ENTERTAINMENTS.

Hyperion. Lovers of true vaudeville will be glad to learn that Tony Pastor and his great double company of American and European vaudeville stars are to pay a visit to New Haven, appearing at the Hyperion to-morrow evening. All the artists that are of European fame were specially engaged by Mr. Pastor and imported expressly for this organization, and these being added to the American company, makes the greatest vaudeville show on earth, and forming a circle of stars of the most brilliant luster. Tony Pastor, who is a host in himself, will appear and give his latest comic ditties, which the public seem never to tire of hearing, and applaud to the echo time and time again, showing that this king of vaudevilles still retains his mighty sway with the public. The company includes Sisters Beltry, Sells and Young, Lyra Dreams, Bon Bon and Arturo, Slaters Sisters, Haines and Pettigill, Polle Holmes, the Highleys, and M. and M'lie. Travelle.

Grand Opera House. Robert Gaylor as "Sport McAllister," opened a three nights' engagement to a good sized audience at the Grand last evening. Up to date songs with first class specialties have been added since its last appearance here, making the performance more enjoyable than ever. The comedy is kept running continually, and horse play is not indulged in to make the audience laugh.

Mr. Gaylor, as usual, was excellent and portrayed the jaunty Irishman to the satisfaction of all. As Dennis McClinty, his rival, Mr. Ryan was commendable, and the comedy scenes between McAllister and himself were all that could be desired. The insurance agent was well portrayed by Mr. Kelly, who kept things going at a lively rate. The Misses Simpson and Heckler in their songs were good, and well deserved the applause which they received.

Gilbert and Gollie in their farcical tips made a hit. Their songs and jokes were up to date and succeeded in bringing rounds of applause. The musical numbers were all well rendered, making the performance a very enjoyable one. Performances this and to-morrow evenings with a matinee to-morrow afternoon.

"A Run on the Bank," a highly successful farce comedy, will be presented Thursday, Friday, Saturday evenings, by John Ward and Harry Vokes. It deals with the adventures of two men of "large experience and nerve," known as Lord Percy Soakup and Baron Harold DaCarter. They secure the credentials of two genuine lords by accident, and proceed to find wealthy daughters-in-law. They come across the suburban home of a wealthy banker with two marriageable daughters, to whom they offer their "titles," which is quickly accepted. The old gentleman starts his prospective sons-in-law in the banking business. Then the fun begins. The way Percy and Harold's bank is managed is shown in the second act, which concludes with a "run." The depositors are paid off in counterfeit currency. "A Run on the Bank" matinee Saturday.

Poll's Wonderland Theater. There was great curiosity to see Don Juan Calcedo in his marvelous exhibition on the elack wire in this city, with the result that the Wonderland was crowded to the doors yesterday afternoon and last evening. It was indeed a wonderful performance on the wire, as all agree. Calcedo does the most marvelously sensational feats on the wire. The performance is most interesting to the spectator because of its sensational features, and one never tires of watching the performer somersault and do his other wonderful tricks on the tiny wire. The distinctly vaudeville portion of the program is full of interest also. The mind reading exhibition which the Salamboes give is especially attractive, and so is the conversational comedy which Thorne and Chetson present. Miss Stuart and Mr. Gillen do some spirited scientific boxing, and there are a number of other entertaining specialties. The whole performance is interesting, amusing and entertaining to a high degree.

MASONIC HOME.

Trustees Met and Examined Applications For Admission—Contract Awarded Yesterday to a New Haven Firm. Wallingford, April 22.—The trustees of the Masonic Charity Foundation met at the new Masonic home in Wallingford at 11 o'clock Saturday morning for the purpose of inspecting the quarters preparatory to the opening, which will take place about May 1.

The trustees also passed upon the applications made for admission to the home. There are twenty-five applicants admitted, however, as it is thought that some of the applicants have other means of support and that others are not residents of the state.

A New Haven firm, the Bowditch Furniture company, was to-day awarded the contract for equipping the home with all its furniture. There are forty-six rooms to be furnished and the contract is therefore one of considerable size, and the contract price is $3,500.
