

HOW COLIMA WAS WRECKED

STORIES TOLD BY THE SURVIVORS OF THE FEARFUL AFFAIR.

One of the Passengers Says That There Was Absolutely No Discipline on Board the Vessel and That Everything Was in a State of Confusion...

San Francisco, June 6.—Steamer San Juan arrived this afternoon from Panama and way ports with the following survivors of the wrecked Pacific Mail steamer Colima:

Third Mate Hansen, R. A. Villas, a carpenter, A. Richardson, T. Fish, members of the crew; H. A. Sutherland, C. H. Cushing, Jr., J. M. Thornton, H. H. Boyd, George Rowan, Bruno Cenda, Joseph Manusi, G. D. Ross, Louis Santiagones, T. J. Oriol, Juan A. Romo.

The following survivors were landed at Mazatlan: Thomas Zaralad, D. Olivias, A. Gutierrez, Carlos Luitz.

As soon as the marine observer reported the ship two miles out the water front became the scene of considerable excitement. The Pacific Mail dock was besieged by a crowd that blocked the streets.

Just prior to the arrival of the reporters, however, the Pacific Mail company's tug came alongside the San Juan and took off Third Mate Hansen, who more than anybody could throw light on the cause of the wreck.

"We left Mazatlan May 26, at 4 p. m., with a fair breeze blowing. Toward 9 o'clock the wind increased and continued blowing pretty fresh all night.

"The Colima labored heavily and it was evident that we were in a serious predicament. The greatest excitement prevailed aboard. Just at that moment a fatal blunder was committed by the ship's officers, who cut the lashings of a deckload consisting of 32,000 feet of lumber.

"Shortly before this, however, a succession of huge waves had punched a hole in our starboard bow, through which the sea poured. Women screamed and rushed up the companionway, imploring the men to save them.

"I firmly believe that but for the shifting sea we would have run the Colima in the water some time, clinging to one object or other when finally managed to get hold of a good sized piece of lumber deck upon which I climbed.

"We were the closest run by any of the survivors and were picked up by the first officer's boat of the San Juan after being twenty-three hours in the water."

Ross was severely cut about the head floating wreckage and had numerous scratches about the body.

T. J. Oriol, an electrician on his way to Mexico, gave about the same version of the commencement of the storm. He said the Colima during the height of the storm listed so badly after gusts of waves that she did not recover.

"I started to go on deck, but the ship rolled so badly that I could scarcely keep my way up. At this time the third officer cut the lashings that bound lumber deckload. I made for a rail, intending to cut it loose, but could not do so.

The ship was on her beam ends and the decks bulged out and were finally tilted. I then jumped into the water, box and all, and was washed about in one float to another.

BRILLIANTLY PRESENTED.

FOOT GUARDS' ENTERTAINMENT SCORES A FINE SUCCESS.

Historical Living Pictures—Miss Francis' Reciting—Miss Ross' Dancing—The Musical Numbers—The Pictures Pertaining to the History of the Foot Guard—Colonel Grant's Family to Arrive To-day.

The entertainment by the Second company Governor's Foot Guard opened at the Hyperion last evening before a very large audience under the most auspicious circumstances.

Mr. Cushing had a brother, eighteen years old, aboard. Mr. Cushing was terribly out on the head by floating lumber, besides being bruised about the head and body.

"There was absolutely no discipline, no organization of any kind. Everything was a panic. The captain stood on the bridge. Women screamed and children cried, clinging in desperation to their parents.

Mr. Arthur D. Perkins, "The Entertainer," then appeared in some of his delightful impersonations as "Trilby's Sister," a "Little Nonsense," and his "Dialect Impersonations."

The historical living pictures came next. They are by far the most interesting, the best produced and the most admirable of any produced during the evening.

Mr. Seymour Spier then sang a tenor solo in a very acceptable manner, after which Miss Alice Campbell Francis recited the monologue, "A Sea of Turquoises."

The Second company Governor's Foot Guard series of historical living pictures then followed. They are as follows: 1. Captain Benedict Arnold Demanding the Keys of the Powder House of the Selectmen of New Haven on the morning of April 22, 1775.

AN AMENDED BILL FILED

ONE MORE STEP TAKEN AGAINST THE WHISKEY TRUST.

Edwin Walker Yesterday Filed His Amended Bill in the Central Trust Company's Application for an Injunction—What the Bill Prays for in the Case.

Chicago, June 6.—Edwin Walker to-day filed his amended bill in the Central Trust Company's application for an injunction against the whiskey trust.

The amended bill sets out that the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company, at a meeting on May 22, by a vote of 348,000 shares against 1,119, directed its president and secretary to secure a judicial sale of the property. It alleges that in pursuance of that resolution the company proposes to effect a reorganization under the laws of either New Jersey or West Virginia, and that it does not intend to pay or deposit with the Central company the proceeds of the sale of the property as required under the mortgage for the protection of the bondholders.

The bill says: On account of its abandonment of its business and the surrender of its property to the receiver appointed by the court, the company is wholly unable to pay any part of said overdue coupons, and it is utterly impossible for it to fulfill the terms or considerations of its covenants in the trust deed.

The bill prays that the receiver be decreed to pay the full amount and that the trust company may have leave to apply for the appointment of a receiver and a writ of injunction hereafter if it shall become necessary for the protection of the trust company.

Miss Adeline T. Johnson and Dr. Frederic Bonnet Sweet were united in marriage yesterday at the residence of the bride by Rev. Edwin M. Potat. The wedding was a quiet one on account of the illness of a relative.

Invitations are out for the coming wedding of Mr. Warren S. Bellows, formerly of Norwich, and now of New Haven, to Miss Mary Edith Hubbard of Toledo, O., to take place June 18 at Toledo.

Mr. Bellows was for four years employed as accountant in the office of C. B. Rogers & Co., Norwich, accepting his present position with the Cannon Rubber company of New Haven a year ago. He was a member of Arctonum club of Norwich, during his residence there, and is remembered in local social circles, while professionally he is regarded as a young man of marked business ability and enterprise.

Stephen L. Malone of this city was married at the cathedral in Springfield, Mass., to Miss Mary Hart of this city. It was a pretty wedding, and a large number of friends of both parties were present. The bride wore a handsome traveling gown of gray with silk trimmings and was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth E. Hart, as bridesmaid, while the brother of the groom, Thomas Malone of this city, was the best man.

Harvard Athletes Think an International Contest is a Good Thing.

Boston, June 6.—The news of a challenge from England as published this morning caused considerable comment at Harvard. In the first place it was a surprise, because Harvard men thought that the American team should be the challenger, since Oxford won from Yale last year.

The action of the advisory committee is looked forward to with considerable enthusiasm.

Philadelphia, June 6.—President Kendrick of the Inter-collegiate Athletic association to-day stated that a letter is now on its way to this country from Mr. Jackson of the Oxford (England) university, stating why Oxford and Cambridge have refused to meet in England, the winners of the recent inter-collegiate championships.

HEALTH OFFICIALS' BILLS.

CITY FINANCIERS VOTE TO PAY INVESTIGATION EXPENSES.

Advocate an Ordinance Restricting Future Investigations—Committee on Ordinance Want Special Appropriation to Visit Other Cities in Search of Suitable Features.

Mayor Albert C. Hendrick, having fully recovered from his recent severe attack of rheumatism, presided over the deliberations of the members of the board of finance at their regular June meeting last evening.

The principal business of the evening was the discussion over the propriety of paying the bills incurred during investigations of city officials. The subject was sprung upon the meeting by the appearance of Health Officer Wright, who was present to advocate the payment of his bill and that of Ward Bailey, clerk of the board of health, for expenses incurred in defending themselves against the charges of malfeasance in office brought against them by Walter S. Swayne, an ex-garbage contractor.

Councilman Dowell argued that the bills ought to be paid in accordance with the precedent established by former boards of finance, but said that this indiscriminate manner of ordering investigations ought to stop right here and now, and favored the passage of an ordinance to that effect.

Councilman H. D. Grinnell, a member of the committee on ordinances, to which committee was referred the question of securing funds for the electric cars, appeared before the board and advocated the appropriation by the board of finance of $150 to be used to pay the expenses of the committee in visiting other cities where funders are in use, so as to decide upon the best fender to recommend for use in this city.

The members of the board of finance did not apparently take very kindly to the proposition, although one of the members of the board is also a member of the committee on ordinances. Finally after considerable discussion it was decided to refer the whole matter to the court of common council.

A communication was received from the board of health asking for permission to transfer $1,800 from the garbage account of the board to the sundry account. The board of health recommended that the transfer be made so that the amount can be used for the care of possible future smallpox patients, to pay the expenses incurred by Health Officer Wright and Clerk Bailey during the recent investigations and for use in abating nuisances which may demand immediate attention.

The city's financiers decided to approve the transfer of $800 of the sum asked and immediately adjourned, the members in a body going direct from the city hall to the Hyperion to attend the entertainment given there by the Second company, Governor's Foot Guard.

Also at that time he will explain these maps and will deliver a short address covering the missionary work of the world.

Mr. Waggoner attended the Cleveland convention last year and was assigned a part therein, and since that time has delivered forty addresses, in three states, and before seven different religious denominations.
