CONVENTION CONCLUDED.

Closing Sessions of the Southern Connecticut Universalist Association Convention Yesterday.
The concluding sessions of the convention of the Association of Universalists of Southern Connecticut were held at the Church of the Messiah yesterday. At 9 a. m. there was a devotional service of an hour led by Rev. W. A. Dickerman, pastor of the Church of the Messiah. Others also took part in the service.

A short business session was held at 10 o'clock, at which the committee on nominations reported that the next association meeting would be held in Danbury and that Rev. W. A. Dickerman would preach the sermon for the occasion. A resolution was then passed thanking the Church of the Messiah for its hospitality to the convention.
At 10:30 o'clock Rev. Dr. J. Smith Dodge of Danbury delivered an address upon the subject "How Best to Sustain Our Place and Work in View of the Growing Liberty of Other Churches." In his address Dr. Dodge expressed the opinion that the Universalists will continue to hold their place, and other churches who are gradually changing their position and views will soon be in full fellowship with them and will recognize them.

In the discussion which followed the address Rev. Messrs. Dickerman, Emery of Bridgeport, Vincent of Danbury, Messrs. Babb of New Haven, Hubbell of Danbury, Miss Connor of Bridgeport and Mrs. Manning of Stamford spoke.
After lunch had been served in the parlors of the church Rev. E. M. Grant of Stamford preached the closing sermon, after which the convention adjourned.

AGAINST THE TRUST.

Illinois Supreme Court Declares the Whiskey Combine Illegal--Lower Court Sustained--The Combination Existed to Regulate Prices--Greenhut's Half a Million of Stocks.
Springfield, Ill., June 13.--The decision of the lower court has been sustained by the supreme court, which holds that the whiskey trust is illegal.

The opinion is voluminous, containing forty-nine pages of typewritten manuscript, and goes fully into the details of the case. Many citations are made, among them Chicago Gas and the Match Trust, to which the court maintains the Whiskey trust bears a similarity. This deduction is made from the fact that the Chicago Gas and Diamond Match companies exceeded their charter rights by engaging in lines of business not laid down in their charters.
The Whiskey trust, the court maintains, exceeded its charter by forming a combination to control prices rather than to manufacture whiskey.
In speaking of the claim made by the appellant that the defendant had gathered in of stock of the different distilleries purged the trust of illegality, the court maintains that this is a false presumption. To quote:
"There is no magic in the trust certificate that can purge the trust scheme of its illegality."
The gist of the decision is contained in the following paragraphs:
"But it is urged that the defendant by its charter is authorized to purchase and own distillery property, and that there is no limit placed upon the amount of property which it may thus acquire. By its certificate of organization it is authorized to engage in a general distilling business in Illinois and elsewhere and to own the property necessary for that purpose. It should be remembered that grants of powers to incorporate charters are to be construed strictly, and what is not given is by implication denied. The defendant is authorized to own such property as is necessary for its business and no more. Its power to acquire and hold property is limited to that purpose."
"In accumulating distillery properties that grants of powers to incorporate charters are to be construed strictly, and what is not given is by implication denied. The defendant is authorized to own such property as is necessary for its business and no more. Its power to acquire and hold property is limited to that purpose."
"Chicago, June 13.--Within a day or two Receiver McNulta will file a bill asking that Greenhut be ordered to turn over to the stockholders of the Whiskey trust $500,000 in stocks which he is alleged to have purchased with the money of the corporation.
This action grows out of information secured by the receiver regarding the famous cipher dispatches which passed between Greenhut and certain stock brokers.
Mr. McNulta has come into possession of Mr. Greenhut's cipher code and can translate private dispatches which Greenhut refused to decipher while on the witness stand.

THE CONGREGATIONAL CLUB.

Annual Meeting to be Held Next Tuesday Evening.
The Twelfth annual meeting of the New Haven Congregational club will be held in Warner hall June 17. Social from 6 to 6:30. Supper from 6:30 to 7:45. At the latter hour literary exercises will begin. The program includes election of officers, report of the neurologist, Rev. F. R. Luckey; address, "The Building of the Republic" by Dr. Alexander McKenzie; the exercises to conclude with an introduction of the president-elect. Music will be furnished by the quartet of the Church of the Redeemer. Supper will be served by the Seaman's Friend society.

The New Baptist Church.

The New Haven Baptist association received the new church, the Olivet Baptist of Dixwell avenue, into their fellowship Wednesday evening. The council met in the afternoon with Rev. S. D. Phelps as moderator and Rev. J. A. Elliot as secretary. Miles J. Hitchcock read a historical sketch of the church, which was organized in November 11, 1894. Deacons C. B. Curtis and C. M. Parker also reviewed the work of the church in brief addresses. The confession of faith, covenant, etc., were approved and the new church was formally admitted.

While the new pastor, Rev. A. K. Foster, was retiring with the deacons consulting on a matter of business, Rev. Mr. Poter of the Calvary Baptist church addressed the conference, and told them of the excellent work which Rev. Mr. Foster had accomplished in Somerset, Ky., where he was in charge of a church before coming to this city.
In the evening, Rev. E. M. Poter delivered the dedicatory sermon. Rev. F. G. Wightman of Branford offered the prayer of recognition, Rev. E. C. Sage delivered the charge to the church, and Rev. J. H. Mason the charge to the pastor.
Addresses were also made by Rev. W. B. Kinney of Ansonia, Rev. F. W. C. Meyer of the German Baptist church, and Francis Wayland also spoke a few words in behalf of the Baptist Social union. Rev. Mr. Foster responded, thanking the speakers for their kind words.

MORRIS COVE SCHOOL.

A Pleasant Excursion to Peabody Museum and Lake Whitney.
The pupils regular in attendance for the winter term were Henry Shiner, Walter Shiner, Louis Thompson, Willie Selpold, Eva Thompson and Emma Thompson.
Those perfect in attendance for the spring term are Henry Shiner, Jessie Morris, Belle Eastman and Nellie Sullivan.
Henry Shiner has been perfect in attendance for the entire year.
The school closed Wednesday for the summer vacation, with an excursion to the Peabody museum and Lake Whitney.
They were transported thither by Mr. Edward Morris in a large bus elaborately trimmed with flags and bunting, accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Hattie A. Hunt, and two lady friends, Mrs. Henry Shiner and Mrs. Alfred Stevens.
The children enjoyed the day to the fullest extent. They announced their approach by singing, waving flags and blowing horns.
They were saluted by many on their route, who seemed to enjoy seeing the children having a good time.
