

PENNSYLVANIA GIVES SUPPORT TO ROOSEVELT

The fifteenth are in the lead. Roosevelt national and state delegates in the sixteenth district are leading.

PITTSBURGH, April 13. (Bulletin)—Incomplete returns from the four congressional districts in this city indicate the election of eight Roosevelt delegates. This is conceded by the Taft organization.

SCRANTON, Pa., April 13. (Bulletin)—Twenty out of sixty-two election districts in this city in today's primary voted on national delegates as follows: Carson (Roosevelt) 1,265; Connel (Taft) 387; Von Bergen (Roosevelt) 1,124; Williams (Taft) 327. Scranton is in the Tenth congressional district.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 13. (Bulletin)—From scattered returns through this city and Lehigh county, which is part of the Thirteenth congressional district, it appears Roosevelt delegates have swept the county three to one.

PHILADELPHIA, April 13.—In the Twenty-fifth district Roosevelt delegates are leading. In the Twenty-fourth district the Taft delegates are ahead on incomplete returns.

AMUSEMENTS

THE COLISEUM.

Harris and Vernon who are known from one end of the United States to the other, as one of the most famous teams of novelty dancers to be seen on the vaudeville circuits, have just returned from a tour of the Orient, and will again fill engagements in America, appearing at the Coliseum on Tuesday evening for a week's entertainment. During their trip abroad they traveled extensively and found the Chinese, the Japanese and the Australians as appreciative or graceful movement as the people of the Occident. Dancing before a group of squatting, squint-eyed Orientals, each carrying a load of poppies, piling into insignificance an ordinary American load of peaches; executing nimble steps before a kimonos clad audience of profusely polite Japanese gentlemen and their ancient and honorable parents; or appearing before the cosmopolitan people of the Australian cities where the man from the brush rubs elbows with the sailor from the ships of all the world, is an experience not afforded to many persons, yet this is exactly what Harris and Vernon have been doing since their last appearance before the people of Phoenix. They have danced here a number of times and the fact that they are coming, immediately brings the remembrance of past evenings of pleasure to theater-goers. The attractive agility of those clever people has literally led them to dance their way along the road to fame.

The Musical Islands will also aid in making the bill for the coming week particularly good. They too are former favorites of the Coliseum patrons and put on a novelty musical act that carries an elaborate set of organ chimes made with electrical effects. A feature of their performance is a basso profundo solo, something seldom seen on the vaudeville stage.

The present bill will be repeated tonight and Monday evening with new photo plays at each performance.

A FLORAL LAY.

The early tubdub is in bloom,
Adown the mall
Its clusters tall
Help dissipate the winter's gloom.
Now other blooms get in the game,
If we but try
We may espy
On every side, the what's-its-name.
On botany I am not strong;
But I do know
That blossoms blow
When gentle springtime comes along.

Consumptives Helped By Tuberculosis Medicine

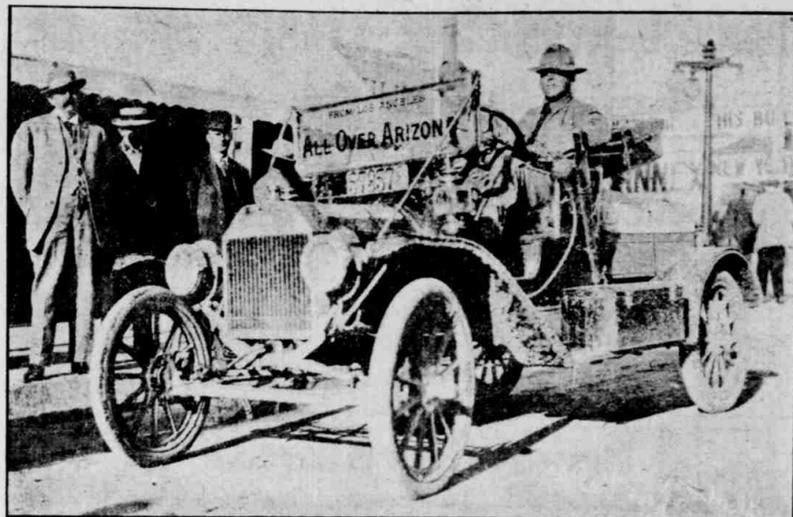

It is folly to believe that Consumption differs from every other disease in not requiring the use of any specific medicine for its cure. The trouble has been that none was known until the many cures effected by Eckman's Alternative began to be realized. Now, for ten years, an enormous mass of voluntary and thankful testimonials from persons who consider that they owe their lives to this remedy have been accumulating. Surely plenty of time to demonstrate its lasting value. You can write to any of them. Here is one:

5223 Girard Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.
"Gentlemen: In the winter of 1902 I had an attack of Grippe, followed by Pneumonia, and later by Consumption. I grew steadily worse. In the winter of 1903 I had cough, night sweats, fever and raised quantities of awful looking stuff and later I had many hemorrhages, at one time three in three successive days. Milk and eggs became so distasteful I could keep nothing down. Three physicians treated me. I was ordered to the mountains, but did not go. Eckman's Alternative was recommended by a friend. After taking a small quantity I had the first quiet night's sleep for weeks. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until entirely gone. I am perfectly well. Everything I say here can be verified by my family and friends."
(Signed) ANNIE F. LOUGHRAN.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by all druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

THE GIRL AND THE BOY

Ferris Hartman and his superb company will appear at the Elks theater on April 15 and 16 in Walter De Leon's new musical comedy, "The Girl and the Boy." Mr. De Leon is also the author and composer of the "The Campus," and his second work will be eagerly welcomed here. Accompanying Mr. Hartman will be Walter De Leon, Miss "Muggins" Davies, Miss Myrtle Dingwall, Percy Bronson, Roscoe Arbuckle and the entire original company that produced "The Girl and the Boy" at the Grand opera house in Los Angeles and remained during its long run there, will be seen here and the play will be given exactly the same costumes and settings as was seen there.

"The Girl and the Boy" tells the story of a millionaire's son who marries a pretty girl at a seaside resort and gets the parental allowance cut off instantly. The father writes the boy, laying down the proposition that he should return at once and go to work if he would prevent disinheritance. As the father lives in San Francisco, and the boy is 449 miles away and broke, his difficulty in filling the behest is obvious. How the young pair scheme to pay their hotel bill and at the same time raise enough money for a railroad journey, furnish the incidents necessary to the plot. Walter De Leon is Hammond Smith, "The Boy," and "Muggins" Davies, is Michacla Sanderson Smith, "The Girl." Other characters are J. P. Rockley, a millionaire who wants to buy the Oceanside hotel, which it develops is owned by the boy's father, taken by Joseph Fogarty; Edith, his daughter, the role is the one in which Miss Myrtle Dingwall has made such a hit; Angus McPherson, a Scotchman, a part created by Ferris Hartman; Jack Newton, the breezy hotel manager, which is in Percy Bronson's hands; Slat, the bell boy, handled by Roscoe Arbuckle; Sanchez De Chile, a Spanish fisherman, who is Oliver Le Noir, of the big bass voice; Madame Le Cordex, clairvoyant and palmist is played by the staturesque Miss Josie Hart; Harry Polard as Ronald Curtis. The music of "The Girl and the Boy," is thoroughly charming and delightful and contains the big song hit successes, "Hesitate," "Oh, Gee, We're Married," "The Kiss," "The Girl and the Boy," the laughing sextette "Summer," "Tommy Jones" and "Life is a Stage." Besides these numbers the ensembles and choruses are very fine, the comedy element is largely in evidence and Ferris Hartman has a part which fits him like a glove, from which he extracts the utmost good humor. Not the least attractive feature of this splendid production is the scenery and costumes and the chorus, at least the feminine portion of it is a delight to the eye.

The American Bar association has endorsed the bill now pending in the senate for the reform of the courts. The resolution applies to both civil and criminal cases and to alleged error on the ground of misdirection of the jury or the improper admission or rejection of evidence or for error as to any matter of pleading or procedure.

The vastness of the Pennsylvania railroad system and the number of people dependent upon it, is indicated in a report just issued showing that on December 31, 1911, it has 25,236.5 miles of track, the greatest in the history of the company. The trackage is distributed in 14 states.

WOOD'S GIANT INTELLECT

ing out of the "Kentucky law" section. The senate went into the committee of the whole to consider senate bill 4 the militia code bill, a measure so big the legislature never undertook to print it. And various amendments were made, including one to eliminate insurrections as an occasion for calling out the militia. The noon hour arrived and the senate took a recess.

The first thing in the afternoon was the introduction and passage of a resolution on the appointment of Judge Sloan as federal judge. A letter from Judge Nave sometime ago putting the senate right as to the action of the bar association had been referred to a committee. Yesterday's resolution said in substance that the senate had no notion of changing its mind, and directed that a copy of the resolution be wired to the Arizona senators.

A letter was read from Parker board of trade asking favorable action on Mr. Drennan's public land bill.

House bill 59, house bill 45 and house bill 18, received from the house, were each read first time and laid on the table for one day.

The labor committee reported on two bills. Senate bill 82, employers' liability was referred to the committee of the whole on Monday as was senate bill 88, to be considered in connection with senate bill 12.

The county affairs committee reported senate bill 78, abolishing the office of state engineer, recommending reference to committee of the whole on Monday.

A message from the governor announced the nomination of members of two territorial boards, as follows: Board of pharmacy—Fred Fleischman of Tucson, A. G. Hulett of Phoenix, J. A. Dines of Tempe, George Martin Jr. of Tucson, T. L. McCutcheon of Yuma, O. O. Hammill of Douglas and Will Marlar of Flagstaff.

Board of horticulture—Andrew Kimball of Thatcher, W. K. Bowen of in-

Mesa City and Prof. R. H. Forbes of Tucson. Nominations were referred to committees.

The nomination of the governor for membership on the state board of education were confirmed. The senate then went into committee of the whole with Senator Hechtman in the chair and spent the remainder of the day in further considering senate bill 4.

Mr. Roberts moved that the bill be indefinitely postponed and there was a long debate. Mr. Breen said the motion was un-American. Mr. Hubbell rose to defend the constitution. He dwelt at length on the purpose and value of the militia. Mr. Worsley opposed the bill. He thought the present law sufficient to carry out the mandates of the constitution. He particularly objected to the appropriation. The motion to postpone the bill was lost by a vote of 7 to 12, as follows:

Ayes—Chase, Harrison, Lovin, Pace, Roberts, Sims, Worsley.

Nays—Breen, Brown, Davis, Hechtman, Hubbell, Hughes, Kinnay, Wessell, Willis, Wood, Wood, President.

The appropriation section was stricken out so unless something is done it later if the bill passes there will be no money to make it effective. Section 72 was stricken out on the theory that it provided for a pension system. Several other sections were killed and many minor amendments. The committee, on rising, recommended that it be referred to the appropriations committee.

The House.
Two new bills were introduced in the house yesterday:

House bill 99 by Ball pertains to the listing of property for taxation. It was referred to the committees on printing and county affairs.

House bill 100 by Jacobs is a bill that is likely to command attention. It raises the basis of the bullion tax on mines from 25 per cent to 50 per cent. The bill is likely to be opposed by not only those who object to a raise in mine taxes, but by those who prefer taxation by another method. The bill was referred to committees on printing and mines.

Under head of second reading and reference of bills:

House bill 76, insurance code was sent to committee on banking and insurance.

House bill 4 referred to judiciary committee.

House bill 85 for relief of A. W. Gregg on prison construction, referred to appropriations committee.

House bill 87 respecting liquor licenses to wavs and means committee.

definite postponement, by county affairs committee.

House bill 58, recommended for indefinite postponement, by live stock committee.

House bill 52, same recommendation by suffrage and elections committee.

House bill 47, same recommendation by same committee.

House bill 53, recommended for passage by committee on banking and insurance.

House bill 51, same recommendation, same committee.

House bill 5 recommended for passage, by petitions and memorials committee.

House went into committee of the whole with Mr. Gonzales in the chair.

House bill 6 was set forward for consideration by the committee on Monday.

House bill 50, next in order, is a bill providing that all state, county and municipal printing shall carry the union label. There was an extended discussion of the bill. Mr. Saxon thought the penalty provided, fine and forfeiture of office, too severe. Graham asked if it were not unconstitutional and Saxon in fine satire replied that a little thing like that should not embarrass anybody. He gathered that it was the purpose of the house before the session ended, to amend the constitution wherever its provisions were found to be restrictive of anything the gentlemen might wish to do. Mr. Lynch contended that it was creating a labor trust and he was surprised to see so many trust busting gentlemen engaged in an effort to build one of their own. Messrs. Barker, Graham and Irvine though defenders of union labor, were opposed to the bill. Lewis who introduced it said he thought it went too strong but he fathered it at the request of his constituents. A motion carried, recommending indefinite postponement.

House bill 33, barbering on Sunday was referred to committee of the whole for consideration on Monday, in connection with a substitute recommended by the labor committee.

Mr. Linney then moved that when the committee rise it recommend to the house that it devote its time, attention and intelligence, to carrying out the mandates of the constitution. Other gentlemen said the motion was a reprimand of the whole house by the committee and Mr. Linney agreed that that was just what he intended. The chair ruled the motion out of order.

Substitute for house bill 1, the recall bill was next on the list. The bill had passed the house, been amended and passed by the senate, sent back to the house, passed through the latter's committee and referred to committee of the whole with recommendation that the house do not concur in the senate amendments. Mr. Lynch said the senate amendments were numerous and trivial and did not alter or improve the purpose of the bill. Mr. Hall was very indignant. He said it seemed to be the purpose of the senate to keep the house from the credit of passing any important bill. He moved the committee recommend that the house do not concur in the senate amendments and the motion carried unanimously. When the house acts Monday on the committee report the procedure will be to appoint a conference committee to meet a like committee from the senate.

House bill 23 was recommended for indefinite postponement as a similar measure covers the matter.

House bill 54, the dry farming bill by Mr. Lynch, appropriating $3000 to continue experiments was recommended to the committee on appropriations.

Mr. Kellon read a letter from the Douglas chamber of commerce urging the passage of house bill 54.

House bill 55, giving all producers of farm products and cattle to the number of five head, to dispose of same without license or peddlers tax, was under consideration when the noon hour arrived. The committee rose and asked leave to sit again on the bill.

The report of the committee was filed and the house adjourned until Monday to devote the afternoon to committee work.
