

NEW FACTS ABOUT THE ROBBERY.

The Tin Box Found in West Haven—The Schemes of the Thieves.

The tin box which contained the money stolen from the postoffice last Saturday was found in the town hall at West Haven yesterday. Word was sent to this city and Postoffice Inspector O'Brien, who came to the city yesterday morning, went down to see if he could get any other clue in West Haven.

Three men were seen to enter the town hall on Saturday, and it is claimed that a good description of them can be given by those who saw them. It is thought that the men took a train for New York at West Haven. Deputy Collector Kennedy says that on Wednesday a man above medium height, clean shaven, and answering the description given of one of the robbers, called at the internal revenue office and asked some questions about whether congress had passed a law providing that stamps should be placed on checks. It is thought that the thieves wanted to make a big haul and looked over all the departments to find the most advantageous point to carry out their plans.

The boy Fleming is not blamed for not telling of the robbery, as he supposed that when Miss Lyon went back to her desk after talking with the stranger, she would speak of it if there was any money gone, and as she did not seem to notice anything the boy concluded that the man was a person who was employed in the office.

It yet remains to be seen whether Postmaster Beach will have to make good the loss, as there is a certain amount of money appropriated each year to reimburse government officials in such losses as this, where there is no carelessness. It all rests with the assistant district attorney, upon whose recommendation such reimbursements are made.

DESTITUTION IN THE NORTHWEST.

What Dr. Foster of Boston Says—The Distress in Some Quarters Still Very Great. Boston, Mass., March 3, 1895.

Will you kindly give me space to say to the people of New Haven that there is still great destitution in certain parts of the northwest. I am in constant communication with the missionaries of the American Sunday School union, of whom there are about seventy in the outlying districts of the northwest and twenty in Kansas, Arkansas and southward. The need in some quarters has been monstrously relieved, but in others it is still very great and the suffering is pitiable. The following extracts of letters just received at my office speak for themselves:—

Neligh, Neb., Feb. 25, 1895. Rev. Addison P. Foster, D. D., Secretary for New England, Boston, Mass.

Dear Brother—Your letter of the 18th is received. Enclosed find receipt for $50. May God bless the donors. "The state of destitution grows alarmingly worse as the days pass on. There is not ten days of provisions in the hands of my people in ten counties tonight. The state commission on relief write to issue carefully. That state aid is playing out. My impression is that the darkest hour is ahead. I see it in our weeks. I am holding all the money I can in reserve until that hour comes. And it is coming, sure. All those that consider the matter see it. I have read of famines in the distance, but want to see no more. May God help us. O, my dear brother, I am so thankful to you and the good people of New England for your noble and generous gifts. God bless you all. I have just returned home from isolated communities and find some wretched cases of destitution. I start six more wagon loads of clothing and provisions Wednesday, the 27th. I shall canvass the field. Great crowds come to my house daily for both food and clothing, here at home. I issued one day last week thirty barrels of clothing, and only gave a limited number of articles to a family at that. I could give out to limited and needy ones every cent of money and stitch of clothing on hand in six days, but will not. Ever Your Brother in Christ, C. H. FRADY, Missionary American Sunday School Union.

Neligh, Neb., Feb. 25, 1895. Enclosed you will please find Brother Brown's letter to me from Alford, Boyd county.

I sent three loads of clothing over the Niobrara river on the ice into Boyd county (forty barrels), and some provisions. Put the same in the hands of Mr. Heidelberg—What do you pay for insurance on your store? Mr. Rosengarten—I ain't carrying any insurance. I don't need it yet. Mr. Heidelberg—But suppose the blaze burns up? Mr. Rosengarten (impatiently)—Why, how can I burn up when there ain't no insurance?—Life.

Brother Brown, the assistant sent out from Neligh. You see the purport of his letter as to the need, and we shall find it much worse as we go west through Boyd county, then up into Gregory county, South Dakota, then south-west into Kearney county, Nebraska. No one but God knows the condition of those poor, half-starved and nearly naked people. I start six wagon loads to-morrow from O'Neill north into Boyd county. My clothing is nearly gone and the half of the people have not been reached. I have furnished 1,000 families with clothing. I have tried hard to get away from Nebraska, but people come as far as sixty miles to get clothing and are so needy that I cannot refuse them. I know if the people of the east, who have helped me so bountifully, only knew the facts, I should have 100 barrels more of clothing inside of ten days. I am going on and shall do the best I can. I am hardly able to move on account of my grippe, but must go to-morrow to O'Neill and start the loads north. Then on Thursday go to Albia, Boone county, and unload a car of corn; then go to Greeley county, etc. You see I have not a minute of time to rest in God bless you. C. H. FRADY, Missionary American Sunday School Union.

Alford, Boyd County, Neb., Feb. 25, 1895. C. H. Frady.

Dear Brother—I received your note yesterday. I shall leave here for Mr. Gray's in the morning early with two loads (nineteen barrels). I have supplied sixty of the most needy families. I have ever met in my life. There is terrible suffering here, and will be more. G. C. BROWN.

I have already sent out $1,500.00 in money and about 225 barrels of clothing to our missionaries to distribute among the destitute. This has come in from all parts of New England, notably from eastern Massachusetts, Worcester, Springfield and Hartford. Will not New Haven help in the good work? I shall gladly receive and forward promptly any sum that may be sent to me for the relief of the suffering. Yours respectfully, ADDISON P. FOSTER, Secretary for New England of the American Sunday School Union, No. 1 Beacon Street, Room 40, Boston, Mass.

Mr. Heidelberg—What do you pay for insurance on your store? Mr. Rosengarten—I ain't carrying any insurance. I don't need it yet. Mr. Heidelberg—But suppose the blaze burns up? Mr. Rosengarten (impatiently)—Why, how can I burn up when there ain't no insurance?—Life.

The committee of arrangements appointed by the guarantors to arrange for the Ysaie-Seld concert regret to have to announce that on account of the illness of Ysaie, coupled with that of Mr. Seld, who is suffering with the grip, the Ysaie-Seld concert will not take place Wednesday evening, March 6. A further announcement will be made later.

The news of Ysaie's illness was received over the long distance telephone late last night from one of the committee who went to New York to perfect the arrangements. The character of Ysaie's illness is not known, but his managers have cancelled his engagements in Brooklyn, New Haven and elsewhere.

WATER IN THE MINE.

An Injunction Dissolved to Allow the Pump to be Started.

Bristol, March 4.—The engine and pump of the Bristol Silver and Copper Mining company, which had been stopped by an injunction granted against the company Saturday, were started this morning. Attorneys Holcomb and Pierce, for the company, made an application for them to be started, as their shutting down made a great loss to the company. In the short time they were idle several feet of water rose in the mine. The injunction was granted to John Granfield, and is for $40 for services rendered. The present owner of the mine is President Cutting of Pittsfield, Mass.

SPORTING MATTERS.

A Large Cocking Main at Windsor Locks—Hartford and Waterbury Birds—Hartford Won Ten Out of Eleven Battles.

Windsor Locks special to the Hartford Courant: "There was a large cocking main held here early Sunday morning between Hartford and Waterbury birds. The arrangements were made to have it come off across the river, but it came out in an evening paper, which broke up the program, and a new place was chosen late at night and it was held west of the village. It is reported that eleven battles were fought, Hartford birds winning ten. There was a large crowd in attendance. "Busses and carriages were run carrying the crowd to the barn in which the main was held. "It was daylight before the crowd returned to the village, and the visitors that did not come by team went home on the 8:12 a. m. train. The waiting room at the station was filled with the crowd. Considerable money changed hands. The arrangements for entertaining the crowd were complete, but the sudden change of the location did not allow of refreshments being served except in a liquid form, and these came high. One man who had a quart bottle full sold it for $3. One dollar admission was charged and the carriage drivers charged high for carrying the crowd. Had the local authorities shown a little activity they could easily have stopped the sport."

CATARRH AND COLDS.

The month of March, accompanied by raw and chilly weather, is one of the most trying during the year. Shaking off the yoke of Winter and forcing Spring upon us, it causes changes in the atmosphere of which we cannot be careful enough. Despite all precautions many of us are taken un-awares and must rid ourselves of the so-called ordinary cold before the same settles on our lungs and causes bronchial troubles.
