

OUR GREAT RE-BUILDING SALE

When ten thousand people make up their minds to buy something, their purchasing power is tremendous—if united. We have the proof of it, for this week has shown, in the brightest light, the buying capacity of Phoenix' populace. We have off been busy, good and busy, but this Great Rebuilding Sale has found us jammed with scientific purchasers. Scientific because we are in between to most extravagant seasons and the heavy buying has been a speculation; money making for the public. While the moving and arranging for our new, pretty addition goes on, we are laying before you more new and excellent bargains in all spring goods, and desire to say, do not neglect to come every day and come often every day, because it pays you handsomely to choose from the many dainties and substantial things for Friday and Saturday on our

A meeting of the stockholders of the Tempe Creamery and Ice company was held yesterday in the office of Andrew Nielsen. The object of the meeting was to make the temporary board of directors, elected February 14, permanent. This was done and accordingly J. S. Birchett, Albert Miller, A. Nielsen, J. E. Sturgeon and J. E. Hagler were appointed to constitute a board of directors to hold office until January 1, 1902. After the stockholders' meeting had adjourned the newly elected board had a meeting and elected J. S. Birchett president, A. Nielsen secretary and A. L. Miller treasurer of the corporation. Bids for machinery and its installation were discussed at both meetings and it was decided to push work at once so that Tempe soon shall have an up-to-date creamery and ice plant.

The ladies of the first reading room here have prepared a delightful party for St. Patrick's party on March 17. All lovers of the green are exhorted to summon all their patriotism for the occasion. Just at present the excitement public is held in suspense as to the exact nature of the entertainment. Perhaps details will appear in this column later.

Don't forget the musical show scheduled for March 7, and remember that the oxter supper that has become a home cooked supper without oxeters is to come off also on Friday night. There will be no conflict between the two.

Miss Minnie Kalky of Phoenix and Joseph Herzberg of Phoenix were married yesterday by Rev. A. B. Tomlinson, R. D. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride, both before and after which, according to the Jewish custom, refreshments were served. The worthy young couple will reside in Phoenix, where Mr. Herzberg is proprietor of the Berlin dry goods store. Among the visitors in Tempe today were Paul Herman and Union Square theater in a play called "A Bottle of Ink." The private life of Mr. and Mrs. Faversham never before came into public notice, but apart from his regular appearances as a prize winner with his exhibits at the dog show, Mr. Faversham was known only on the stage. Mr. Hummel said yesterday afternoon that the case would be tried in private. He declined to say who the co-respondent was or whether or not she was an actress.—New York Sun.

The club women of Kansas are going to the national convention in Los Angeles in May, and the different passenger agents have worked up a beautiful row as to which shall be the official route. We wonder it doesn't occur to a woman that when she negotiates her family to waddle off to road in that country and he is putting it in splendid shape.

Mr. George N. Gray, W. J. Kingsbury and E. B. Goodman went to Phoenix yesterday.

Mr. Ed Pomeroy is having some improvements made on his home, having the house plastered on the outside and painted.

The rehearsals are progressing nicely in the "Heroic Dutchman" and the company will be ready for the public Saturday night and will entertain and please everybody who will attend. The play seems to be laid in colonial times, in the days of white wigs and knee pants and is full of startling interest from beginning to finish. The comedy is especially good.

Mr. Galbraith, cantaloupe man, arrived in Mesa yesterday to oversee the planting of cantaloupes for the Mesa Melon growing association. He will stay here about three weeks and expects to seed and direct the planting of about 20 acres of cantaloupes. He came from Indio, Cal., directly here, having arranged for the planting of the melon crop there.

Mr. T. E. Banta arrived from Imperial, Cal., yesterday for a few days visit in Mesa and the valley. He brought over some samples of barley that is growing under the Imperial canal. The bunches are fine specimens of grain and stand about three and a half feet tall. The grain was planted the latter part of October of last year, and he says it is growing luxuriantly wherever planted.

Mr. Griwald is shipping some pear and umbrella trees to his farm under his imperial canal today. Mr. Griwald has one of the finest tracts of land in that country and he is putting it in splendid shape.

Mrs. Mollie Rogers returned to Globe today. She came over a month ago on account of the sickness of her mother, who has now recovered.

T. E. Pomeroy was a business visitor to the capital today.

Mr. A. C. McQueen went to Prescott yesterday on a brief business visit. Mr. Ellis H. Johnson is out again after a few days of serious illness. He will start back to Bisbee in a few days.
