BURGULARS MAKE A HAUL.

Residence of Jeweler Strobel in Waterbury, Hobbed—Gold Watch Valued at $200, a $350 Diamond Stud and $165 in Money Taken—Police Are Working on Case.

Waterbury, July 16.—The residence of Christopher Strobel, 25 East Main street, was entered by burglars this morning and the house ransacked.

The thieves visited Mr. Strobel's room, where they secured a gold watch and chain valued at $200, a diamond stud valued at $350 and $165 in money.

Another valuable gold watch and chain belonging to Mr. Strobel's brother was not disturbed.

The diamond stud was taken from a shirt lying on the foot of the bed in which Strobel was sleeping.

The burglars also went into the room of Mr. Strobel's sister, but as she is away it is impossible to tell what was taken here. The thieves escaped without giving any alarm.

There is one possible clue upon which the police are working to-day. Saturday night, shortly after midnight, a man resembling Strobel's door bell and asked if John Strobel lived there. John is Christopher Strobel's father's name and John has been dead for several years.

On receiving an answer to this effect the stranger pointed to a horse and carriage of the street opposite and said there was a party in the carriage who wanted to get some information regarding John Strobel, but Christopher Strobel refused to go out.

It is thought these men were the same who committed the robbery last night and that their object Saturday was to get Mr. Strobel out of the house and then to ransack the place.

Any such person shall be entitled to judgment against a town upon proof from the records of the adjutant general's office by a certificate duly attested by the adjutant general, or his assistant, that he was duly enlisted and credited to such town and that such a vote has been passed by the town.

Section 2—The statute of limitation shall not be pleaded by the defendant in an action upon this statute.

THE STATE BUILDING.

Meeting Called to Discuss the Use to Which it is to be Put.

A circular announces that a meeting will be held at the Connecticut state building at Colonial park, near New Haven, July 20, at 2 p. m., to decide upon a use for the building and to consider the advisability of forming an organization. After reviewing the history of the removal of the building from the world's fair grounds to its present location, the circular says: It has been suggested that it be made the depository of colonial and revolutionary relics of various character, and of books, papers, portraits, etc., of historic interest of whatever antecedents as to time, including souvenirs of the world's Columbian exposition such as will excite the interest and stimulate the curiosity of those to whom that memorable event will be only a matter of historic interest of the long past. There seems to be one good reason for believing that this edifice—the only state building at the exposition, with one exception, which had been rescued from oblivion—may be made the permanent headquarters of a patriotic organization which through the coming years shall have its maintenance and general welfare in its keeping.

The circular is signed by James D. Dewell, Henry Sutton, Cornelius Tracey, L. Wheeler Beecher, Israel A. Kelsey, J. H. Vall, Nathan Esterbrook, Jr., W. C. Alden, D. C. Alden, F. C. Sherman, Lyman M. Law, Milo B. Richardson, S. W. Kellogg, Charles F. Brooks, Leverett Brainerd, R. E. Holmes and J. R. Hawley, introductory committee.

Court Notes. REV. R. T. COOPER'S CASE. Arguments in the case of the state against Rev. Rufus T. Cooper, formerly pastor of the Epworth M. E. church, but now on the supernumerary list and residing in Norwalk, were concluded late yesterday afternoon before Judge Cable in the city court. Ex-Judge Rufus S. Fickett opened for the defense. He was followed by Attorney Charles Kleiner, Attorney J. P. Goodhart closing for the state. Judge Cable announced that he would give his decision to-morrow.

ROCHE AND DENNEHY ENJOINED. Judge Cable of the city court has granted a temporary injunction against Policeman John Roche and Detective Sergeant Dennehy restraining them from collecting judgments of $700 and $500 respectively awarded them in libel suits brought against Michael O'Connell, a former saloonkeeper. The libel suit was tried before Judge George W. Wheeler in the superior court.

It is claimed that new evidence has been discovered regarding a certain beer pipe that was put into O'Connell's bed room by the plumbing firm of Clerk and McDonald. The petition sets up that E. A. Rourke of 335 Grand avenue says that since the judgment was rendered against O'Connell he, Rourke, heard McDonald say that he could not tell whether the beer pipe was put in the bar room or bed room by him. It further sets forth that Joseph A. Campbell of this city heard McDonald tell R. A. Campbell that he did not put any pipe in the bed room of O'Connell, and further, that R. A. Campbell and J. A. Campbell had a talk with McDonald since the trial, during which conversation McDonald said he did not know in which room he had put the pipe in the bed room, that he had sworn that he had put it there, that McDonald replied that he had sworn that way to help the two policemen out of a scrape.

A motion to dissolve the injunction will probably be made in a few days. GRAHAM'S CASE NOLLED.

The board bill of Peter W. Graham at the Elliott house amounting to $34.50 has been paid by Graham's friends and his case of false pretences was nolle in the city court yesterday. Graham had to pay the costs, amounting to $7.88.

BUNCO CASES GO OVER. Henry Tamaraum and Samuel Rosenbluh, who accused Meyer Horowitz of Rose street out of a watch and chain valued at $45, had their cases continued in the city court yesterday, the state not being ready for trial. They went over until Thursday.

Sickness

* In Summer is always most serious. The patient, due to the heat, is unable to absorb into the system sufficient nourishment to effect convalescence.

Bovineine in all such cases is indispensable, the greatest amount of nourishment in the least bulk. The act of digestion is in itself heating. Hence the benefit of obtaining nourishment with the least effort.
