LOCAL NEWS.

Brief Mention. High water to-day at 12:00 m. Buy a new house—R. E. Baldwin.

A musical and literary concert and drama will be given by the Ladies' Aid society of St. Luke's church at Loomis' academy this evening.

The regular meeting of the Connecticut probate assembly will be held at the capitol, room 72, on Wednesday, May 8, at 10:30 a. m.

Cards were received in this city yesterday announcing the marriage of Miss Angie Clark Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Campbell of Milford, and Attorney Arden LeGrand Judd of Stratford.

Last evening at about 11:30 o'clock the large water main on Olive street burst near the railroad crossing and before the flow could be stopped the water had torn up the street and knocked down the fence for some distance.

The case of John W. Leete, administrator of the estate of Ursula L. Webster, against Edward Bristol of New Haven, is on trial in the superior court at Hartford. The suit is in regard to a team sold by Frank Leete, a nephew of Mrs. Webster.

The third annual tournament of the Yale Interscholastic Tennis association will be held on the courts of the New Haven lawn club on Saturday, May 4, 1895. The winner of the tournament will be allowed to enter the national interscholastic tournament held at Newport during the week of the all comers' tournament.

John J. Lawler of Westville was arrested by Officer Philip Lautenbach of that place yesterday afternoon and brought to police headquarters, charged with general breach of the peace. He treated his father roughly and the neighbors complained to Patrolman Lautenbach. Late last evening Lawler was released on bonds.

The congregation of St. Michael's R. C. church (Italian) has divided into two factions over the question of who shall be pastor. Part of the people want their former pastor, Rev. Mr. Allusa, restored to them as pastor, while the bishop favors the retention of the present pastor, Rev. Mr. Betherini, who was appointed when Father Allusa left for Italy a year ago.

At the formal opening of the Yale law school building to-night the members of the Yale corporation, the faculty of all the departments, the donors to the building fund, and the New Haven county bar will be present. Informal addresses will be made and some fine music rendered. To prevent misunderstanding we are requested to state that ladies are not expected to be present at the law school reception this evening.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Rylance, rector of St. Mark's church, New York, and Miss Ellen M. Coe of Winsted were united in marriage in Winsted yesterday afternoon by Rev. Richard Cobden, assistant rector of St. Mark's. The groom was born in 1828 and is a widower. He has one grandchild. The bride is about thirty years younger than the groom and for fifteen years has been head librarian of the free library in New York. At one time she lived in Hartford.

USED TILING FOR PLUMBING.

City Attorney Fox to Bring Suit for Violation of City Ordinance.

Jeremiah W. Atwater is the object of a vigorous campaign by the board of health on the charge of violating one of the city's ordinance. The rule in question requires that the plumbing of every residence is to be of nothing but lead pipe throughout the building and to a distance of ten feet from it to the sidewalk. Mr. Atwater has in his dwelling house used tiling for his plumbing and, it is alleged, has introduced plumbing of the same material into other residences and buildings he has constructed. The board of health has instructed City Attorney Fox to bring suit against Mr. Atwater. Mr. Atwater says the plumbing is just as good as that required by the city ordinance. The city will make a test case of it and if successful it will require the plumbing in many residences to be changed to comply with the city ordinance.

THE OLD BURYING GROUND

IN NORTH HAVEN, "THE NORTH PARISH" OF NEW HAVEN.

An Interesting Record Giving a Literal Copy of the Inscriptions in That Ancient Place of Sepulture.

By Sheldon B. Thorpe.

The location of the "burying ground" of the North parish of New Haven—North Haven—was determined by a vote of the newly formed Ecclesiastical society of that little community, December 5, 1730. At that meeting they recorded the following action:

"Agreed on by ye society that ye place for burying shall be northeast from the meeting, and as near ye foot of ye hill, and as far from ye meeting house as may be conveniently."

The choice made at that time was ratified no doubt by early burials, although no tombstone bears date prior to 1733. The published record is a literal copy of the inscriptions to be found to-day in that ancient place of sepulture. Many of these inscriptions are rapidly becoming illegible, some have already disappeared, and it is to preserve what remains that this publication is undertaken. Readers are cautioned that this account falls far short of a complete census of the dead during the one hundred and fifty years use of this cemetery. There are less than six hundred and fifty memorials standing, and yet according to a list kept by Dr. Trumbull between 1760 and 1800, a period of thirty-nine years, 476 persons died in North Haven. After 1800 the mortality became still greater, and although interments were made in the Muddy River burying ground and in the new cemetery after 1841, it is beyond questioning that from 800 to 1,000 passed into that silent enclosure who never had a stone to record their virtues or even bear their name.

Thy word commands our flesh to dust Return ye souls of men; All nations rose from earth at first And turn to earth again.

Public Indignation. (Commented.)

It does not seem possible that the officers of the Calvary Baptist church can be aware of the public indignation felt and expressed toward their action in transferring the tramping ground of tramps from Crown to Chapel street, and in the face of this go on with their project. Beyond all question their field of operation on Crown street during the time it has been there has been the greatest eyecore, and the most unqualified nuisance to pedestrians and property owners New Haven has ever had. Chapel street with its fine business blocks will in a few years extend to Olive street. Now to have this public nuisance permanently ingrafted into this great business thoroughfare is an outrage upon propriety and decency. Manifestly the place for such an institution is in Morocco or Oak street, or in the neighborhood of its own element. But if by any sophistry of argument it is claimed that to reclaim the tramp element they must be transplanted into new and better surroundings, the system of reasoning certainly should influence the officials who have this matter in charge to secure the lot east of the church, as the public have already expressed, and establish their tramp house there where the whole work of reformation and redemption can be more completely and easily carried on. Certainly it is a question when such a glaring nuisance as this is thrust into the greatest thoroughfare of the city to be a repulse to all passersby, whether it is entitled to the charitable consideration of the PUBLIC.

FAIR HAVEN.

A pleasing entertainment was given in the Grand avenue Baptist church Wednesday evening, and the participants were enthusiastically received. Miss Anna Way was heard in piano solo, Miss Ada Gage and H.H. Nettleton in vocal solos, flute solo by E. G. Worcester, Mrs. L. C. Goodrich in recitations, banjo solo by William Bishop and the Misses Sage and Gage in a piano duet. Mrs. Ida Waters, Mrs. L. C. Goodrich, Mrs. C. French, Miss Hattie Hitchcock, Miss Nora Sage, C. C. Knowles and Master Stanley Carl interpreted the dialogue, "In Want of a Servant," in an entertaining manner. Ice cream and cake were served after the entertainment, and a sale of home made candies, fancy and useful articles was held and quite a neat sum was netted to the Ladies' Aid society, under whose auspices the entertainment was held. The entertainment committee consisted of Mrs. E. B. Warren, Mrs. Samuel Bishop, 2d, and Mrs. H. M. Gage, and the fancy work committee consisted of Mrs. David Hanesparker, Mrs. John W. Hill and Mrs. Bell Jacques.

John J. Kelly and Miss Alice Graham, youngest daughter of William Graham of 171 Saltonstall Avenue, were married Wednesday in St. Francis' church. Miss Nellie Hyrnes was bridesmaid. Father Mulholland's gift to the bride was a silver tea service.

Rev. E. C. Sage of the Grand avenue Baptist church was expected home from Norma, Ill., this week, but Mrs. Sage has received news that his mother's whose illness called him west, is much worse and his stay will be protracted in consequence.

Are You Ever Annoyed by a buzzing or roaring sound in your head? Have you difficulty in hearing distinctly? Are you troubled with a continual dropping of mucous, irritating the throat and causing you to cough? Is your breath unpleasantly affected and accompanied with bad taste? Is your hearing less acute? If so, you have catarrh and should at once procure a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm, the best known remedy. The Balm will give instant relief. a26 3t editw

MALLEY-NEELY Malley-Neely & Co. New Haven, Friday, April 26, 1895. The weather to-day—Likely to be fair. TELEPHONE No. 33.

A MONTH AHEAD

Cold weather and Spring Capes and Jackets have n't pulled together worth a cent. They've gone splendidly, (considering,) but we haven't sold half what we should have sold up to date. Garments right. Prices right. People r i g h t. WEATHER WRONG. Can't change the weather, so we'll change prices. Spring a month behind brings our MARK DOWN SALE a month ahead. We know that you'll buy a spring Cape or a Jacket when spring weather peels off your Winter C l o a k. That'll be pretty quick. May is near and May will slam the door shut in the face of winter.

Suppose that, now, you can buy the Cape or Jacket that suits you, for as little money as you'd pay a month hence! 'Twould be the part of wisdom to buy and get the present month's seasonable use of the garment, wouldn't it? Well, then, you are ready for our proposition. Ladies' high class and medium Capes and Jackets in the very pink of fashion. Goods about which nothing is lacking, but everything is complete from the smallest stitch to the swellest style, these are taken and divided into four lots and marked down as follows.

Ladies' Silk, Cloth and Velvet Capes and Jackets that were marked regularly $18.75 to $25.00, NOW marked to straight $15.00. Capes and Jackets that were marked regularly $10.00 to $15.00, NOW marked straight $8.98. Capes and Jackets that were marked regularly $6.00 to $8.75, NOW marked straight $5.00. Capes that were marked regularly, $3.98, NOW marked straight $2.25.

This ADVANCE MARK-DOWN SALE begins Friday morning. These four lots of Capes and Jackets will be so divided and arranged in the Cloak Room as to make selections very easy.

You want your pretty baby to look prettier than the prettiest. We'll help you.

MALLEY-NEELY Malley-Neely & Co. Friday will be Baby Day. White and colored Dresses 6 mo. to 3 year sizes, as good as they are pretty, go on Bargain Table No. 2, at 50 and 75c. each.

There'll be a Newspaper in Chapel St. window No. 3, which you'll want to see.

Through Mr. Andrews of "Ye Olde Book Shoppe" on Temple St., we show a "Journal and Courier" dated April 26th, 1865. That's the year the war closed, 30 years ago. There's advertising in the paper which will interest you. See it.

Silver Shopping

Lots of it around our Silverware Counter since the sale began. The plain unvarnished statement of comparative facts and figures does the business. People are glad to get at the relative meaning and value of "Rogers" to different brands of Silverware. Yes, the "Silver Sale" sells.

100 dozen (more or less) of Women's and Children's Hosiery put on the Bargain Table No. 1 for Friday. Wouldn't be there if they weren't cheap. Would be cheap at 12 1/2c. a pair if they weren't what they are—good Stainless Black Hose.
