FOR PRESIDENT IN 1892, JAMES G. BLAINE, OF MAINE

The sad accident yesterday from the use of coal oil, teaches its own lesson.

This is a good time to build sidewalks so as to have them finished before the Legislature meets.

A WELL-APPOINTED lodge hall has at last been secured for Phoenix by the fitting up of the upper story of the Monihon building.

The Globe-Democrat says: When asked what state she hates from our side reply shall be, she hates from where he pleases, and his name is J. G. B.

It is to be justly mentioned that all another Charlie Ross has been discovered. Eastern reporters must be getting scarce of news since the election.

PHOENIX should adopt Pacific standard time. It is the time used by the railroads; has been adopted by the school board, and should be made the city time.

The Tombstone Epitaph well says: "The Gazette has now undertaken the task of 'firing' the judiciary of Arizona. The Gazette has tackled a pretty large sized job."

A STRANGER coming to our beautiful city and seeing a wheel of fortune on the street corner surrounded by a lot of children and Indians receives a most unfavorable impression of the town. The wheel of fortune should be ruled off the streets.

How it works in an off-year is shown by the fact that although the Democratic candidate for Governor was elected in Massachusetts by a small plurality, he had something like 18,000 less votes than when he was defeated the year previous.

THERE are few places in the West where steam power can be so cheaply generated as in this city. It would be hard to find better fuel than the mesquite wood that is so abundant in the vicinity of Phoenix, and it can readily be secured in any quantity for $3.50 a cord.

SAYS the Los Angeles Times: "The Messiah craze is now said to be spreading to the Indians of the Indian Territory and New Mexico, even the Apaches having caught the fever. Uncle Sam will probably have to resort to the inoculation system before these frenzied Indians return to their normal condition. A little lead, judiciously injected from a rifle of U. S. army pattern, has a wonderful soothing effect on the most obstinate case of 'ghost dance.'"

The fact that grapes were yesterday picked from Phoenix vines is suggestive of the thought that such fruit in the larger cities of the Union would command an almost unlimited price at this season. It would be a source of much wealth if local vineyardists were able to so direct the growth of the Black Hamburg or other late varieties of grapes as to bring their product to maturity late in the fall. Fruit is a commodity of much profit to the grower, but is especially profitable either early or late in the season.

DONALD G. MITCHELL has been exceedingly unfortunate recently, having met with two serious accidents, the last of which came near killing him. Under the name of Dr. Marvel he is known as the author of an interesting series of sketches called "Reveries of a Bachelor," which have been read with interest by thousands of young men and women. He is one of the most pleasing of American writers, and a fatal termination of his last accident would be deeply regretted by the whole country.

SAYS the Tucson Star: "The question of fruit raising in every section of Arizona has been fully demonstrated and it has been established beyond cavil that nearly all classes of fruit and nuts can be produced with profit. Our valleys, our table lands, our mountain sides are well adapted to some or all kinds of fruits. This fact being established, it is of the first importance that our people increase their orchards, and those who have not yet planted fruit trees, go to work at once and plant this season, so that the fruit consumption of Arizona may be supplied by the home producers. This suggestion is especially applicable to Pima County."

THANKSGIVING DAY was observed in Phoenix yesterday with a fervor and completeness that made it a true holiday. The weather was beyond improvement, with a balmy, calm atmosphere, never to be known elsewhere than in Arizona. Several picnic parties enjoyed sylvan delights, and business men, released for awhile from the cares of trade, took to rod and gun. The turkey and pumpkin pie, dear to Yankee hearts, were the chief dishes of the evening meal, and if thanks were not offered for the blessings and bounty of the past year, contentment, at least, prevailed on this day of good cheer and good will.

PROMOTING LINEN FACTORIES.

Congress has arranged the tariff with a view to promoting the manufacture of linen in the United States. Immediately following the final adjustment of rates in the new Tariff bill, news comes of the projected establishment of a large linen mill at Minneapolis. Farmers in the Northwest have for years been growing hundreds of acres of flax for the seed only, allowing the straw to go to waste. Since waste of raw materials is repugnant to protectionists, they determined that this valuable product of Minnesota farms should be provided with a convenient market.

The linen mill is already under way, and now the prediction of the supporters of the McKinley bill, that invaluable labor saving inventions as well as new industries would follow increased protection, seems to be realized. Recently an Eastern paper contained this significant piece of news: G. Y. Smith, at 116 Sixth street, South Minneapolis, has invented and is manufacturing a threshing flax that saves the straw perfectly straight and which has proven a success. This genius for invention and economizing labor, which is characteristic of the American people, will soon put to shame the unpatriotic growlers who contend that linen cannot be manufactured successfully in this country. Another Smith will quickly appear, if his services be needed, to devise methods of turning that flax into linens with such a saving of labor as to rival in cheapness the products of the ill-paid, dull-brained laborers of European countries.

LAND owners should not lose sight of the great profits to be derived from the culture of the sugar beet. The question of getting a factory here will be quickly solved if the land owners but show that they will produce the beets. Claus Sprockles has several times offered to build factories in various sections of California if land owners would guarantee the cultivation of a specified number of acres of beets for a term of years and there is no doubt but he would do the same here.

THE WEEKLY REPUBLICAN issued yesterday is an excellent number. It contains an epitome of all the telegraphic news of the week, an account of the railroad meeting Wednesday evening, articles on fruit culture, progress of fruit culture in Arizona and many other topics of interest. Altogether it is a most excellent paper to send to friends whom you want to become interested here.

THE person writing to THE REPUBLICAN over the signature of Clerk is reminded that all communications not accompanied by the name of the writer are consigned to the waste basket.

Gila County.

From the Globe Silver Belt. The Buffalo Copper Mining Company resumed smelting Tuesday, after a few days' idleness. They are now receiving considerable coke, and hope to keep their furnace in blast for some time. The quality of ore from the Buffalo mine has improved, and the outlook for the company is encouraging.

Jasper Henderson had an unpleasant experience with a wild cat last Saturday morning, at his ranch on Salt River. Hearing a noise in the chicken house, Jasper went out to investigate, and found a wild cat was the disturber. He fired a shot at it from his revolver, when the cat attacked him, springing upon him and sank its fangs in his right shoulder. Jasper's pistol was out of order and would not go off; he called to his brother who ran to his assistance. Jasper in the meantime had pulled the animal from his shoulder, but it bit him on the left wrist and hand before he succeeded in choking the vicious brute to death.

The plural wife system prevails at San Carlos, where it is regarded by Apache bucks as profitable for the reason that wives are tireless toilers. They chop wood, carry water, pack hay, herd stock, build wickiups, cook and in fact, do all the labor calculated to contribute to the necessity and comfort of the camps. Apache women are merchantable, are bought and sold. A buck's wealth is estimated, in part, by the number of his wives. The value of a wife is calculated by the weight she can carry; therefore, those having defective spines and unable to pack a sack of flour, or a bundle of hay, or an eighth of a cord of wood and a pappose at the same time, are not regarded as valuable property, and are less appreciated by their masters than a pony or a burro. This, doubtless, their philanthropic friends in the east are ignorant of, or else they would redouble their prayers for the amelioration of the weary lives of their untired Arizona sisters, who neither "see God in clouds, nor hear him in the winds." Squaws have no time for religious meditation. Their lives, like Mantilina's, is "one dem'd eternal grind."

Buckeye and Vicinity.

From the Buckeye Blade. The recent change in the ownership of the Bonanza and other claims in the Harqua Hala mining district has given an impetus to travel in that direction. L. O. Wiley has moved the cottage from his ranch into town and located it on a lot adjoining his shop. Buckeye, therefore, has one more dwelling house than it had a week ago.

While we cannot always have regular Sunday services here in Buckeye, yet it is pleasing to note that the Sunday school, under the superintendency of Miss Haskell, is always well attended and much interest in the exercises manifested.

The old man who was found dead some weeks ago near Robbins Butte, is well known to the citizens of Gila Bend as an old prospector, named Valentine, who usually made an annual visit to that section.

Yuma's Advantages.

From the Yuma Times. Postmaster Ewing has handed us a letter from H. C. Cone, of Thermal, Fresno County, California, who makes some inquiries concerning this section, and we make answer in print, as others may be interested. The average annual temperature of Yuma is about 55 degrees. The lowest thermometer is 27 in the winter with frosts occasionally. Tomatoes will ripen during some winters, but except in favored spots have to be protected. There are no fogs here. The country in the Colorado and Gila valleys is generally level. The Colorado is well stocked with fish of several different kinds. We hope the above answers will prove sufficiently satisfactory to Mr. Cone, and that he will locate here and bring others with him.
