KING'S NARROW ESCAPE. Huge Limb Fell Directly Across His Neck on Orange Street. While Edward King was driving one of Philip Fleming's hacks up Orange street about 11 o'clock last night he had a narrow escape from instant death. When near Veto street a large limb broke off from near the top of a maple tree and fell directly across the back. The driver was grazed by the limb and knocked off his seat into the street and the seat was completely smashed. Fortunately the driver was not seriously injured and soon recovered. The horse was not so much as even scratched. The hack was badly damaged and is almost a total wreck, as the wheels are smashed, the glass broken, the seat a complete wreck and the body of the hack badly damaged. The street was completely blocked for several hours, or until Park Inspector Kelly, who was immediately notified, could with a gang of men remove the debris.

SENATOR PLATT'S ESCAPE

AT THE VERY DANGEROUS RAILROAD CROSSING.

Was Returning From Middlebury With H. Wales Lines—Almost Run Over by the 10:50 East Bound Train on the New England Road—The Horse Killed Upon Equally and the Gate Broken.

Waterbury, Oct. 31.—United States Senator Platt of Meriden and H. Wales Lines of the same city had a close call of it this morning at the New England crossing on West Main street, a place whose dangerous character has often been referred to in the public press.

They had come down West Side hill, had gotten over the Naugatuck tracks in safety and were close to the New England crossing when the 10:50 east bound train appeared and the gate came down with a slam. Mr. Lines quick work of it in turning his horse around, but so close a shave was it that the gate caught in the harness and being somewhat damaged. The harness had to be cut away before the broken gate could be released.

The gateman was greatly excited and demanded the driver's name somewhat peremptorily. "H. Wales Lines of Meriden," was the reply. "I shall expect you to pay for that gate," said the gateman of the crossing, to which no answer was returned.

A passer-by, who had seen the incident, was interrogated by the gateman as to the probability of recovering for the damaged gate. The passer-by laughed and said: "If your road gets off without a suit for damages, which will be a good many times the price of that gate, it may be considered to play in big luck."

Mr. Lines and Senator Platt had arrived in Waterbury on an early morning train and at once drove to the summer residence of J. H. Whitmore, now being built at Lake Quassapaug. They were there an hour or so and then returned to Waterbury. Senator Platt took the 11 o'clock train for Torrington.

AT BEAVER PONDS. Land for a Public Park Purchased Yesterday for $30,000—Twenty-six Acres Bought. The New Haven town authorities yesterday purchased twenty-six acres of land within the city limits in the region known as Beaver Ponds. With other purchases already made, the land will form an area of forty acres which after much draining and filling will be made into a public park.

The land purchased yesterday is all north of Munson street and much of it fronts on Crescent. It adjoins that already owned by the town and makes a very good-sized holding.

This tract of land purchased yesterday together with the prices paid are as follows: Mrs. Adelaide Goodrich, wife of ex-Selectman John I. Goodrich, sold to the town a tract of land on Crescent street of six and seven-tenths acres for $3,550, which was about the price it was appraised at by the late ex-Governor Morris four years ago. The piece runs back into the swamp to the ditch and fronts principally on Crescent street. Most of it is high land and to the northwest there are houses. In the swampy portions of it there are some springs of good clear water and ultimately it is likely that the hollow will be cleared out and lake constructed.

From the Laforgs heirs was purchased six acres of swamp lands, most of it on high ground. The price paid was only $900. From George Hopkins was obtained a small piece near Munson street, bounded on the north hand west by land already purchased by the town. There was a house on it and the price paid was $600.

The largest purchase of land was made of A. N. Farnham. This piece is bounded on the south by that already owned by the town, west by Crescent street, and north by the Goodrich property. This tract contains six acres. From Mr. Farnham was also purchased two and three-fifths acres which he had bought from the Davenport heirs. The total purchase from Mr. Farnham was $3,500 and the price paid was $4,500.

Edward M. Clark sold the town a strip of land comprising 1 2-5 acres fronting on Crescent street and adjoining the Goodrich property. From Mr. Clark was also purchased 12 1/2 feet frontage and another tract of Clark property with a frontage of 31 feet on Crescent street. Still another strip of land with a frontage of 178 feet on Crescent street was purchased. The total price for all these pieces was $2,350. The town was desirous of purchasing 75 feet more belonging to Mr. Clark, but they were unable to do so as the total appropriation had been exhausted.

It was agreed by Mr. Clark that if the next board of selectmen within four months buys the 75 feet remaining he will sell it for $300. These purchases aggregate 21 1/2 acres, and the price paid was $12,000.

Wedding Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Kirkiand celebrated the seventh anniversary of their wedding at their residence, 568 Congress avenue, last evening. Despite the inclement weather a good company was present. During the evening vocal and instrumental music was rendered, notably the selections of Miss Joste Bryant of Orange street upon the piano and zither. A collation was served at 11 o'clock, after which the company left for home leaving behind them good and happy returns for the future.

Y. M. C. A. Banquet and Reception. The second oyster supper and reception of the season was given at the Y. M. C. A. rooms last evening by the association committee to members of the association and their friends. The tables were set in the gymnasium hall on the third floor and about 200 sat down to the sumptuously spread board. After the supper informal speeches were made by Rev. G. H. Plean of Meriden, Turkey, Mr. Macintosh, secretary of the association, and J. F. Niver, chairman of the reception committee. On the evening of November 7 there will be a raising in the association parlors by Miss Evelyn Halliard.

Abandoning Hope of Finding the Bodies—The Milford Highway Robbery—Winsted Awake—Investigating the Case of Sudden Death in Middlebury—Various Other Matters.

Milford, Oct. 31.—The search for the missing New Haven men, who are supposed to have been drowned in the sound while duck hunting last week, is now considered practically hopeless. Large parties have failed to obtain the slightest trace of the bodies. There is a strong current running through the sound off here, and the dead bodies might easily be carried beyond New Haven on one tide. It is the belief here that the bodies will not be found for some time to come.

THE MILFORD HIGHWAY ROBBERY. Milford, Oct. 31.—To-morrow the selectmen of Milford will hold a meeting, the purpose of which will be to decide the amount of a reward to be offered for the capture of the highway robbers who waylaid Mr. and Mrs. Truman Smith last night. So far there is no clue to the highwaymen. Mr. Smith is a well known farmer.

DANIELSON'S LIVELY MEETING. Danielson, Conn., Oct. 31.—The eagerly awaited town meeting, called for the purpose of rescinding several important votes passed at a previous meeting, was held this afternoon. The citizens turned out in large numbers to watch the spirited scene which was expected. There were four questions before the meeting and every one of them was laid on the table, those opposed to the rescinding movement thus winning. There were several very sharp passages between prominent citizens.

WINSTED AWAKE. Winsted, Oct. 31.—To-day a petition, signed by the residents of towns west of Winsted, was forwarded to Hartford to the officers of the Philadelphia, Reading and New England railroad asking that the new time tables be rearranged so that trips to and from their towns to the westward can be made in one day. General Manager Wallace announced that the petition would be granted and that the change would go into effect on Sunday or Monday.

DR. CRANE INVESTIGATES. Waterbury, Oct. 31.—Dr. A. A. Crane, medical examiner of the town of Middlebury, this morning drove over to the village and investigated the sudden death of Blacksmith Charles B. Smith, aged forty-eight, whose death was noted herein yesterday. Some one should have notified the medical examiner, but none did, although there were two physicians in attendance, one from Waterbury and one from Middlebury. Still, Dr. Crane is not disposed to make any trouble in the matter, and has given permission for the burial of the body.

Dr. Crane does not think, as has been stated, that Mr. Smith was in the habit of using laudanum. He finds that the laudanum was taken from a bottle which was purchased on a prescription of his about two years ago. Day before yesterday at 3 a. m. Mr. Smith, not being able to sleep, arose and, apparently in recklessness, took a large dose of the poison. He worked through that day, but died about twenty-four hours after he took the laudanum. The medical examiner is not prepared to state whether Mr. Smith intended to commit suicide, but is led to believe that Mr. Smith knew the deadly effects of the drug.

HIRAM COBB DEAD. Hartford, Oct. 31.—Hiram Cobb of Windsor died at the hospital last night of apoplexy. He was found in this city Saturday night and locked up by the police.
