BETWEEN THE TWO It is often hard to come to a conclusion and make a choice from our display of Carpets and Rugs shown in such a multitude of designs that please. The opinion may be divided, but you can't make a mistake; you'll get something worth having in any case. We're showing more new designs this fall than any other house in town, and in every line of goods our prices are from 10 per cent. to 25 per cent. the lowest. Our present stock of Furniture has never been excelled in variety, design, pattern, quality and value, and in prices. We annihilate competitors. It's the nick of time to buy now when you can get such values as we are offering. H. B. ARMSTRONG & CO., 89-97 Orange Street.

MIKE MAULIFFE DEAD. The Former Middleweight A. A. U. Champion Succumbs to Pneumonia. New York, Sept. 23.—Mike Mauliffe, who held the middleweight championship of the A. A. U. in 1890, died of pneumonia at his home, 51 High street, Brooklyn, this morning. He will be buried to-morrow from the St. James cathedral, Brooklyn. He had been ill for some months.

The Murdered Annie Rogers. Somerville, Sept. 23.—The detectives seem to be making headway in solving the mysterious murder of Annie Rogers, the mulatto girl who was found strangled on the bank of the river about a mile from this place. The detectives have recovered the murdered girl's sailor hat, and they believe that this will furnish an important link in the chain of circumstantial evidence against Jacob Johnson, the negro evangelist, who is now in jail with his wife. The hat was found about a quarter of a mile from the scene of the murder east of the main road. The detectives are working on the theory that the murderer, after strangling the woman, retraced his steps, carrying the hat with him, and then finally threw away the girl's hat in a secluded place, where he thought it would not be found. The county prosecutor will bring out at Johnson's trial the point that he probably walked along the road where the hat was found on his way home on the night of the murder. The prosecution entertains this theory because it is the only direct road leading to Johnson's hut.

Fitch in East street, and residing on Lloyd street, Fair Haven, had his sleeve caught on a piece of shafting shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday and was hurled over two or three times before the machinery could be stopped. His arm was amputated at the hospital. Johnson's sad accident is deeply deplored by all his shopmates and his many other friends. He is a young man and has been employed at the Fitch manufactory for two or three years, and was much liked by all his companions. He worked in the buffing department. He had a narrow escape from being killed instantly. It is believed that he has received no internal injuries, but the case is still a serious one, owing to the shock to the system he received and the intensely heated weather. Last evening he was resting as well as could be expected.
