JUDGE AINSWORTH HAD A ROUTINE OF HIS OWN

How He Built a Switch Through the Interior Department Around a Contested Point.

That the minority stockholders of the north side canals have received the $75,000 due them out of the sale of those properties to the government, about two months earlier than they would have otherwise received it, is due to the persistence and nervousness of Judge Ainsworth, when he has anything under way, resulting in the breaking of the routine of the interior department all along the line.

The judge from the beginning of the negotiations had crowded the affair in the swiftest possible manner and when he left for Washington recently there seemed nothing in the way of an early settlement and the payment of the purchase price.

But when he arrived in Washington he was told on his appearance at the department that it would be at least two months before the matter of the canal settlement could be reached. The uppermost thing in the department at that time was the trouble over the Oklahoma lands and they had the right of way.

It was explained to the judge that every thing had to be taken in its regular order and moved through the department with machine like precision; when a document had been disposed of in one place there was another for it to be taken to for signature or initiation; it was impossible to vary the order of fate.

Judge Ainsworth asked if he would not be permitted to set up a department routine of his own just for the handling of this canal sale business. He would carry the papers from one officer to another, and that permission having been given he became temporarily associated with the department passing from one office to another until he had completed his business with the secretary.

When he had taken the last step he waited until the check had been sent and then he came home. The Oklahoma lands are still proceeding leisurely through the department.

THE LECTURE COURSE OF THE C. E. SOCIETY

Miss Pearl Helen Herndon to Take the Place of Mrs. Nellie Peck Saunders.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church is now able to announce the concluding numbers of its lecture course. Owing to the illness of Nellie Peck Saunders, who has been advertised to appear in Phoenix in this course, there has been much delay in arranging for the second number, but the society has been fortunate in securing Pearl Helen Herndon, a reader of rare ability who comes to Phoenix as an able substitute for Mrs. Saunders.

Miss Herndon is a resident of California, where she is well known, and has traveled extensively in the east. In all places which she has visited, her entertainments have been pronounced most pleasing and satisfactory. She will be in Phoenix Monday, March 26th, and will appear in a mixed program from the most popular authors.

The date set for the coming of the Dunbar quartette bell ringers is April 1st. This will surely be a treat for all music lovers of Phoenix.

WENT TO NEW YORK.

Mr. Ike Diamond of the Boston store left Sunday morning for New York City on a purchasing trip.

While in the metropolis Mr. Diamond will establish an office for a resident buyer who will forward the latest styles to the Boston store at least twice a week.

This is an innovation for a Phoenix store and shows the progressiveness of the one in question.

Mr. Diamond will be away about six weeks.

Notice is hereby given that I will not be responsible for any indebtedness incurred by my wife, Mrs. Linna H. Woods, except by a written order signed by me. Frank Woods.

Phonograph Burglar Alarm.

A phonograph device that will call the police by telephone adds a new hazard to the damage of the burglar's profession. When an attempt is made to force a window or door with which the proper connections have been made an electric current operates a phonograph in the garret. The machine calls up central and asks for the police station. The phonograph then informs officers of the robbery, giving street and number, and repeats this information as long as the receiver is down. Meantime, the intruder, all unconscious that an alarm has been rung in, virtually walks into a trap and if the call is promptly responded to, is soon in the lock-up.—New York Tribune.
