

"GOOD CLOTHES AND NO OTHER KIND"

The largest men's store and the greatest clothing business in Arizona has risen here on the foundation of high quality merchandise at fair prices and a square deal to every patron.

"GOOD CLOTHES AND NO OTHER KIND"

Never have we permitted and never will we permit anyone to undersell us on goods of equal value or successfully to dispute our supremacy in any branch of our business.

MANY ELKS AND OTHERS WILL GO TO TUCSON

GREEN CANTALOUPE GO UP.

A Jolly Crowd, Full of the Carnival
Spirit, Will Invaade Tucson
Tomorrow.

The "Green Cantaloupe" club and their admirers will leave at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, city time, for the old Pueblo city.

A special train will take the Elkiets to Tucson, where they will play a game of baseball with their brother Elkiets in that city, and then a special train will bring all that is left of them back again. Not only are all the Elks in town going, but many of the un-anted. Of course, there are some few Elks who never did get back from the celebration in Los Angeles; and they will be missed by their brothers. But there are enough going to create havoc in the old Pueblo town and raise the price of green cantaloupes at least two dollars a box.

The train will start promptly on time with a whoop and a hurrah that will drive the coyotes back to the hills. There will be music all the way over and some coming back. Syl Ganz will have charge of the orchestra and will direct the "chorus." Others who will be identified with the "chorus" are Fen Hildreth, Henry Bawitz and Frank Leeper. Besides this there will be a baby chorus composed of Doc Schlesinger, Ed Goldman, Pud Bennett and Sid Goldman. This will be no means be all the music that will be heard on the excursion. A Redewill will bring a baby grand piano with him, and if he does not sell it to a brother on the way back it will be because that brother has cut his Elks' teeth. Some of the special solos will be "Please Get Out and Let Me In," by C. J. McElroy; "Get Your Money's Worth," by N. E. Levi, and "I Gather Them In," by Tom Whitney.

George Purdy Bullard has two typewritten speeches prepared. One is understood to be an eulogy of the baseball team of the local lodge, and the other an apology for them. Which of the speeches will be delivered will depend on the result of the game. In like manner the official choir of the local lodge has learned a hallelujah chorus and a funeral march.

Joe Meiser will have charge of the refreshments, while Harry Pearson and Kenneth Shibley have been appointed a committee on irrigation. H. H. McNeil will try to preserve order and Vernon Cook will see that he is disobeyed.

Everyone, whether an Elk or not, is expected to appear at the station in costume—and this is no joke. Linen dusters, canes and ribbons are prescribed. The delegation from Phoenix is to be met at the station in Tucson with a brass band. In the afternoon they will be entertained at Elysium park by the Raymond Teal company, and in the evening at the club house of the Tucson lodge by the members of that lodge and the male members of the Teal company.

A report from Tucson yesterday said that 500 tickets had already been sold to the ball game.

Reap the Benefit of These Bargains

Low prices alone, are occasionally a good reason for buying; but a sale like this which combines high quality merchandise at the very lowest prices, offers a bargain opportunity seldom equaled. No other store in Phoenix is in a position to equal the values we offer because no other Phoenix store has goods of equal value to show;—a fact you can prove for yourself if you care to look around—You can save many a dollar here now; but don't delay in coming—the good things are going fast and early choosers have best selection.
