

STATE SENATE REPROVED.

FIGUROUS WORDS BY REV. J. H. MASON.

At this First Baptist Church yesterday—The Senate and its Action Regarding Pool Selling at Horse Races—The Frightful Increase of Gambling.

At the First Baptist church last evening a fine service of Christian praise was rendered and Rev. John H. Mason spoke upon "Connecticut's Latest Infamy," substantially as follows:

Once more the Christian sentiment of Connecticut must hang its head in shame. It seems that there are depths of degradation which we have not yet reached. But unless all signs fail, we shall speedily find them. The Connecticut senate has shown us that behind a smiling face it carries a black heart. When the present legislature was elected there were throughout the state loud shouts of victory and high hopes of reform. The victory has been utilized by the politicians and the petitioners for reform will be granted leave to withdraw.

Once more the senate of Connecticut has degraded the name of a once noble state. While our sister commonwealths far and near are moving on toward higher ideals Connecticut is wallowing in the mire. The revelations of the past few days must convince the world that the descent to Avernus is especially easy in the city of Hartford. Surely the days are long past when the magnificent building in which the present villainy is being consummated could be built within the limits of an appropriation and with a handsome surplus to be turned back into the treasury.

I presume I need hardly tell you what is the matter; but lest some one remain in ignorance, let me enlighten you. The senate has just passed an amendment to the pool bill by which towns are authorizing to legalize pool selling at the race tracks for twelve days in each year. Our only remaining hope is that we may find in the house of representatives some shred of moral sentiment such as we have missed in the senate.

Let us see what the amendment is and what it means. In one word, it is the verdict of the state that gambling shall be encouraged. This means not simply that we shall let gambling go on without much protest and with very infrequent disturbance, but it means that the gambling shall be legalized; or in other words that the state shall protect the gambler in his infamous business. There are thinking men who do not hesitate to say that there is no evil of our time, even the saloon or the brothel, so deadly as this. Mr. Beecher said: "We have in gambling a crime—dark, malignant, uncompounded wickedness. It seems in its full growth a monster without a tender mercy."

The frightful increase in gambling in this country is most ominous. But it is a bold state that dares to step forward and place the seal of its approval upon the vice in one of its most fascinating and most destructive forms. Henceforth if the amended bill becomes law the youth of Connecticut are to be legally, publicly, systematically, scientifically and infernally debauched for twelve days in every year. Beyond the twelve days gambling must go on under cover as at the present time. The Connecticut senate aims to establish gambling centers throughout the state. Heretofore these centers have been mostly confined to the larger cities where the vicious classes most generally affected by strabismus. Hereafter we are to have public gambling centers in every town in the state which select. And if the town fails to take action, the selectmen may decide for the town. Can you conceive of anything which would promise (what you may say, guarantee), a more speedy and more thorough-going degradation than this. When the legislature is for sale what hope of incorruptibility in a selectman? Even the bill to legalize pool selling, of which this is an amendment, would be preferable because then at least we should have the advantage of uniformity of criminal law throughout the state, an advantage by no means small. Let us see what the passage of the proposed amendment will mean.

1. It will commit us as a state in the eyes of the world, to an endorsement and an approval of one of the most subtle and one of the most vicious forms of sin by which the weakness of man is assailed.

2. It will mean that gambling in the state of Connecticut is, under certain conditions, to be removed from the catalogue of crime.

3. It will mean that other vices which are still counted crimes must tremendously increase in Connecticut within the next few years. There is no vice which so undermines business integrity as gambling. In the appalling confessions which have been made during the past few months by men who had been trusted in responsible positions, but who had fallen, there is a sad monotony. In almost every case the worm which had eaten out the heart of integrity was the vice of gambling. The growth of crime is already most alarming. Between 1880 and 1890 our population increased less than 20 per cent, and the number of commitments for crime 40 per cent. What blackness of darkness may we not expect in the record which is now being written for the last decade of the nineteenth century?

4. When it is remembered that our state has stood well up at the front as regards industry, intelligence, literary and scientific achievement, invention and patriotism, it seems unspcakably deplorable that Connecticut men should dare to blot out the glory of the past, thrusting us forward to pre-eminence in shame. I wish our senators were voting on this amendment might we stroked out into the corridors of the capitol and gazed upon the smoke-stained, tattered flags under which brave men fought and died. Possibly a vision might have stirred their flesh and the quicker breathing might have fanned into flame the embers of a living patriotism. I do not know.

It means that members of the Connecticut legislature are bought like cats in the shambles. I suppose my sam of the battle flags in the corridors is vain for the lobby is close at hand and "the tinkling of the guinea" the marble pavement would have an likely to correct the impressions a reviving patriotism. Sometimes there is doubt as to the genuineness of a legislative bill. There can be no possible doubt here. No argument for public legalized gambling throughout the state of Connecticut is conceivable except the argument of gold. And it would take a good deal of gold, too, to convince the Connecticut senate that it could afford to defy and to outrage the best public sentiment of the state. But the gamblers make money easily and abundantly. No investments are likely to pay them better than investments in the legislature. Prohibitory laws are always hazardous and permissive laws are always safe.

Upon further thought why should it be deemed surprising that the Connecticut senate should favor gambling throughout the state when it is a gambling institution itself? This would be a rather sweeping charge were it possible to conceive one single motive other than the motive of avarice (or of selfish political ambition, which is not far from the same thing) to account for this infamous legislation.

To-night I am trying to arouse you as Christian citizens to make your power felt at the sources of our political and social life. Because Christian men have not done this, their representatives are selling the honor and the chastity of the state. Christian sentiment in hermetically sealed packages will never liberate the citizenship of Connecticut.

And it may be well to remind ourselves just now that we are reaping precisely what we have sown. We have noted the gradual advance of ungodliness all about us, and we have not repented it. Society to-day tolerates customs which twenty years ago would not have been thought of. Encroachments upon the sanctity of the Sabbath, corrupting literature upon the newsstands, unchastity in the play and nudity upon the stage—these are all symptoms of the swift progress of a disease which is eating out the vitals of our Christian principle. The statesman who introduced the amendment said that there were two elements in society; one of these had urged him to the action which he had taken and the other had not objected. Don't you think it is time for us to object?

Christian men and women, do you think we shall do any better to-morrow than we did yesterday and are doing to-day? Have we any convictions, and if so, do we dare to express them? Shall we quietly fold our hands and sigh "Oh dear!" and allow our representatives to go on misrepresenting us? Shall we admit that Senator Ingalls is right, that the purification of politics is an iridescent dream, and that the Decalogue and the Golden Rule have no place in a political campaign?

It is time for Christian men to be men and to demand a semblance of manhood at least in our legislators. "God give us men! A time like this demands strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands; Men whom the lust of office does not kill; Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy; Men who possess opinion and a will; Men who have honor; men who will not lie; Men who can stand before a demand; And damn his treacherous flatteries without winking; Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog; In public duty and in private thinking; While for the rabble with their thumb-worn creeds, Their large professions and their little deeds, Mingling in selfish strife, lo! Freedom Wrong rules the land, and waiting justice sleeps."

Signed by the Governor, Governor Coffin has already approved of over 270 private acts and resolutions passed by the general assembly, and has also approved of nearly 200 public acts including amendments to the present general statutes.

YALE CORINTHIAN YACHT CLUB. Nymph won the Challenge Cup for the Best Time Over the Course. The second annual regatta of the Yale Corinthian Yacht club took place Saturday. The course was a triangular one from Morris Cove, the headquarters of the Yale Yacht club, to Charles Island and return to the Cove, a distance of twelve miles. The time made was slow because there was no breeze to speak of. Every boat was sailed by a college man.

The result of the races was as follows: Forty-foot class, won by the Choctaw, owned by Thomas Arnold of the Atlantic Yacht club. The Nymph, owned by H. W. Harris, Yale '95, commodore of the Corinthian club, was a close second, finishing thirty seconds behind the Choctaw, and making the course in three hours and thirty-eight minutes, the best time ever made over this course by a yacht sailed by a Yale man. The Nymph thus wins the Two-Hundred-Dollar Challenge cup. The Awa, owned by De Witt Cochran, Yale '96, was third in this class.

In the thirty-five-foot class the Noroba, owned by Vice Commodore W. W. Hoyt, Yale '96 S., went aground off Savin Rock and lost an hour's time. The Drusilla, owned by Colonel Tyler of New London, carried away the jaws of her gaff during the early part of the race. In the mixed class the Trust Me, 45-foot, owned by C. M. Clark '94 S., was won by 3 minutes and 20 seconds from the Bingo, twenty-two-footer, owned by J. M. Goetehus, Yale '96 S., which was 6 minutes and 2 seconds in advance of the lone, a twenty-footer owned by George Eaton, Yale '94.

In the mixed class the Trust Me, 45-foot, owned by C. M. Clark '94 S., was won by 3 minutes and 20 seconds from the Bingo, twenty-two-footer, owned by J. M. Goetehus, Yale '96 S., which was 6 minutes and 2 seconds in advance of the lone, a twenty-footer owned by George Eaton, Yale '94.

In the mixed class the Trust Me, 45-foot, owned by C. M. Clark '94 S., was won by 3 minutes and 20 seconds from the Bingo, twenty-two-footer, owned by J. M. Goetehus, Yale '96 S., which was 6 minutes and 2 seconds in advance of the lone, a twenty-footer owned by George Eaton, Yale '94.

CLINTONVILLE.

June 2.—W. H. Hall, secretary of the Connecticut Sunday School association, and Rev. A. H. Simons of Montowese have recently conducted the Sunday afternoon services at the chapel. Until further notice the services will be held Sunday evening at 7:45. Rev. J. H. James, secretary of the Connecticut Temperance union, will give an illustrated address next Sunday. This address is praised wherever given, and merits a large audience.

Our Christian Endeavor society stood third at the recent competition for a banner at the New Haven union meeting recently held at the College street church, seventeen of the twenty-two members being present.

The ladies are to provide short-cake, strawberries and cream, ice cream, etc., at the chapel Wednesday evening, June 5, and will bountifully supply all, who are cordially invited to be present. The proceeds are to be applied to paying the necessary expenses of the chapel. It is reported that Miss Lucy C. Plumley and Charles Barbour of Hartford were married May 22 by Rev. Mr. Scofield of Grace M. E. church, New Haven. Their many friends wish them all the blessings incident to their new life. As Mr. Barbour has a position with Howe & Stetson they will reside in New Haven.

Bicycling seems to have taken a large hold on our young people, as a firm number of wheels are owned and used here. Among the most proficient are Miss Gertrude Clinton and Mr. Stephen Vibbert. Mr. Vibbert during one of the recent oppressively warm days rode from the green at New Haven to his home here, eight miles, much of the way over poop roads, in thirty-five minutes—good time for an amateur. Our hamlet is honored by the appointment of Mr. D. Lawrence Clinton as deputy sheriff.

Israel Putnam Lodge, A. O. U. W., will give another card and checker social at their hall on Friday night, June 7, when the contest for the checker prize will be decided. A committee is also making arrangements for the annual excursion of the lodge, which will take place August 15 by the John H. Starn to Glen Island.

Twelfth Regiment Monument. Hartford, June 2.—The state monument to be erected by the Twelfth Connecticut, in the National cemetery at Winchester, Va., will be of the finest Barre granite. The design was made by Stephen Maslen of this city, who also designed the monument erected by the Fifteenth Connecticut at Newbern, N.C., last fall. The corps badge to be cut on the monument is of the Nineteenth army corps. On the opposite side will be the state coat of arms, under which will be cut in the granite the inscription, "Connecticut's Tribute to her Fallen Heroes." The dates of muster in and out of the regiment will be engraved on one side of the monument, and on the opposite side will be the list of battles in which the Twelfth participated. Mr. Maslen has bestowed a great deal of attention on this work, the design being one of the most appropriate that has been adopted by the regiments.

Victim of the Severe Heat. Bristol, June 2.—Patrick Kinney, employed by C. D. Kinney & Sons, mason contractors of New Haven, was suddenly seized with cramps while at work at the foundry plant Friday afternoon. He started to walk down town, and when near Edward Merriman's drug store fell to the sidewalk. He was carried into the drug store, and Dr. Brennan sent for. The man was in a pitiful condition, his fingers were clenched and the muscles of his arms and legs rigid. He had been in town only two days, and as he had no boarding place Selectman Strong ordered him removed to the town farm. Later he was reported improved.

NEW LONDON'S BIG EVENT. Potomac Society Arrangements Going Well. New London, June 2.—At a meeting of a board of trade committee for arranging the affairs connected with the visit of the Society of the Army of the Potomac, held Friday evening, it was evident that all the sub-committees had put in great work and laid out a plan for doing the work systematically and well. The only thing lacking is money and that, it is confidently hoped, will be forthcoming, as New London has never been otherwise so liberal on all such occasions. It is a work that concerns the reputation of the city, and all should contribute according to their means and not be afraid because the sum may be small.

THE HOT WAVE. The hot wave continued yesterday and everybody seemed to be chiefly concerned in trying to keep cool. It was another sultry day in all respects. Thousands sought to get cool by riding to the various shore resorts accessible by the electric cars, many of the bicyclists were out also despite the heat, and there were many out taking carriage drives to the shore. The church services were nevertheless quite well attended despite the excessive heat.

Friday, Saturday and yesterday were among the warmest days at the dates on record in this part of the world. The thermometer ranged between 90 and 100 degrees in nearly all parts of the state. In New York city the heat was terrible and in that city and Brooklyn cases of sunstroke were numerous. Last evening Chapel street was thronged with promenaders trying to keep cool and taking a little fresh air. The cars to and from Savin Rock were laden with people.

Harvard's Crew Goes to New London. Boston, June 2.—The Harvard Varsity and freshmen crews left yesterday for New London, followed by a long "H-a-r-v-a-r-d's" given by the enthusiastic crowd of students who had assembled to see them off. There was no sign of lack of confidence in their crew shown by the students; in fact, the general feeling seemed to be one of confidence. The crew went to the Park Square station, Boston, in barges, where they took a private car for New London. The shells have already gone down, and the men will get their first taste of work to-night in rowing up to their quarters.
