the saloon and restaurant of Patrick Meyers. They got into the saloon by breaking a window in the basement and making their way up into the store by the staircase leading from the cellar. The safe was unlocked, but the fact was not discovered until after they had drilled a hole into the lock. There was about $5 in the safe, which Meyers placed in the safe before he closed up the place for the night. After scouring a good lunch of beans and sandwiches the hungry men left Meyers' saloon by the front door and next visited the saloon of James Duddy adjoining. They got into Duddy's by the rear door, which they forced open. They found only a few pennies in the till and this they took with them.

The store of Woodruff & Thompson was next broken into by the burglars. The firm have a big iron gate outside the door, but this was broken down by the burglars, who afterwards smashed the glass in the door and got in. The firm had expected the arrival of the gang in the town since the burglary occurred in Unionville, and before closing up last night one of the clerks removed all the cash from the safe and left a card hanging from the door of the safe which read, "Turn the knob to the right." Nothing was secured from this store by the burglars. This morning when Mr. Thompson, the junior member of the firm, opened the store he found written on the card in a scrawling hand, "You have horse sense." This, it is believed, was written by one of the gang, who took it as a joke. When they failed to get any money in the safe the burglars ransacked the store and took away several boxes of cigars, six razors and some knives.

The general merchandise store of Burdick & Seymour was entered, but nothing was taken from there. They also visited the station of the Philadelphia, Reading and New England road, but the company has no safe in the station, and the only cash which was taken was secured from a nickel-in-the-slot machine in the waiting room. This amounted to about $2.

This morning Rev. Father Fitzsimmons of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church discovered that the alms box which was attached to the sanctuary railing in the church had been broken open and the money, which was placed there by the parishioners for the poor, was taken away. The burglars, it is supposed, got it. The door of the vestry was found open by the sexton of the church early this morning and the burglars probably got into the church through this entrance. The night watchman of the town to-day said that he saw no one in the vicinity where the robberies occurred and claims that he was patrolling that neighborhood between 12 and 2 o'clock this morning.

Miss Burk's Recital.

Miss Mary Dudley Burk is to give the second of her recitals, assisted by talent of this and New York cities, the first part of next month. The program will be printed in a later issue of this paper.

Miss Mary Dudley Burk opens classes in Seymour this week at the home of Mrs. Camp.

Mr. Snow, together with his son Frederick, brother of Charles P. Snow, the confectioner of this city, has three confectionery stores in New York city, all doing a fine business.

The American Flag.

Mr. Augustus Bedford, and not Mrs. Augustus Bedford, will lecture at Warner hall February 7 under the auspices of Washington camp No. 8, P. O. S. of A. The subject is a most interesting one, being "The American Flag; Its History, Origin and Pedigree." The lecture will be illustrated with thirty old flags, beginning with a facsimile of the first flag that ever landed on our shores. As a word picture Mr. Bedford is a master, being clear, forcible, patriotic and eloquent. The lecture, together with the concert by the Second regimental orchestra, should fill Warner hall to the doors.

TWO RUNAWAY GIRLS CAUGHT.

Came From Shelton and Got Lost in New Haven.

Iva Plum, aged seventeen years, and Mary Wilson, fourteen years old, ran away from their homes in Shelton Saturday afternoon and came to this city. Both of the girls are small for their ages. Mr. Plum came to this city Saturday night and left a description of the girls with the police. Last night Officer Owen J. Daley found the girls on Church street, near Crown, and took them to police headquarters, where they were detained and their parents notified. Mr. Plum will come here after the girls this morning.

The girls when arrested denied that they were the ones wanted, but finally broke down and confessed. They claimed that they only came here to spend Sunday and intended to return home this morning. They had $3.15 when arrested. After being locked up the Plum girl fainted, but soon afterward recovered. The girls claimed that they spent Saturday night with a Mrs. Abrams in Fair Haven.

NO TRACE OF THE BODIES.

THE DRAGGING OF THE POND WAS UNSUCCESSFUL.

The Excitement in Thompson—The Accused Man Persists That His Wife and Child Are Alive—A Bullet Found.

Thompson, Jan. 27.—The efforts to recover the bodies of the murdered wife and child of Zezi Storskevjel in the Webster pond to-day proved unsuccessful. This afternoon Captain Hillhouse of the Wilimantic police department and a number of men with him engaged in a search which was ended at 5 o'clock. The pond where the bodies are supposed to be was dragged, but so trace of the missing bodies were found. There were many curious visitors in the town to-day from the adjoining places, and many teams with curiosity seekers arrived in the town during the day from Putnam, and places over the Connecticut line. The town never saw so many visitors here on Sunday in many years before. While Captain Hillhouse and his men were making the search in the pond the crowds of people lined the banks and watched the movements of the searching party. An attempt to get the murderer to tell where he bodies are proved fruitless to-day. Storskevjel, notwithstanding the overwhelming evidence against him, still maintains his innocence and says that he has not murdered his wife and child. He claims that they have gone away, and their whereabouts now are unknown to him. The sister of the murdered woman is in town this morning, but she left soon afterwards for her home in Worcester, Mass. She has in her custody two children of the Storskevjels.

Sheriff Bates this afternoon found a bullet in a corner of the parlor of the Storskevjel house. This is regarded as a most important part of the evidence, the bullet being of the calibre that is used in the pistol that was found in the closet with the other bloody articles a few days ago. Joseph Goshkashi, a brother of the murdered woman, and who lives in Rockville, arrived here to-day. He says that he is confident that his sister was murdered by her husband.

Fire in Allington.

A new house which was in progress of completion on Front avenue in Allington burned to the ground between 4 and 5 o'clock Saturday morning. Workmen have been engaged for several days past in plastering the dwelling, and last Friday night left a fire burning in the house for the purpose of drying the plaster. It is supposed that the fire originated from this stove. The property is owned by an employe of Peck Bros. & Co. in this city and the loss will reach $2,500.

FURTHER DOWN

That will be the continuous order for this week on all goods that must go before Friday, February 1st.

Follow closely the particulars given below and our meaning will become apparent. There is nothing ghost-like or visionary about our Inventory. It simply has to be done.

Reducing stock to a low water level can only be accomplished by reducing prices. Shrewd people take advantage of the fact. Stupid people turn their backs upon the whole thing and say, "Only an advertising dodge."

Four days left in which to make every shopping stroke tell. Will you improve it?

The Sunset Gun sounds and seals the doom of winter prices on Ladies' winter garments. Hear its peal!

ON MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY, JANUARY 28, 29, 30 AND 31, EVERYTHING OF TOP COATS GOES AT $5.00 A GARMENT. TAKE YOUR CHOICE.

On the 10th of this month we announced the largest cash purchase of Cloaks ever made in this city. They were bought at 50 cents on the dollar, from Coon & Co. of New York city, designers and makers of Ladies' Fine Cloaks. This enabled us to sell you $20.00 Cloaks at $10.00, $15.00 Cloaks at $7.50 and $10.00 Cloaks at $5.00. Spirited and persistent buying proved deep appreciation on the part of our customers.

Now, for the four remaining days before inventory, $5.00 takes any garment in the place. Nothing to be salted down and carried over for next winter. Wonderful success has crowned the season's sales. Greater success is to come.

The Cloak Room, Center St. Side.

Leather Gloves for Coachmen for Motor-men, for Milkmen, for all men who rub up against work. Going to sell the balance of them at 50 cents a pair. That's a cut of nearly one half.

A little lot of Men's Castor Gloves, good dark tan shades, all sizes, 50 cents a pair while they're here. Glove Counter.

January, reductions in the Upholstery Department.

Jeppore striped Silks, reduced from 75 to 60 cents a yard. 31 inch Figured Florentine Silks reduced from 49 to 39 cents a yard.

31 inch Figured Silk, best quality, reduced from 50 to 25 cents a yard. 31 inch plain Silks, reduced from 45 to 38 cents a yard.

Maybe twenty or twenty-five 50 cent Head Rests to expel at 10 cents each. Second Floor, Temple St. Side.

Many broken lines of Ladies' and Children's Stockings and Underclothing, make splendid picking. A little patience in looking for sizes, will surely bring some things your way with one-third (it may be one-half) sliced from other day prices. Hosiery and Underwear Counter.

Muslin Underwear. All our 50 cent cambric ruffled and tucked Gowns at 20 cents each. 60 cent Hamburg trimmed Gowns at 50 cents each.

MALLEY-NEELY & CO.

New Haven, Monday, January 28, 1895.

One Antique Centre Table reduced from $5.25 to $3.95.

One Rug Couch reduced from $10.95 to $6.95.

One Antique Oak Hall Stand reduced from $24.95 to $17.95. Furniture, Second and Third Floors.

Who knows how soon snow will fly again? January prices are necessarily much lower than December prices were, upon our various Lap Robes, Horse Blankets, Whips, etc. They're sold where the little priced odds and ends of flannels, bed quilts and table oil cloths are sold.

Flannel Section. Foot of Main Stairway.

If you have been long wedded to a time-honored Dress Pattern, get a divorce and marry the "Standard." Once bought, always bought.

Embroideries

Women grow jubilant and sales grow big with the season's new importation of Embroideries. "Cut-out edges" they will have. Non-cut-out edges we won't have. That fetches the remainder of last season's importation

Down from 10 and 12 c. a yard to 6 c. each. Add the 12 and 15 cent grades, down to 10 c. a yard.

Acknowledgement

We take this opportunity to express sincere thanks to all who helped to make the Prize Doll Show such a success by contributing their pretty Dolls. Also to the Ladies who so kindly acted as Judges of Award. All who contributed Dolls, shall have a Souvenir Photograph of the Show as soon as they are ready.

Unless we're mightily mistaken, Monday will lead a lively trade in Umbrellas. Inventory celebrated by lowering Ladies' all silk Umbrellas from $4.50 to $2.00. Handles horn and natural, plain or mounted. 26 inch, of course. None the worse because they were bought for Christmas, are they?

Linen and Cottons. 1/2 yd Lunch Cloths in all white, red, blue, salmon, and old gold borders will be held down to $1.00 each until Feb. 1st.

Just as great a bargain in the 16 inch Doyleys, checked and plain, at 45c, a dozen or the 18 inch Damask Doyleys, in red, blue, pink and all white borders, at 75 cents a dozen.

See what you think of our 100 dozen, 16 inch Cream Doyleys, red borders, at 60 cents a dozen.

Cottons will be kept down to cost price so as to harmonize with the week's inventory tactics.

Last Edition

We closed a splendid Corset bargain on Saturday. Bought from the receiver of the Yale Corset Company, the balance of their stock. Can't as yet get at complete description. Suffice to say, there are just 33 dozen high grade Corsets. They will be sold out, beginning Monday morning, at 50 cents on the dollar. That's fully up to Inventory rates.

Temple St. side.

Long Enough

Suppose a remnant of silk or woolen is long enough to make into a skirt, or waist or girl's dress! Suppose you need one or all of these articles! Suppose we deduct 20 per cent. from the regular selling-price simply because they are remnants! Would you buy? Certainly, if you knew it. This notifies you that we are doing that very thing with good goods every day.
