

THE STEAM LAUNDRY OF TO-DAY.

Progress in the Industry—Ingenious Machinery—An Interesting Description by a Fellow Townsman.

The institution of the steam laundry was about thirty (30) years ago, and yet it is one of the important industries of to-day, employing, as it does, about seventy thousand hands, and paying out every week for pay roll alone about $500,000.

The average business man of to-day, if asked about the laundry business, would probably answer that an old woman and a wash tub constituted all that he knew about it. Yet it is a fact that the laundry business is a very large industry, and has grown up upon a solid business basis, and that is the real want of mankind. This fact alone shows that it has come to stay. It is an old and tried saying that "cleanliness is next to Godliness," and there is much truth in the saying. We speak of cleanliness as being "cleanly clean." One very large laundry in the city of Philadelphia has conspicuously displayed a large sign reading "We will wash everything clean but your character." Steam and machinery have been the two great factors in the development of the modern laundry. It would no doubt be of interest to anyone to inspect a well appointed "up to date laundry." First comes the business of collecting the goods. In all well conducted laundries, the goods are carefully looked after. The drivers have call cards or books upon which they check off on the route, and calling back for those not received upon the first day's call. Next comes the examining room, where each bundle must be quickly and carefully marked and examined. Then graded or separated into table linen, bed linen and personal linen. Also silks, flannels and colored work must be separated and washed carefully. Now to the wash room in which are huge revolving cylinders, inside of which the goods are placed. The cylinders are contained inside an outside cylinder, into which the soap and water are placed. These cylinders revolve three times in one direction, and then automatically reverse and revolve in the opposite direction. This hydraulic washing process is continued from top to bottom, fresh water being let in and the dirty water drawn off from time to time. After well rinsing and bleaching the goods emerge from the cylinders as white as snow. What is usually termed wringing at home laundries is called "extracting" in the steam laundry. I cannot speak too highly of this machine, the "Extractor." The principal upon which it works is one of nature's great laws. Everything rapidly revolving tends to move from the center to the circumference. The clothes that are to be wrung or freed from water, or as it is termed in the "steam laundry" extracted, are placed in a large copper receptacle, somewhat resembling a bushel basket, and basket being so arranged upon a single steel shaft that when the power is applied this basket revolves 1,500 times a minute. The clothes therein contained are forced from the center by the centrifugal force only, and not saturated with moisture it is lifted away and fresh heated air takes its place. This constant heating of air, bringing fresh heated air in contact with the goods constantly, produces those beautiful white goods so much admired by the public, and so impossible to obtain by work done at home. After all these processes come the dampening and ironing, each of which is performed by machines made expressly for this work only, and which here let me say that in nothing are the public so much in error as in regard to ironing. Most people think that all the damage done to the collar is done in the ironing, but such is not the case. The injury to collars is almost entirely caused by the manner of turning them after the ironing. They are all first ironed out flat, then shaped to conform to the style the manufacturer made them to. Now right here is the trouble, and all the trouble. The goods being now stiff to turn them cracks the edges, and after a few turns the goods are ruined. For a long while this has been a stumbling block in all the laundries, but thanks to the ingenuity of man, it is now as easy to turn a collar without the slightest danger of breaking as it is to iron them out flat.

CONNECTICUT BIBLE SOCIETY.

Eighty-seventh Annual Meeting Held Yesterday in Hartford.

The eighty-seventh annual meeting of the Connecticut Bible Society was held in Memorial Hall, Hartford, yesterday. Rev. Joseph Anderson, D. D., of Waterbury, called the meeting to order. Rev. Watson L. Phillips of New Haven offered prayer. The secretary, Rev. William H. Gilbert of New Haven, read the report of the executive committee.

From this it appeared that the society has prosecuted its evangelistic labors during the last year in twelve towns, reaching every home, viz, in Branford, Darien, East Windsor, Griswold, Hamden, Lisbon, Naugatuck, New Canaan, Roxbury, Sprague and Wallingford.

The work has been attended with beneficent results. Many have been brought into Christian life. Sunday schools and Sabbath assemblies have been enlarged. Several new mission Sunday schools and Christian Endeavor societies have been organized and other religious services instituted. The cash contributions of the society's treasury have exceeded those of the previous year.

The following persons were chosen corporate members of the society, viz: Hon. O. Vincent Coffin of Middletown, P. L. Hungertford of New Britain, A. L. Pierce of Suffield, F. D. Glazier of South Glastonbury, Rev. D. Stuart Dodge of Simsbury, D. W. Williams of Glastonbury and Rev. G. F. Gemming of Suffield.

A president of the society, four vice presidents and an executive committee of fifteen were chosen for the ensuing year as follows:

President—Rev. Joseph Anderson, D. D., of Waterbury.

Vice presidents—Rev. J. W. Beadin of Hartford, L. D. Warner, esq., of Naugatuck, Rev. S. D. Phelps, D. D., of New Haven, Hon. David N. Camp of New Britain.

Executive committee—Rev. Joseph Anderson, D. D., David N. Camp, Rodney Dennis, James H. Williams, Rev. George Leon Wallace, D. D., Rev. James W. Beadin, Rev. David E. Jones, Rev. William A. Moore, A. R. Pierce, Rev. H. H. Kelsey, Rev. Charles M. Lawson, D. D., F. D. Glazier, William H. Tallcott, John W. Lamb, Rev. T. M. Hodgden.

The secretary, treasurer, auditor, finance committee and committee on publication are to be chosen by the executive committee.

SEARCHING FOR THE BODIES.

Captain Hillhouse in East Thompson Again—The Trial.

Williamantic, May 6.—Captain Hillhouse has been making a search for the supposed murdered mother and son at East Thompson during the past week. This time, however, the party has been working in the night on the ponds in that vicinity with a search light, which enables one to see the bottom of the ponds. The box west of the house is being drawn off and men with high rubber boots are able to get around in some parts of it. Storszewski remains in Brooklyn jail and his appearance is that of utter indifference. He was seated on his cot mending clothing, apparently the most satisfied with his lot of any prisoner in the jail. State's Attorney Hunter will not present him in court at the criminal term in this city Tuesday unless the bodies are found, but he has no intention of permitting the man's release until all hope of finding the bodies is gone. Even then it is not probable that he will be tried for manslaughter, as Dr. Wolff believes that blood enough has been found, if it is all human, to establish a "corpus delicti."

ARE STILL AT WORK.

Connecticut's Burglars Work Right Along Without Interruption.

Higganum, May 6.—The burglars' gang made another attempt on the local postoffice and store yesterday morning. About 4 o'clock the night watchman at the Cutaway Harrow company's works nearby heard a terrific explosion and hurried to the store. He saw there had been mischief and notified Postmaster R. B. Clark. He found the safe wrecked and the windows shattered. There was only twenty-four cents in the safe and this had been left, the burglars evidently being alarmed by the force of the explosion.

Mr. Clark, after hearing of Mr. Davis' experience at Durham, had determined to put the combination on the safe which was locked in a conspicuous place, but he forgot it, Saturday night. There is no clue. The watchman heard a team go by just before the explosion. Mr. Clark had just had his safe repaired after the damage done to it when it was blown by burglars, last August. At that time the burglar got eighty-four cents.

R. Emory Spencer's store, in the same building, was also entered, but nothing was taken. The tools were obtained at Emil Modsch's blacksmith shop.

YALE UNIVERSITY NOTES.

THE FIRST DEATH IN '95 OCCURRED SUNDAY NIGHT.

Medical School Commencement—Wayland Prize Debate—Phi Beta Kappa Lecture—Yale Class Book to be Soon Published—Yale-Lafayette Game—Spring Regatta.

Burton Arthur White of the Yale Junior class, who has been ill with typhoid pneumonia at Yale infirmary for about three weeks, died at about 11:30 Sunday night. It was thought up to Sunday morning that he would recover, but during the day he became much worse, steadily sinking until the end. A meeting of his classmates was held at Dwight Hall at 9:30 yesterday morning, at which it was voted that badges of mourning be worn by the members of '95 for thirty days. A. S. Davis, Howard Twombly and T. G. Tennant were selected as a committee to draw up suitable resolutions. The deceased was about twenty-two years of age and was very popular in his class. His is the first death which has occurred in '95. Mr. White's home was in Brockport, N. Y. The remains were taken to New York yesterday afternoon.

The committee selected for that purpose last night submitted resolutions expressing the sorrow of the faculty, calling the many good qualities of the deceased, and the esteem in which he was held by his classmates.

An address will be delivered to the students of the university in Osborn Hall this evening under the auspices of the Phi Beta Kappa society by Professor Edward J. Phelps. His subject will be "Debatings."

The '95 class book will come out about June 1 and is expected to be the best and most interesting class book ever published. The binding will be in dark blue, and handsomely stamped in gilt on the front. The book will contain half-tone photographs of each member of the class, and of the various class organizations. The frontispiece will be a view of Vanderbilt Hall.

The commencement exercises of the medical school will be held in Battell Chapel Tuesday, June 25. Dr. T. M. Prudden '72 S., professor of pathology in Columbia college, will deliver the address. The following prizes will be announced by the faculty at the same time: The degree of M. D. cum laude; the Campbell gold medal; the Keese prize, the income of a fund amounting to $140 annually to the members of the graduating class presenting the best thesis; and the obstetrical prize, consisting of a set of obstetrical instruments to that member of the class who passes the best examination in obstetrics.

A meeting of the Colorado club was held in 199 Old Chapel last evening and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: J. M. Bass '96, president; J. H. Porter '97 S., treasurer; and W. Wilson '97, secretary. It was voted to hold a smoker some time before college closes.

The debate for the Dean Wayland prize will be held in Osborn Hall Thursday evening, May 16. There will be nine speakers. The judges will be C. P. Clark, president of the Consolidated Board; Professor H. Harwood Faxon of Rochester university; and James H. Webb, a member of the New Haven county bar.

The Varsity nine will play Lafayette at the field this afternoon. The makeup of the Yale team will be as follows: Trudeau p., Greenway c., Rustin ss., Keator rf., Redington cf., Stevenson lb., J. Quinby 2b., Fincke 3b., S. Quinby II.

The annual spring regatta will be held at Lake Whitney to-morrow afternoon. The class crews have all been working there for some time, and the freshmen crew seems to be in especially good form, with a good chance of winning.

AMERICAN SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF.

Annual Meeting of the Directors on Saturday.

The directors of the American School at Hartford for the Deaf, formerly known as the American asylum, held their annual meeting, Saturday, at the office of the president, the Hon. Francis B. Cooley, who presided. The various official reports were read and accepted—some for one year and some for two years. The biennial report comes out this year.

Dr. F. T. Simons, the physician of the school, reported that the past two years had been marked by a condition of excellent health among the pupils. The very few deaths that had occurred had been from appendicitis, consumption and similar troubles. There had not been in two years one case of any of the contagious diseases, like diphtheria, scarlet fever or typhoid fever, that require the giving of a notice to the health authorities. This fact demonstrates the healthfulness of the buildings.

Principal Job Williams reviewed the work of the school and the various changes in the force of teachers. The pupils now number 118, being an increase of thirteen in two years.

The report made Saturday to the board will be presented this week Saturday at the annual meeting of the corporation, when the directors and officers will be elected for the ensuing year. This school receives pay from the state for pupils. Here a report is regularly published and the accounts are carefully audited by a committee chosen by the directors. Governors of other states visit here frequently and the pupils from those states are called upon to present to them. Everything at the Hartford school is open and above board and the more the work there is looked into by outsiders the better the management is suited.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK A TRAIN.

An Express on the New England Hit an Obstruction Near Waterbury.

Waterbury, May 6.—An attempt was made last night to wreck the west-bound United States express train on the New England road, which arrives here at 11:35 in the out east of Terryville.

A heavy railroad tie was placed on the rails and braced with stout pieces of timber.

The train was at such a high speed that the obstruction was thrown out of position. The pilot of the engine was badly wrenched.

The spot where the tie was placed across the track is a dangerous one, being on a curve and near a fifty-foot embankment. The train was heavily loaded.

FUNERAL OF A. M. DRUMMOND.

Services in the West Haven Congregational Church Yesterday.

The funeral services of Arthur Malcolm Drummond, Yale '94 S., son of Professor and Mrs. A. M. Drummond of West Haven, took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Congregational church, Rev. J. E. Twitchell and Rev. N. J. Squires officiating.

A quartet composed of George Leete Peck '95 L. S., Ernest B. Folsom '95 L. S., James Walker, Jr., '94 S., and Louis McCullum rendered several Christian Endeavor songs.

The floral contributions occupied a considerable part of the pulpit platform. On the left was a broken column surmounted by a cluster of blue violets, from members of the Congregational Sunday school. On the right stood a large cluster of Easter lilies from the Christian Endeavor society. A pillow of lilies of the valley surrounding the word "Samsel" in blue immortelles occupied the altar table. This was from the members of the Samsel Banjo club. The casket not being in church, the numerous casket bouquets were strewn on the pulpit stand and tables. One of these was a cluster of twenty-one white roses from the parents of the deceased.

The remarks by Dr. Twitchell showed the high esteem and respect in which the young man, who had but a few months ago united with the Dwight Place church, was held. Rev. Mr. Squires spoke of his connections with the church organizations in West Haven, with particular reference to the young men's class, in which he was an acknowledged leader.

The interment was in Oak Grove cemetery. The pallbearers were Richard C. Drummond, C. Winfred Kelly of Auburn, N. Y., W. Howard Alling, Roger W. Tuttle, Yale '95, Walter O. Filley and George H. Seward '95 S., and the flower-bearers were James Walker, Jr., '94 S., H. Allen Mix '94 S., Ernest B. Folsom '95 L. S., Frederick C. Kendrick, George E. Butler, George K. Hyde, Frank D. Miles and William I. Bradley.

The Samsel Banjo club were also present.

The deceased was a young man of rare culture and general education, full of spirit and life, yet never lacking in those qualities which make up the perfect gentleman. At Yale he studied electrical engineering and at the beginning of the present year secured an appointment with the General Electric company in Schenectady, but fell a victim to typhoid fever, which has been prevalent in that city. He will be sadly missed by a large circle of friends.

PROSPECT STREET SEWER.

Residents Object—Injunction Proceedings Hinted At.

The order passed last year by the court of common council providing for a sewer to be constructed by the city through Prospect street from Sachem street to Hillside Place, is now being set aside by the city. The project is objected to by residents of the upper end of Prospect street. Many of these have already private sewer connections. Those opposing the sewer argue that the expense on the city will be enormous, as much of the sewer will have to go through solid rock, which must be blasted out.

The contract was awarded to C. W. Blakeslee & Sons last week for about $7,000, with an additional sum per yard for all solid rock, and work was begun yesterday morning. Professor Ladd yesterday complained to the town agent and called attention to the ordinance forbidding blasting within the city limits without permission. It is probable that injunction proceedings will be brought by the residents of upper Prospect street to prohibit further work on the sewer.

HAT FACTORY BURNED.

Early Morning Blaze in Danbury Does $5,000 Damages.

Danbury, May 6.—An alarm of fire was rung in this morning at 4:30 for a blaze in Burns' hat factory, located in a small lane between Main and Grand streets. When the fire department arrived on the scene they found the flames issuing from the windows and the fire had secured a good headway.

The building was a three-story frame one and burned rapidly. Before the flames had been extinguished the whole interior of the building had been burned out, leaving only the four walls standing. The loss is about $5,000, partially insured. The origin of the blaze is unknown and the fire department officials are making an investigation.

SCROFULA 12 YEARS.

Always Sore. Face Burned Like Fire. Anahmed to be Seen. Four Doctors but Little Benefit. Cured by CUTICURA.

For about ten or twelve years I have been troubled with scrofula. My face was always sore, my face was dry and scaly, and burned like fire most of the time. My eyes were sore and I had a great deal of trouble and I did not know what to do. I went to four different doctors and they all helped me a little at first. In the fall I got worse again; then I tried CUTICURA and it cured me. I was a great deal better and I was able to go to public. I was a great deal better and I was able to go to public. I was a great deal better and I was able to go to public.

HOME BANK ATTACKED.

Trustee to Compel the Reevocance of Converse Property.

Meriden, May 6.—Matters connected with the settling of the insolvent estate of J. H. Converse and Aden J. Converse will be further complicated by the move of Trustee C. L. Upham. Through his counsel, George A. Fay, Esq., Saturday afternoon, had a writ of attachment served on the Home Bank and its president, A. Chamberlain, the papers being served by Deputy Sheriff Downs.

The object of the attachment is to compel the bank to reconvert to C. L. Upham, as trustee of the estate of J. H. Converse, all the real estate on Pratt street conveyed to the bank by Mr. Converse, for the benefit of the estate. The property is valued at about $12,000. The writ is returnable on the first Tuesday of June.

Financial.

Speculation Characterized by Strength Through the Day.

New York, May 6.—Speculation at the stock exchange was characterized by strength almost through the entire day. The only weak spots to the market were the anthracite coalers and Chicago Gas. The first named ruled strong until late in the session, when Reading ran off from 17 1/2 to 16 1/2. Jersey Central from 9 1/2 to 9 1/4, Delaware and Hudson from 12 3/4 to 12 1/2, and Lackawanna from 16 1/2 to 16 1/4. Lackawanna subsequently recovered to 16 1/2. Reading's weakness was due to reports that the Erie-Oleott contingent had parted with its stock. The old rumor that the big New York companies were seeking the control of Reading failed to check the declining tendency of the shares. Chicago Gas held well until the last hour, when the price broke a point to 7 3/4. Western firms were prominent buyers of the stock during the early trading, the veto of the Frontage not having materialized.

The general market ruled strong, and the leading issues, except those just referred to, were all in demand. London bought liberally of its favorites and dealers report a steady absorption of bonds for European account. It is announced that Baring Brothers have purchased $500,000 Minneapolis and Great Western five per cents from the Great Northern Railway company. The shipments of securities to Europe this week, according to present indications, will be very heavy. The sterling exchange market is better than the market for the heavy drawings against those purchases and to-day the market was positively half cent and posted rates were reduced one-half cent to $4.88 and $4.90 1/2.

In addition to the weakness of the sterling exchange the market for stocks was benefited by the copious rains in the spring wheat region. This led to good buying of the granaries, and these issues scored material gains. It is understood that the earnings of the granaries are improving and that the April statements will be far better than generally expected. In the industrial American Sugar was the special card. The stock touched 115 and closed within a fraction of this figure. The rise was due to the further advance in refined. It is stated that the big refineries are not anxious for orders on current figures and are inclined to hold off for higher prices. Distilling and Cattle Feeding rose to 114 1/2, the best in years. In the inactive issues Canadian Pacific rose 3/4 to 89, Nickel Plate first preferred 4 to 69, Oregon Navigation 6 to 23, Consolidated Gas 2 to 142, Chicago and Eastern Illinois preferred 1 1/2 to 97 1/2, Flint and Pere Marquette preferred 4 to 40, Louisville, New Albany and Chicago preferred 5 to 23, Mexican Central 3 1/2 to 18, and Minneapolis and St. Louis preferred 2 1/2 to 55. Speculation closed strong in tone. Net changes show advances of 3/4 to 1 1/2 per cent. Reading and New Jersey Central, however, lost 3/4 to 1 1/2 per cent.

Railway mortgages were in brisk demand. The sales were $2,855,000.
