MALLEY-NEELY

New Haven, Monday, April 8, 1895.

The weather to-day—Likely to be fair.

TELEPHONE No. 331.

Nature has thrown off her winter coil and is putting on the garments of spring. Why shouldn't we? We have. Why shouldn't you? You will.

Here are new plans, new realizations, in hats, bonnets, capes, waists, silks, etc. This is Easter Shopping Week. What a week it will be!

Going to join the merry crowds that will frequent the Big Store?

Easter Capes

If we "go by the book," (last week's book of sales) it's easy enough to predict what an enviable Easter-week Cape record we'll make.

But let last week be last week. To meet demands upon us for Capes, Waists, Suits, etc., diligent attention shall be turned to this week.

Capes for the masses or the classes. Capes whose varied patterns, artistic trimmings and sweet styles, have already transformed the Cloak Room into a charmed circle for feminine hearts.

Low prices are the rage, and you don't have to take a flimsy garment to get a flat price. Trash at no price.

Easter Waists

As to Waists, the figure here given, pretty accurately expresses style and fit, front view.

But opinion is rapidly exalted, as one's eye meets the Waists themselves, with material of pronounced but modest beauty.

Along with Hats, Bonnets, Capes, etc., will go the Easter Parasols which a brighter shining "Sol" makes necessary. And there's scarcely a possibility of not finding one that will go nicely with your outfit.

Easter Millinery

A reorganized and greatly improved Millinery Department. What of it? We want All New Haven to know it. Hence the fact must take emphatic, material form. Here's the form.

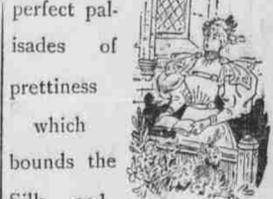

30 Ladies will have a chance to get their Easter Hats at half price. Who'll they be? 30 Hats in latest and best shapes, freshest ideas of trimming, materials first class, will be sold at—$4.98 each. Under usual conditions they'd cost from $8.00 to $10.00.

Displayed and sold from a special table in the Millinery Parlors. Also displayed in the main Entrance Show Case. Ought to make a marked Millinery impression, don't you think? New Store, South Center.

Silk Selling

Have your eyes met the perfect palisades of prettiness which bounds the Silk and Dress Goods Aisle?

Among many Silks receive this season nothing seems more tempting than several hundred yards of black Brocade Taffetas. Half the lot (34 inch) are marked 60c. a yard. The other half (selected) 60c. a yard.

Lots and lots of spritely, springy silks at 75c. a yard. Many at $1.00. Few at more than a dollar. Women don't want to pay more. Hence we've taken $1.25 and have marked $1.00 upon them.

Easter Gloves

The extreme of fashion is a 4-button Glace Kid with large mother-of-pearl buttons, in white, cream, pearl and straw color with black embroidery.

For Easter Week we offer 1200 pairs of finest French Kid Gloves—"Jouvin" cut, gusseted fingers, shades of mode, drab, tan, brown, green, slate and English red, with contrasting stitching or stitching to match the gloves. We said "Jouvin" cut. That has a great sight to do with proper fit and reasonable wear.

To sum up this offering and give it spice we say—$1.50 Gloves at 98c. a pair. Prove it. To be well gloved, is to be well dressed.

For the men we urge a close scrutiny of the "Monogram" Glove at $1.00 a pair.

Easter Shoes
