COMMUNITY PARTICIPATED

In Laying Corner Stone of the Y. M. C. A. Building

AN INTERESTING CEREMONY

Addresses By Leading Citizens and Y. M. C. A. Workers, Both Clerical and Secular—Story of the Growth of Association.

With due and proper ceremony the corner stone of the new Y. M. C. A. building, now well under construction, was laid yesterday afternoon. It formally marks the beginning of that portion of the city's architecture made possible by public contributions of the people, that shall perpetuate through the generations to come, local institutions of fundamental virtue on which rest even government itself; institutions wider than creed, broader than mere mental development, the security of civilization. The only building previously erected here, that might by any license be listed in the same category, is the public library, which is a monument to the generosity of a single philanthropist and only in small degree the product of the cooperation of the people in their own altruistic interest.

The exercises began about ten minutes after the advertised time, which was 3 o'clock, and were carried out in accordance with the program, except that J. W. Dorris, former president of the association, declined to speak on the ground that he was not accustomed to public speaking, though he was present to emphasize his interest in the occasion, and complimentary remarks in respect of his labors for the Y. M. C. A. were made by the chairman at the appropriate time.

B. A. Fowler, the president of the Y. M. C. A., occupied the chair and introduced each speaker with fitting mention of his position or connection with the movement, so that even a stranger could appreciate the representative character of the program. It might have been lengthened indefinitely were it not that time is fleeting, for in addition to those who participated there were many present who could have graced the day and whose money and personal efforts had their fruition in the growing structure. It was estimated that the audience assembled on the temporary boards of the second floor, in the southwest corner of the building, numbered 150. As it was the dinner hour for many, and Thanksgiving dinner at that, there was constant going and coming, so that 200 at least were in attendance during a part of the exercises.

After the invocation by Rev. Robert S. Fisher, pastor of the First M. E. church, a selection was sung by Dr. Francis H. Redewell, Rev. G. W. Forman, John Armstrong and W. G. Tolleson. Rev. J. W. Atwood, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, read from the scriptures, and Rev. F. B. Sines, pastor of the Central M. E. church, South offered prayer. The first speaker introduced was D. W. Pollard, state secretary, who during the last year or so has materially aided the local officers of the association in the prosecution of their work. His subject was Y. M. C. A. state industrial work. As the addresses were all short, Mr. Pollard in particular could not enter greatly into the details of a subject so comprehensive, but in a general way referred to the work of the association in the various lines of industry throughout the territory, not only present but prospective, calling attention to the vast opportunities presented in the different towns where conditions are so widely different, particularly in this prospective state, notable for its diversified resources. Governor R. E. Sloan in response to the Relation of Y. M. C. A. work to the Territory, said that the growth of industrial effort had brought about the necessity of such an organization as the Y. M. C. A., to perform a work that cannot be done by either the church or the state. He regarded it as a natural condition. The association recognizes the major part of its membership as healthy young men and boys in need of exercise and sports as well as moral training and tries to provide for these needs. It is essentially an organization for the community, the town or city performing those functions that are otherwise provided for in rural districts, and while it does a work the government believes the state cannot do it is valuable to the state in many ways. It is worth its cost as an advertisement alone and in greater degree as it decreases crime, strengthens bodies and betters citizenship. Moreover it has provided an avenue to success for many public men whose first experience has been within its halls. The laying of this corner stone he regarded as an important public event for these and other reasons and hoped this example would be followed by many others.

Chief Justice Edward Kent was asked to speak of the Y. M. C. A. work as related to the courts. He said he presumed the chairman had in mind the popular idea that the chief work of the courts was in restraint or punishment of crime and he therefore took the liberty to qualify the subject accordingly, though he said the popular idea of the work of the courts is only true in part. He said that the aid of the association in the suppression and prevention of crime cannot be measured. He did not mean that it could not be appreciated, but that the influences of the Y. M. C. A. are so subtle and far-reaching that they cannot be measured. He said he had lived in Phoenix for eight years and during that time there had been a constant increase of crime, the present term of court having been the most notable of all in that respect. This he said is in large part due to increasing population. He attributed three-fourths of the crime to drunkenness and the influences of liquor upon young men during their youthful waywardness. He said statistics prepared by criminologists show that the average age of the criminal is less than 25 years, which means that the average is in the neighborhood of 20 years for the occasional aged criminal would offset in years many of the younger ones. He had been surprised at the youthfulness of the criminals in Arizona and believed that the work of the Y. M. C. A. would have much to do in removing from boys and young men the evil influences of intemperance and vice. In the title of the

FOOTBALL SEASON OFFICIALLY ENDED

PENNSYLVANIA EXCELS CORNELL IN WALLING.

New Mexico Agricultural College Evens Matter With U. of A.

Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—Wallowing and sliding around on a field deep with mud, slush, ice and pools of water, the University of Pennsylvania football team defeated Cornell today in the annual game on Franklin field by a score of 17 to 6. It was a poorly played game for which the weather and field conditions were in a great measure responsible. Twenty thousand persons saw the game.

THE AGGIES BEAT TUCSON.

Tucson, Nov. 25.—New Mexico won from the University of Arizona at football today by a score of 23 to 11. The score at the end of the first half was 5 to 6 in favor of Arizona. W. J. Bryan presented a cup to the winning team.

COYOTES ARE VICTORIOUS

Prescott Loses Hard-Fought Battle of the Gridiron

THE FIGURES ARE 25-5

A Spectacular Game, full of Brilliant Plays, Delighted a Big Thanksgiving Day Crowd at East Lake Park Yesterday.

One of the most savagely contested battles of the gridiron ever played on an Arizona field—a game in which every inch was fought for viciously and as valorously defended down to the last half minute of play—was that played yesterday at East-lake park by the Phoenix high school and Prescott high school eleven which resulted in victory for Phoenix by a score of 25 to 5. If any game of football ever developed its own particular hero, yesterday's game did. The man was Captain Paul Brooks of the Coyotes.

It is not meant that Capt. Brooks won the game single handed, for no man can do that, but early in the game he showed a marvelous ability as a space winner, plunging straight through the line for big gains and carrying out trick plays like a veteran, so that for the rest of it he was given the brunt of the work. Whenever a man was seen plunging head foremost through the Prescott line it was safe to assume that that was Brooks. The valiant captain of the Coyotes won his football halo yesterday.

The whole game was a spirited contest from start to finish. Even when Phoenix was far in the lead the Prescott men never slackened in their huge efforts to push the pigskin toward the Phoenix goal. They cannot be called quitters for a moment, for in the very last minute of play, by a remarkable exhibition of speed, they captured the ball on Phoenix' 30-yard line after a long punt by a Prescott man. The game simply teemed with those startling plays that bring the spectators to their feet and often result in a change on the score board. One of the prettiest plays of the whole game was in the first half. It was Phoenix' ball near the center of the field. Halm, the Coyote quarterback with the ball a little way, looked around and then shot it forward to Lester Smith. The latter tucked it snugly under his arm and, dodging and ducking, sprinted down the field with the Prescott team after him. He ran forty yards and scored a touchdown. The play came like a crack of lightning and the touchdown was made almost before the crowd realized it. It was as clean a bit of playing as one could wish to see. Smith was enabled to get through the Prescott line by the strong interference put up by Halm and LaTourrette who ran beside him and were laid low long before the goal was reached, while the man with the ball kept right on till he fell on it behind the posts.

The first score of the game was made within five minutes after time was called. Goebel kicked off for Phoenix to Prescott's five-yard line. The kick was returned and Halm advanced the ball 15 yards before he was downed. The interchange of kicks was for the Coyotes' advantage and by a series of rushes the ball was Phoenix' on Prescott's 15-yard line. It was pushed on for another five and then Goebel kicked a field goal making the score 3 to 0.

The next few minutes of play was characterized by strong kicking on the part of Prescott. For a short time they seemed to go through the Coyotes almost at will. It was a crucial point in the game. The Coyotes' acknowledged the strength of Prescott line by resorting to kicking. Prescott carried the ball down the field and Goebel kicked it back again. The beauty of this play was that as soon as Goebel struck his toe into the field after it. Twice in succession he nailed in his tracks the Prescott man who caught Goebel's punts, and the visitors were forced to go through the harrowing line bucking tactics again to regain what they had lost. Lowry, the Prescott full, was going valiant service and in two downs gained 15 yards. They played hard strong however and for a few minutes time was taken out while he recovered from a hard tackle. The ball was carried to Phoenix' 50-yard line by Payne, Merritt and Lowry. It became Phoenix' ball and was carried back to the 40-yard line when Prescott got it again and tried two kicks. Both were pretty blocked. One of them Crawford, who kicked, recovered for Prescott by the quickest sort of work. Prescott then tried a forward pass which was uncompleted. Prescott losing 15 yards by the maneuver. The Coyotes got the ball and the forward pass, already described, was made by Halm to Smith, the latter running over for a touchdown. The score at the end of the first half was 8 to 0 for the Coyotes as Goebel failed to kick goal.

During the intermission there was loud cheering for both teams. Among those who were "all right" according to the grandstand and bleachers were Brooks, Goebel, Hawley and Foster Roekwell, the coach.

The beginning of the second half looked exceedingly cheerful for the visitors. They went in with strength and renewed enthusiasm. Prescott kicked off; Brooks advanced the ball 10 yards; the Coyotes made small gains on two downs and Goebel kicked. Prescott tried a forward pass that failed to connect and lost 15 yards. After more downs the Coyotes got the ball on Prescott's 10-yard line. It looked like a touchdown but wasn't. The mountaineers held the Coyotes on downs. Prescott kicked and Halm almost fumbled but recovered the ball quickly. Brooks went through for 19 and then the sun shone for Prescott. Halm tried again the same play that netted a touchdown in the first half. It was a forward pass meant for Preston but C. Crawford, Prescott's half back, snatched the ball cleanly out of the air and with a clear field started on a 50-yard run. The Coyotes never caught him and the one touchdown made by the visitors was scored. No goal was kicked so the score was 8 to 5 in the Coyotes' favor.

Marlar was put in at tackle by the Coyotes in place of Grimshaw. Phoenix kicked off. Prescott tried for a forward pass but before it could be thrown Hawley tackled. After an interchange of kicks in which the Coyotes came out a few yards ahead the ball was carried into, dangerous proximity to the Prescott goal. Brooks was woked on almost every play and was

ONLY TWO SONS LEFT OF FAMILY OF NINE

The Rest Killed in Automobile Collision Near Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Nov. 25.—Nicholas Jacobus, a real estate dealer of this city, his two sons, Anthony, aged 8, and Clement, aged 4, and two daughters, Kate, aged 18, and Marie, aged 18, were almost instantly killed, and Mrs. Jacobs and a two months' old babe were fatally injured and two sons, John and Peter, slightly injured, when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a trolley car on the Santa Ana-Los Angeles line at Little Station and thrown forty feet today. The two boys not killed jumped just before the collision.

The family had been at a Thanksgiving dinner at Watts with friends and were returning to the city. They drove the automobile on the track, and saw the car bearing down upon them, but it was too late to get out of its way.

ONE DINNER IN PEACE AND DEEP THANKFULNESS

The President Ate It Without Having to Work For It.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Sated with possum dinners and elaborate banquets he was forced to face in his recent trip from coast to coast, President Taft sat down this afternoon to a family Thanksgiving dinner. The piece de resistance was a mammoth turkey that had been raised on a Rhode Island farm and looked almost mountainous in its proportions. Mr. Taft smiled genially when dessert was served. "Thank goodness," he sighed happily, "I've had a dinner at which I haven't been compelled to make speeches and where no reception committee lurked in the background. I've enjoyed food—real food—and I haven't had to work to get it."

The president had no guests; only the Taft family were present, including Mrs. Laughlin, a sister of Mrs. Taft, Miss Helen and Charley Taft had come from their schools. When dinner was over and the family had spent some time in the drawing room, Mr. Taft called Attorney General Wickersham on the telephone and he arrived in half an hour. The president and attorney general struck off on a walk that lasted two hours.

NO MYSTERY ABOUT IT

The Skeleton Found on Saturday Near Calexico

El Centro, Nov. 25.—Further developments concerning the skeleton found in a box near Calexico, indicate that it is that of a woman, who had evidently been dead for several years. It is believed that it was unearthed by a wash of the canyon leading to New River. There is no record as to whose body it may be, but it is believed to be one of the early interments in the town's history. The coroner has ordered the skeleton interred. He rejected the idea of a mystery.

THE VICTIMS OF ZELAYA

Groce and Cannon Were Prisoners of War

AS UNCLE SAM SUSPECTED

The Government Has Been Informed Officially of Their Status—The Revolutionists Encouraged by American Attitude.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Grace and Cannon, the two Americans executed by order of President Zelaya of Nicaragua last week held commissions in the insurgent army, according to private advices received tonight from Bluefields, where the revolutionists' government is located. The dispatch stated that the state department of the United States had been notified of this fact.

The state department has been anxious to clear up the point whether the two men had been commissioned or were merely acting in an individual capacity, for in the former event, they would have been entitled to treatment as prisoners of war.

REVOLUTIONISTS HEARTENED.

By the News of the Friendliness of the United States.

Colon, Nov. 25.—Since the announcement was made that the American government has recognized the revolutionists, enthusiasm here has become more intense. Volunteers from the plantations and gold mines are eager offering their services to Estrada. It is stated at reliable quarters that Grace and Cannon, the Americans executed recently, were shot and buried by order of President Zelaya. They were with General Chamorro and were captured in a fight near Colorado Junction. Great indignation is felt here. Two hundred deserters from the government forces east of Rama joined General Estrada yesterday. The men were furnished.

THE WAR SPREADS.

Estrada Increasing His Hold on Nicaragua.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The revolution in Nicaragua is spreading, in the opinion of Captain Shipley, the commander of the United States cruiser Des Moines, which is off the coast of Nicaragua. The revolutionary forces are reported to be maintaining an effective blockade and patrolling off Greytown with two gunboats. Assurance is given that American and foreign interests are being protected.

These are important facts contained in a cablegram received at the navy department today from the commander of the Des Moines at Port Limon. On November 23 revolutionary gunboats fired on Greytown, but without effect. The revolutionary forces have possession of the back country of Nicaragua, including Rama, where fighting is likely to occur. Officers from the Des Moines landed at Greytown but found only one American citizen.

ARMS FOR REVOLUTIONISTS.

Bluefields, Nov. 25.—The Norwegian steamer Ustein arrived this morning from New Orleans with 2,000 Mauser rifles, 250,000 rounds of ammunition and several pieces of light artillery for the revolutionists. The steamer also brought several Americans to operate the guns.

In an interview today, General Chamorro, the revolutionary leader, said that Grace and Cannon were captured by General Toledo near Greytown. Zelaya ordered them shot. Toledo refused to obey the order, but had them placed in the front ranks, where they were open to General Chamorro's attack. They were unhurt and subsequently were sent to the dungeon in El Castillo fort. General Chamorro says he knows nothing further regarding Grace and Cannon. Chamorro declares that the blockade of Greytown is effective.

A FRIENDLY CALL.

By British Naval Commander on Provisional President.

Colon, Nov. 25.—A wireless dispatch from Bluefields, Nicaragua, dated November 24, received here today, says: "The British cruiser Scylla arrived here on Sunday and leaves today. Commander Bertram S. Thesiger of the cruiser made an official visit to the provisional president, Estrada, today."

ITS POSSIBLE PURPOSE.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The visit of the British cruiser Scylla to Bluefields, Nicaragua and the call of its commander, Bertram S. Thesiger, on Senator Estrada, the provisional president, is not understood at the British embassy. Inquiry tonight met with the statement that no advice of the warship's call had been received and it is conjectured that the vessel put in merely to discover whether British interests were in jeopardy. It is denied that the personal visit of Commander Thesiger might have been to ascertain exactly the proportions the revolution had attained. It was pointed out that if Great Britain intended to recognize the belligerency of the Estrada party, it would have acted under international law, which provides that such recognition shall be public and formal.

FIGHTING NEAR BLUEFIELDS.

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 25.—Officers of the steamer Bluefields, arriving today from Port Limon, Costa Rica, say it was reported at Port Limon that fighting was going on near Bluefields. As the Bluefields was leaving, a large American cruiser was making into Port Limon.

GUNBOAT AWAITING ORDERS.

Seattle, Nov. 25.—The gunboat Princeton at the Puget sound navy yard is awaiting orders to proceed to Central America to relieve the gunboat Vicksburg, now at Corinto, Nicaragua.

REMEMBERED BY TENNESSEE.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Sheriff Shipp of Tennessee and his companions, serving jail sentences inflicted by the supreme court of the United States for contempt, have a legion of friends in Tennessee, as was attested today. All were provided a turkey dinner of lavish proportions after the matter had been arranged by wire with the warden.

FORMER SECRETARY GAGE'S MARRIAGE.

San Diego, Nov. 25.—At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Ballou at Coronado this evening, their daughter, Mrs. Ada Ballou, became the wife of Hon. Lyman J. Gage, former secretary of the treasury and now a resident of San Diego.

WATER WAS WASTED ON THE MINE FIRE

THE THING NOW TO SAVE BODIES OF THE DEAD.

The Ill-Fated Mine to Be Closed Until the Fire is Smothered.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 25.—Details of a meeting held today between the state mining board, Battalion Chief McDonald of the Chicago fire department, and W. W. Taylor, general manager of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul company's mines, were made known. Battalion Chief McDonald, after an inspection of the work of throwing water in the east bottom of the mine for more than a week, advised the mine inspectors and representatives of the coal company that the water was not reaching the fire. The bodies of the known dead in that vein are already inaccessible because of the quantity of water already thrown into the mine.

Williams of the Urbana rescue station reported that the fire had extended to the coal pillars, forming dangerous gases and making perilous the rescuers' work. It was unanimously agreed that the only thing to make possible the ultimate recovery of the bodies was to seal up both the main shaft and the air shaft, and keep them sealed until the fire was smothered.

GOTCH MET MATCH IN A GIANT POLE

He Failed to Gain a Fall in the One Hour Allowed.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Frank Gotch tonight failed to gain a single fall from Zbysoo, the giant Pole, in an hour and a half lost the match, the conditions of which required Gotch to win two falls within an hour. The Pole displayed tremendous physical strength and an excellent knowledge of the game. Zbysoo said: "I can beat this man in a straight match." Jack Herman, his manager, said: "I will post $2,500 in Chicago day after tomorrow for a match with Gotch for $10,000 a side." Zbysoo weighed 236 pounds and Gotch 263. Ten thousand people saw the match.

FOOTBALL CASUALTIES.

Five Injured More or Less Seriously at Walla Walla.

Walla Walla, Wash., Nov. 25.—Five football players were injured, two seriously, in a game between Washington state college and the Whitman college eleven, which was won by the former by a score of 23 to 6.

Clarence Morrow, right guard for Whitman, sustained three broken ribs, and William Clements, Whitman's center, was unconscious for five hours from a blow on the head. He is reported to be in a critical condition. Buck, Foran and Johnson of the Washington eleven were also injured.

GREAT RISK FOR LITTLE

In Course Adopted by House of Lords

LORD BALFOUR'S WARNING

At the Best a Victory Would Be Only Temporary—A Spiritual Lord Takes Issue With the Primate on the Duty of Bishops.

London, Nov. 25.—If you win, your victory will be only a temporary one. If you lose, you will have prejudiced the position, power, prestige and usefulness of the house of lords, which I believe every one of you honors and desires to serve as heartily as I do myself.

In this homely, candid fashion, Lord Balfour tonight told the members of the house of lords his opinion of the course they are pursuing with regard to the budget.

The Bishop of Hereford, who intervened later in the debate, said that while he respected the Archbishop of Canterbury's desire for the prelates to abstain from voting on the measure, he claimed the right to exercise independent judgment. If the bishops had any function to perform, he said, it was to speak for the multitudes poor.

Lord Curzon, who it was announced would reopen the debate on the budget when the house of lords met today, was taken ill in the night. His indisposition is not serious, but it changed the speaking program.

THANKSGIVING DAY AT WINKELMAN CAMP

Its Celebration By the Killing of Two Mexicans.

Winkelman, Ariz., Nov. 25.—A Mexican whose name is unknown was shot and killed by an American named Crozier, in the course of a quarrel this morning. The face of the Mexican was torn away by a discharge from a shotgun. This afternoon another Mexican was killed by the marshal, who was trying to disarm him. The Mexican was flourishing a revolver in a saloon and the officer tried to take the weapon away from him. During the struggle the weapon was discharged. On account of these killings there is considerable feeling among the Mexicans.

HE MAY RECOVER.

A Football Player Hurt at Lynchburg, Virginia.

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 25.—Cadet Fred Webster of Missouri, Mont., center of the Virginia Military institute football eleven, was unconscious for several hours tonight as a result of injuries received in a game today with Davidson, N. C. college. It is believed he will recover.
