DEAD ROBBED

Ghouls Preyed Upon Victims of Wreck

SIXTY-EIGHT WERE KILLED

The Unidentified Bodies Will Be Laid Away this Christmas Morning—Denial of a Rumor That the Disaster Was Caused by Train Wreckers.

Connellsville, Pa., Dec. 24.—A summing up of the results of last night's wreck of the Duquesne limited on the R. & O. shows that sixty-eight persons were killed and ninety injured. All but a few of the sixty-eight bodies have been identified, and those who are still unknown will be laid away in Grove Hill cemetery at dawn of Christmas morning. Much money was found on persons unidentified. Tightly sewn in a belt on one engineer was found more than $400. Sums ranging from $100 to $500 were found on several persons. All has been put in a bank. Many victims of the wreck were robbed of money, jewelry and Christmas presents which they were taking to relatives and friends from Pittsburgh. Many rings were taken from the fingers of corpses. Robbers were on the scene early, and before many rescuers arrived they had secured much booty, much of which consisted of baggage and hand bags that had been tossed about the cars. Many Connellsville people had been in Pittsburgh yesterday buying Christmas presents and many of these presents are missing. The jury is now viewing the bodies and taking evidence as to the cause of the disaster. Superintendent Irwin

FOR DREYFUS

Retrial Granted Him by the Committee on Revision

CIVIL COURT THIS TIME

The Action of the Commission Which Had Been Anticipated Was Brought by Production of Evidence Not Introduced at the Last Courtmartial.

Paris, Dec. 24.—Captain Dreyfus, accused of treason to France, degraded, dismissed from the French army and exiled to prison on Devil's Island, will have another trial, this time by a civilian jury. As a result of the examination of all the evidence submitted to two courts martial, which have passed on the question of Dreyfus' guilt, as well as on the petition of Dreyfus for a new trial, and additional facts brought to light by General Andre, minister of war, the commission on revision, representing the court of cassation, reached a decision today in favor of a revision of the case by the criminal branch of the court of cassation. The court will assemble next month and Dreyfus will then have a full opportunity to make a complete explanation of the wrongs he is said to have suffered. The former captain, as a result of this new trial, expects to obtain vindication, followed by restoration to his former rank in the army. Though it had been announced that the revision commission would reach a decision this evening, there were few persons outside the ministry of justice, where the sittings of the commission were held, indicating that the interest of Parisians in the case is not as keen as it has been in the past. Dreyfus received the news of the decision of the commission through personal friends, who extended to him their earnest congratulations on the verdict. The information was compiled to wait for its publication until the regular edition of the evening papers were published, as no extra editions were issued. The few persons who were at the ministry of justice saw the members of the revision commission leave the department shortly after 6 o'clock, apparently glad that they had completed their task. There was absolute unity among the members of the commission. One member asserted that on facts presented, as a result of the investigation made by Captain Targe, an officer on the staff of War Minister Andre, another revision of the case was made possible. The details of the report of the commission have not yet been made public, but it is stated generally that the production of evidence which had not been submitted to the court martial at Rennes and the change of testimony on

WHOLE STORY

Gen. Wood and His Relations With Capt. Bellairs

THE DAMAGING RUMORS

The General Said They Were Not Circulated Until After the Captain Left Cuba, but Investigation of Them Led to Nothing Definite.

New York, Dec. 24.—The Commercial Advertiser today prints a letter signed by General Leonard Wood and addressed to Dr. Horace Fletcher of Yale University, in which the writer tells of his acquaintance with Edgar G. Bellairs. In the letter, which was written at Cairo, on the 12th last, General Wood referring to Bellairs said: "In the spring of 1899 he was promoted by the Associated Press to Havana from Santiago, not at my request or suggestion, direct or indirect as I remember it. He asked absolutely no favors of me or so far as I knew from any one. "After my transfer to Havana as governor of the whole island in December, 1899, Bellairs continued on duty about five months and was then sent to China and the Philippines, not at my suggestion or request, direct or indirect. I was sorry to have him go, as we all liked him and found him reliable. In the Philippines Bellairs was a lieutenant in military government. Instead of civil and apparently wrote accordingly, and, of course, trouble with the civil government in the way of loss of friendly relations followed. "After Bellairs left Havana ugly rumors about him began to be circulated. They came almost entirely from a number of men who did not like him, and on investigation nothing definite was found. I heard from him seldom. Finally some one published what purported to be a story of Bellairs' actions and pointed out that he was my particular friend, and that I had sent him to China and that his attitude toward the civil government was at my suggestion and that I was working to relieve Taft, etc., conclusions that are child's no one knows but doubtless the body of the people I had to handle without gloves during my stay in Cuba. It was far fetched and dishonest and intended to create trouble. This is the whole story. Bellairs was in no way especially intimate with me or my family; that is to say, I do not think that in all his Cuban service he was at my table more than three, or at most, four times. "I saw him daily, as I did the Sun man, and gave them both such news as I could. They were treated exactly alike."

DEATH OF MOODY MERRILL

A Man Who For Many Years Led a Doubtful Life

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 24.—Moody Merrill, of Boston, Mass., alias W. C. Grayson of Silver City, N. M., died suddenly this morning at Silver City. Merrill held very high positions in Boston, when he suddenly disappeared and was supposed until some time ago, to be dead. His political enemies located his whereabouts and he was arrested in New York city on charges of fraud. In New Mexico he made a new fortune. He had been president of the Silver City National Bank. Merrill's record. Boston, Dec. 24.—Moody Merrill was under indictment in Boston for embezzlement, carried on about ten years ago. He was arrested on this charge a few months ago in Boston but he disappeared before his case was called. The telegram announcing his death was the first intimation of Merrill's whereabouts since he failed to answer to the indictment found against him. The police had been exerting in vain every effort to find the man. Merrill made and lost several fortunes. From 1868 to 1871 he was a member of the Massachusetts house of representatives and also served in the state senate. His ambition was to be mayor of Boston. In the fall of 1889 he succeeded in defeating Thomas N. Hart for renomination by the republicans, but he lost at the polls to Nathan Matthews, Jr. He then bought the name of New Mexico under the name of Colonel Charles F. Grayson, Merrill carried on extensive and profitable business ventures.

ONE WAS INNOCENT

Consul Baldwin Named in Post Office Frauds

THE STATE DEPARTMENT FINDS THAT HE USED NO IMPROPER INFLUENCE IN BEHALF OF BRANDT CASHIER.

Washington, Dec. 24.—Judge Baldwin, United States consul at Nuremberg, Germany, has been exonerated by Assistant Secretary of State Pierce of any connection with the placing of the "Brandt cashier" in the postoffice department, as related in the report of Conrad and Bonaparte in their investigation of irregularities in the postoffice department. In response to a request from Secretary Pierce, Judge Baldwin submitted a full report of his connection with the matter under investigation. Referring to this report Mr. Pierce says: "Judge Baldwin seems to have sufficiently met all the points covering any improper action on his part with the purchase by the postoffice department of the Brandt automatic cashier. He says that in his capacity as lawyer, and holding no government position, he interested himself in the business of his son-in-law, who was local agent of the Brandt, Dent Co., to the extent of talking with Perry Heath and requesting Heath to look into the matter of the Brandt automatic cashier, and if he was satisfied that postmasters were desirous of purchasing machines and that machine was a meritorious and useful device at least to accept and pay for the machines already in use and to purchase such others as there might be a legitimate demand for. Judge Baldwin says that his name was used without his slightest warrant. After this one effort, he had nothing more to do with the cashiers. Mr. Pierce concluded: "The allegation that Judge Baldwin appeared to have been willing to adopt any measures that would bring about an order, whether such measures were legitimate, the influence or illegitimate use of money, appears to have been unfounded. Miller in his letter of April 5, 1899, in which he said: 'Judge Baldwin who says to find out if possible exactly what this man Beavers wants to insure our success in that department in the way of dollars and cents, but not to give it to him unless forced to do so, and when you do, if at all, he desires to be present himself and plan the agreement, but he says it is not even time to think of this move.' "This is met by Judge Baldwin in an absolute and categorical denial, as is the charge that he was in any way connected with, or that he had any knowledge of any agreement to pay money to Driggs or that he knew at all of the employment of Driggs in any way by the company. "It appears to me, therefore, that Judge Baldwin was satisfactorily met the charges of improper or corrupt connection with the placing of the Brandt automatic cashiers to the postoffice department and that he should be deemed exonerated from any complicity with any fraud or corruption which may have existed in that business."

THE PANAMA TREATY.

Marletta, Ga., Dec. 24.—In an interview regarding the Panama canal treaty, United States Senator A. S. Clay, speaking of the building on the Panama treaty now before congress, said that he was opposed to making it a party question and said that worst of all he desired that all facts concerning Panama secession be made public. If recent developments in the isthmus concerning the relations of Panama and Colombia came as the result of certain conditions for which the United States was not responsible, then," said Senator Clay, "such facts would justify me in voting for the ratification of the Panama treaty. If we fail to secure the necessary land by the way of the Panama route, it becomes the sworn duty of the president to proceed at once to construct the canal by way of the Nicaraguan route. If the law is administered calmly, cannot possibly fail."

"BE PATIENT"

Daily Injunction of Gen. Reyes to Colombians

HE FILED HIS PROTEST

He Will Remain in the Country Until He Receives an Answer—Great Britain has at Last Granted Recognition to the Republic of Panama.

Washington, Dec. 24.—General Reyes, special representative of Colombia to the United States, today presented to Secretary Hay at his house the protest he has been preparing against the action of the United States in recognizing the republic of Panama. Later General Reyes said that he expected to remain in Washington until he received an answer from Secretary Hay to the note submitted today. This paper he expects will be sent to congress soon after it convenes in January. General Reyes said he deprecated the war-like talk and endeavored steadily to prevent any outbreak on the part of the people of Colombia against the United States. General Reyes sent urgent cablegram to President Marroquin today, the first two words of which were "Be patient." He sends a cable to the same effect every day in the hope of quieting his people at least until his mission here is completed. GREAT BRITAIN COMES IN. Panama, Dec. 24.—C. Mallet, the British consul, has officially informed the junta that he has received a cablegram from the foreign office to the effect that Great Britain formally recognizes the republic of Panama. Chicago Grand Jury Reports On Recent Doings

Recommendations That Reports of Disorders at Funerals and Desecration of the Dead Be Investigated.

Chicago, Dec. 24.—Seathing criticisms of persons who have disturbed funeral processions in Chicago were made by a grand jury which today reported to Judge Clifford. The grand jury also criticized "irresponsible organizations" for the creating disorder and defying the law. "The report was drawn by Col. James W. McFadden, and says: "We find that for several months irresponsible organizations have been creating disorder in Cook county, desecrating property and defying the law. We have found that ordinary subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum made forthwith and issued by this court have been evaded. "It is a public report that at present in Chicago, houses of worship and houses of mourning are made scenes of disorder by men calling themselves union pickets and that the bodies of the dead are desecrated. We believe this condition justifies careful examination, and we respectfully suggest that the conditions we have recited be made a special subject of inquiry by the January grand jury."

WANT MR. BRYAN REMOVED

The Heirs of Philo S. Bennett Go into Court.

New Haven, Dec. 24.—Application for the removal of Wm. J. Bryan as executor of the will of Philo S. Bennett was made by Mrs. Bennett and other residuary legatees in probate court today on the ground that he has neglected and violated his duties and because his interests personally as trustee are inimical to those of the legatees under the will. The petition is in this page, as follows: "Said Bryan, by appearing on the order of the court admitting the said will and by the prosecution of said appeal is preferring his own interests as an individual and as an alleged trustee to his duties as executor of said will, to their interests as such legatees and to his duties as such executor; and said conduct of said Bryan is inconsistent with his retention in office as executor under said will, and has rendered him an unfit and unsuitable person to continue exercising the duties of said office in the development of said case." The signers of the petition are Mrs. Grace Bennett, widow, and Mrs. Della A. Bigelow, of Waterbury, N. Y., and George A. Cable, on Yonkers, N. Y.
