The Connecticut Banner anniversary will be held in United Church chapel instead of in United Church, as at first arranged.

Mrs. Rosanna Neely, mother of William Neely, is very low at her home, 46 Park street, and her death is momentarily expected. She is seventy-seven years of age. Her illness is due to general debility on account of old age.

Prof. Daniel C. Eaton, who holds the Yale university chair in botany, is critically ill at his home in this city with a cancerous difficulty. Drs. Bacon and J. P. C. Foster are attending him. The disease made its appearance a number of months ago, and has made steady progress, despite all efforts. Some time ago the aid of noted specialists of New York were called in, but to no avail.

Earthquake Shook Lathach.

Vienna, April 22.—A violent earthquake, accompanied with thunder, shook Lathach this afternoon. Eight or ten buildings collapsed, and the few families who had returned to their homes fled back to the fields.

Board of Public Works.

The board of public works held a special meeting last evening but could not agree on a successor to the late Superintendent of Streets Patrick Doyle. They voted to sprinkle the streets in the center of the city. No appointments of street inspectors were made, and the matter was laid over for another special meeting to be held this week.

MOODY HAD PRAYED FOR RAIN.

Flour Storm Injured Many People in Fort Worth, Texas.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 22.—A storm accompanied by torrents of rain burst over this city last night while Evangelist Moody was holding services in the Tabernacle before an audience of 10,000 people. The immense congregation had just joined in singing a hymn when the crackling noise was heard, then the roof sank and the rafters gave way and the heavy timbers and boards, covered with tar and gravel, came down on a portion of the congregation.

There was an immediate panic. Scores of women fainted; men lost their reason and piled pell-mell over those near them. Mr. Moody grasped the situation. Walking to the middle of the platform he lifted both hands to heaven, moving his arms slowly to and fro. This attitude stopped the panic and men began to work to rescue those in danger. The wounded were soon taken out and carried to their homes or to houses nearby.

The following were the more seriously injured: J. Y. Graham, fatally injured; William Parsley, left leg crushed, back injured, seriously hurt; Mr. Imary Murphy, cut on head and left arm; Miss Scarsion, cut on face and right arm; Miss Lulu Baly, cut on head; J. W. Manchester, cut on shoulder and left arm; Mrs. M. Logan, cut on shoulders. Forty others were slightly hurt.

Mr. Moody at previous services had fervently prayed for rain for Fort Worth and the other drought stricken portions of Texas and had just returned thanks after announcing that word had been received from several points stating that rain had fallen when the storm reached Fort Worth.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. John H. Benham.

In the death of Mrs. John H. Benham, which occurred yesterday morning at about 7 o'clock, a tender, devoted and beloved mother has passed away to the better land. She was a lady of high character, whose virtues were many and with whom the call of suffering and affliction ever found quick and ready response. Her hand and purse were ever open to the needy and the distressed and she was a true and devoted friend. She was a sincere Christian and was next to the oldest member of the Church of the Redeemer, having been a member when this society worshipped on Chapel street in the old Chapel street church of years ago. She was a member there as far back as the time when the late Rev. Joseph P. Thompson, who became famous in Congregationalism, was its pastor. She was the wife of the late John H. Benham, who founded and for many years conducted the New Haven City Directory and who was a much esteemed and prominent citizen and is still well remembered here. He was for a long time a vice president of the Young Men's Institute and in the latter years of his life resided on the former Benham property in Whitneyville, bordering on Whitney Lake. Mrs. Benham, who has now followed him to that bourne whence no traveler returns, was a daughter of the late James Winslip, who was a prominent and much esteemed New Haven citizen. She leaves one brother, Leonard Winslip, a New Haven business man, and five children to deeply mourn her loss. The children are James W. Benham of Chicago, Charles C. Benham, the well known artist, now of New York city, John A. Benham and William A. Benham of Monrovia, Cal., near Los Angeles, widow of the late Charles E. Beecher, who was a son of our well known townsman, Mr. E. C. Beecher. Mrs. Beecher is detained at Monrovia, owing to the illness of her children. The funeral of Mrs. Benham will take place tomorrow afternoon from Mrs. Vail's residence, 183 Wooster street, where deceased had resided for many years past. Her last illness first developed in the latter part of last January and from that time she was confined to her bed until the end came. She died of congestion of the brain and for a week or more prior to her death was in an unconscious state. Her age was seventy-seven years.

ISBELL WILL CONTEST.

Evidence in Defense of the Will Introduced.

The hearing on the contested will of Mary L. Isbell, which has been in progress for some time, came up yesterday morning in the probate court yesterday morning. The evidence on the side of the contestant, George A. Isbell, was finished at the last hearing and at the resumption yesterday evidence in support of the will was introduced. The will under contest gave to Bridget Ross, a servant, Dr. C. W. Fitch of Bridgeport, Mrs. Mary Clough of Bridgeport, and William Hendricks of New York the major portion of an estate amounting to $20,000, the contestant, George A. Isbell, husband of the testatrix, receiving but a third. The will was made four days before the testatrix died. She had been ill for a year with a cancer and was attended by Dr. Fitch of Bridgeport, and in order to be near him took up her residence at the house of Mrs. Clough in Bridgeport, where she died. In view of the disposition made of her property and in view of the fact that the testatrix had made a prior will, giving all her property to her husband, Mr. Isbell brought the present contest, setting up the ground of mental incapacity, due to the use of morphine to deaden the pain of her ailment, and incidentally undue influence. Frederick M. Ward, who resides in University Place and is a clerk for John T. Sloan, was the first witness called. He said he had known Mrs. Isbell for about eight years. In July or August, 1894, she met him and had a conversation relative to her business affairs. In January, 1894, the deeds were executed transferring land on Grand avenue to Bridget T. Ross for her faithfulness as a servant, the deeds to take effect after Mrs. Isbell's death. Witness stated that Mrs. Isbell had desired to give some of her property to Dr. Fitch of Bridgeport and Mrs. Clough for what they had done for her. She didn't want to give any of her property more than she could help to her husband on account of her feelings with regard to him. The witness stated that the will before the court was the will he had drawn. At the time Mrs. Isbell had the conversation with him in reference to the will, she was mentally in good condition and talked understandingly of all matters. Louise W. Plumm of Shelton was called yesterday afternoon and she testified that she knew Mrs. Isbell and the latter had called upon her twice. She testified to Mrs. Isbell's soundness of mind. On cross examination it came out that the witness believed in spiritualism and that she had written communications with the other world to Mrs. Isbell.

Commercial Concessions Not Exclusive.

London, April 22.—A dispatch from Tokio to the Central News says that in view of the various European misstatements and misrepresentations in regard to the China-Japanese treaty of peace, the government affirms that the commercial concessions obtained by Japan were not exclusive, but extends to all treaty powers. Japan secured these privileges for the general good of all countries and therefore expects her efforts to meet with friendly appreciation.
