Sherman Offers a New National Banking Law.

Washington, July 15.—In the Senate Mr. Sherman reported a substitute for the bill introduced by him on May 16 to reduce the amount of United States bonds to be required of national banks and to restore to the channels of trade the excessive accumulation of money in the treasury. Placed on calendar. It provides that the compulsory requirement of the deposit of United States bonds with the treasury of the United States by national banks to be limited in amount to $1,000 of the bonds for each bank provided that the voluntary withdrawal of the bonds for the retirement of national bank notes shall not exceed three millions in any month and also provided that the act shall not apply to deposit bonds to secure the deposits of public moneys. Also, providing that national banks shall be entitled to receive circulation notes not exceeding the whole amount of the par value of the bonds deposited, and that no more shall be issued than the amount of the capital stock actually paid in.

Penion Affairs, with Especial Reference to Commissioner Baum, Fully Discussed in the House of Representatives.

Ten persons were killed and thirty or forty seriously injured. Two empty freight cars were being rolled into the side track where a car containing 800 kegs of powder was standing. As the cars struck, there was an explosion and immediately after another car, containing 800 kegs of gunpowder, exploded, making 1,300 kegs altogether.

A Pension of Three Thousand Dollars Proposed for Mrs. Fremont—Admiral Belknap's Report on Korean Troubles.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The House Committee on Elections today heard arguments by Judge John McClure, of Arkansas, Clayton's representative upon the Breckenridge election case. Judge McClure began the argument by attacking Breckenridge, in reply to certain statements made by that gentleman as exhibited in the record. He charged that Mr. Breckenridge had sought to incite his partisans to treat him (McClure) as they had treated Mr. Clayton. He resented the effort which he said had been made to make the people of Arkansas responsible for the series of crimes which he sought to show were part of a general plan carried out by the politicians and ballot box stuffers and stealers with the deliberate purpose to reverse the will of the people at the polls.

OUR NAVY IN COREA.

Rear Admiral Belknap, commanding the naval forces on the Asiatic station, has informed the Navy department that there is no truth in the report that he took possession of the King's Palace at Seoul during the recent trouble in Corea, and that all he did on the occasion in question was to station troops in the United States Legation Building for the protection of American subjects and property. They were subsequently withdrawn, as affairs resumed the usual state.

An Agreement Wherein Maricopa County Is the Only Signer—Where Are the Safeguards of the People?

The statement having been made yesterday by a morning correspondent that the vetoed bill was all correct, and claiming that a contract had been entered into between Joe Reynolds and the county, wherein ample safeguards were secured for the people, a REPUBLICAN representative yesterday undertook the task of investigating the "contract" and its safeguards. Inquiry at the office of the Board of Supervisors brought out two documents, both purporting to be agreements wherein Joseph Reynolds, trustee, binds himself to construct a certain railroad to the boundary line of the second agreement, and the Board of Supervisors of Maricopa county, in consideration of such construction, are bound to deliver to said Joseph Reynolds the bonds of the county to the amount of $4000 for each mile of railroad so built.

LAKE PEPIN'S DEAD.

No More Bodies Recovered from the Lake.

SAD BURIAL OF THE VICTIMS.

Had the Passengers Been Familiar with the Lake They Might Have Saved Themselves—The Captain Speaks.

LAKE CITY, Minn., July 15.—The lake shore was made to reverberate this morning with the thunder of dynamite which was brought into requisition in the hope that it would help in bringing some of the as yet undiscovered bodies to the surface. No more bodies were recovered today. The country people, who drove in from all directions yesterday, were again on hand and residents were also there at an early hour, watching the workers. A military guard was kept up all night at the beach, and they held back the spectators today as they had done yesterday. The weather is perfect.

THE CAPTAIN'S STORY.

Judge Bayrell, of Argyle, who was on the boat, gives positive evidence against the charge of drunkenness. He says the captain was not only sober, but was fully conscious of the presence of the storm, although not fully appreciating its gravity. The captain walked through the cabin quietly, trying to calm the excited passengers, telling them that he did think there was any danger, but if any wished they could put on life-preservers and prepare for the worst possibility. A few minutes later, he made the same suggestion. The charge against the crew probably originated in the behavior of some of the drunken male passengers on the barge. Seeing the severity of the storm, the Captain wished those who were on the barge at the mercy of the wind and rain and, but later he considered the barge the safer place and ordered the women and children to remain there. His order miscarried, or at least such seems to be the case.

THE CAPTAIN'S STORY.

Lawyer Greer, of Lake City, believed that if the people had known that part of the lake may have escaped, and cites the experience of Harry Mabey. Young Mabey was on board the Seawing when she drifted around below the point. She grounded for a short while on the bar. Knowing that the water there was shallow he jumped overboard and reached land easily. From that bar the steamer drifted along shore keeping about forty or fifty yards out. All along there the bottom slopes very gradually down so that nearly all could have reached the shore had they known this fact.

THE CAPTAIN'S STORY.

This evening the coroner's jury assembled and were about to begin an inquest when County Attorney Wilson said the statutes provide that the coroner hold an inquest only where there are marks of violence on the body. As there were none such in the present case, no inquest could be held. He said, further, that he believed, taking into consideration the frame of mind the community is in, it is advisable to never hold an inquest even if it could be held. He assured the jurymen as citizens that the matter would be laid before the grand jury at once and a rigid investigation would be had. The jury acted on his opinion and the coroner dismissed them.

THE CAPTAIN'S STORY.

Captain Withern, proprietor and commander of the Sea Wing, has been severely blamed by the citizens and others for what they allege to have been criminal negligence on his part in pulling out into the lake with such a crowd when the sky looked so threatening. The captain's wife and two of his three children lost their lives under the waves and that fact, together with the loss of his vessel and the great loss of life unreserved him so that he has kept pretty much out of sight. First, he says he did not consider the danger very great and thought he saw a break in the clouds, promising a clearing away of the storm. This is not well taken by the people in this neighborhood, who say the sky was black with the most threatening kind of clouds, and that it was clearly evident that a very heavy storm was about to break. Another excuse he makes is that the manager of the excursion, whose profits would be cut down by any delay in the departure of the boat, was so urgent in his insistence upon immediate departure that the captain yielded and took the boat out to her destruction.

THE CAPTAIN'S STORY.

Many incidents of the awful night are being related. James Webb, of Red Wing, and a young lady companion had just jokingly finished fastening life preservers to each other when the storm struck the vessel, and their joking proved their salvation, for they were both saved.

THE CAPTAIN'S STORY.

Red Wing, Minn., July 15.—Sixty-six bodies were brought here yesterday and laid out in an empty store room. To this place of death came mourning friends to claim their dead or look in vain for the absent dear ones. All day long pine boxes were being carried from this store room to stricken homes in the city, and at many hearthstones but one or two survivors of the family awaited the coming of the mortal clay of their loved ones. This is a day of funerals, nearly all the bodies recovered being carried to "God's Acre," where the last words of farewell and consolation are being spoken.

PARDONED OUT.

Isidoro Castro and Charles Kingsley Made Happy and Free.

Isidoro Castro was yesterday pardoned from the Penitentiary by Governor Wolfley. The District Attorney of Yuma County, the Sheriff and other County officers and citizens signed the petition asking for the pardon, alleging that when Castro was convicted of burglary, last March, it was clearly shown that he had been influenced by evil associates, that he was but 18 years of age and that he had always before borne a good character.

A pardon was also made out for Charles Kingsley, who was sentenced in 1884 on Apache County to imprisonment for twelve years for a petty robbery. The petition for his pardon was signed by a majority of the Grand Jury that indicted him, by the District Attorney, Sheriff and other officers. A favorable letter was also received from Judge Sumner Howard, who was the sentencing magistrate, as well as strong recommendations from the Superintendent of the Territorial Prison. The young man has learned the trade of blacksmith, and is expected to become an exemplary citizen.

AN APACHE PARDONED.

Governor Wolfley has issued a pardon for one Lashe, an Apache Indian, who was about a year ago sentenced from Graham county to the Territorial Prison for the term of two years. Lashe was sentenced for killing a calf. He admitted the killing, but maintained that he thought at the time that the calf belonged to his band. The pardon was granted upon the evidence presented by a petition gotten up by Captain Johnson, of Apache, wherein it is stated that the Indian had plead guilty, that the calf was not worth over $5, and that Lashe had already, in the County Jail and Penitentiary, undergone eighteen months of imprisonment.
