Chandler News Notes

A THIMBLE PARTY
Mrs. W. J. Lewis was hostess Wednesday afternoon at a unique party at which Miss Katherine von Paul was the guest of honor. The ladies were given packages containing dress goods and were expected to construct miniature garments over clothes pins, the fashion ideas from them to be used by Miss von Paul when she goes to the Panama exposition. Mrs. F. V. Dana won first prize for the most original design. Dainty refreshments were served. The following attended: Mesdames P. M. James, D. M. Arnold, R. M. Turner, G. T. Peabody, C. Feabody, W. G. Barackman, F. V. N. Dana, G. R. Johnson and Misses Ruth and Grace Johnson.

PEABODY A DELEGATE
Secretary Peabody of the Chamber of Commerce was appointed a delegate by Governor Hunt to the National Irrigation congress which meets next month on the coast. The congress will first gather at Stockton, Sept. 13, 14, then Fresno two days, Sacramento two days and San Francisco one day, the 19th.

ALFALFA SEED CROP
Close to 1500 acres of seed alfalfa is now being harvested in the Chandler district. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ware and family left Saturday for a month's vacation at Long Beach.

GO TO GLOBE
W. G. Barackman, of the Chandler Grain and Seed Co., and Lyman Armstrong motored to Globe Tuesday on business.

Chandler district with prospects of big profits from the yield. Seed men are offering thirteen cents per pound for the best seed and the prediction is made that the price will go to fifteen cents owing to the heavy demand and the failure of seed crops in other states.

A census of the district reveals the following owners of large acreages: L. H. Sellers, 150 acres; John Andersen, 240 acres; Andreas Jenson, 400 acres; J. Carlson, 160 acres; Hans Behn, 80 acres; J. R. Barnette, 60 acres; Tom Anderson, 80 acres; A. Scheffer, 30 acres; C. R. Gordon, 30 acres.

The seed will average about 200 pounds to the acre. John Andersen tops the others with a yield of 250

PARIS STREETS ARE GAY AGAIN

Soldiers Now Given Four Days' Leave of Absence from Front—Movement to Check Campaign of Discouragement

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]
PARIS, Aug. 13.—The boulevards of Paris have come into their own. Thousands of soldiers now mingle with the usual wartime Sunday crowds—soldiers of all arms and in uniforms of all the regulation colors, bringing back some of the joy and animation that disappeared last summer. They are grouped with families and friends on the terraces of all the cafes, they whiz along all the streets in taxi-autos or in sumptuous limousines, they crowd the entrances to all the moving picture shows and promenade with the arms of women resting on their faded stained sleeves while little tots hang to their bronzed necks or cling to their calloused hands.

They are the popular "poules" (the hirsute) home from the front. It seemed last Sunday that the "poules" that left the trenches Saturday on four days' leave were there. It is believed these soldiers were returned from the front to check one phase of a systematic propaganda of discouragement that started at the beginning of the war and is still going on. The latest manifestation of it was a flood of anonymous letters to soldiers at the front informing them that while they were shedding their blood their wives were leading loose lives at home. This is supposed to be the reason for the decision of the war department to give four days' leave to the men at the front in contingents of 50,000 at a time, so that they may look into the situation at home on their own account.

The anonymous character of much of the news that circulates gave the fabricators of false news a field in the ignorance in which the public is kept concerning the details of the military operations making it impossible for anyone to deny stories that are circulated; it also makes it difficult for the police to reach the culprits, though the secret service did succeed in tracing some of the work to an eccentric millionaire named Prouvost, living at Saint Raphael who has been convicted by a court martial and sentenced to prison.

After making a fortune out of insurance, Prouvost converted his fortune into a cause, published subversive pamphlets and journals and finally fell into the clutches of the Bonnet band whose sensational crimes excited Paris two years ago. False news began to circulate behind the front early in the last year. Soldiers in hospitals and at the front received anonymous letters and circulars with significant headlines such as "They are deceiving us," "Germany has made peace overtures that we repulsed," "Our generals have fled and the regiments of our soldiers executed."

All these documents glorified "great Germany." Names and addresses of refugees advertising for lost relatives, names of women advertising for employment—all those whose state of mind seemed to make them accessible to depressing news and suggestions received anonymous letters and circulars. A suspicious circumstance was that those sent to soldiers were postpaid, while most of the correspondence sent to them is postfree.

Thousands were distributed by unknown means through the big department stores, slipped by mysterious hands under street doors and into private letter boxes; they were even scattered over the floors of postoffices and the cars of the subway.

It was finally discovered that the subject treated and the language used were the same as in some proclamations dropped by German aviators upon positions held by troops of the second line of Basseux in November. Finally a woman was detected dropping large packets of letters into letter boxes and their correspondence received letters from St. Raphael in the department of the Var in the name of Herman, her real name being Donnadieu, wife of a well known anarchist named Hureau. All three were arrested and their correspondence was traced to the millionaire Prouvost. Prouvost admitted paying the postage on the letters and circulars but declared that he had no intention of engaging in a guilty propaganda. Behind Prouvost, Hureau and Madame Donnadieu, the police think there was a well directed system of German espionage.

The Eclair declares that it has traced some of the false news circulated in Paris to naturalized Germans and gives the names of some of them.

AGAINST PUTTING WOMEN IN ARMY

The Socialist Vorwarts is opening an interesting campaign against the women movement which has developed during the war for the drilling and organizing of German women. The Vorwarts declares that the whole non-socialist "women's movement" in Germany is becoming devoted to schemes directly borrowed from the German system of conscription. Enthusiastic articles are being written about the need for giving German women a strong dose of "Potsdam." It is insisted that compulsory training in household and other duties must be introduced, and some authorities recommend a regular system of training "in barracks" for either one year or two, followed by periodical "trainings." The Vorwarts regards all this as organization gone mad, and declares that the movement would have disastrous consequences.—From the London Times.

A SANITARIUM SITE EXAMINED

Committee from the Local Lodge of Moose Make Trip to Proposed Site and Are Well Pleased With Country Thereabouts

In order that they might get a line on the various proposed sites for the Moose Tubercular Sanitarium, George Hageman, accompanied by Dr. L. Boido, supreme dictator of the local Moose lodge, and William R. Morrison of Los Angeles, made the trip yesterday to the Camp Creek District.

The run to the district was made in about two hours in Hageman's Franklin. The trail out there is well marked and no trouble was experienced in locating the place. According to Dr. Boido the site is an ideal one for a sanitarium. The elevation was determined at 3040 feet, about 200 feet above the elevation of Phoenix. There is a good cool spring there, and the site as examined yesterday is well out of the high humidity district.

There is plenty of shade, furnished by a large grove of sycamores. At present there are about a dozen families of Phoenixians camped there, enjoying the breezes that come down out of the mountains.

On their return yesterday much enthusiasm was expressed by all three men, as a possible site for the proposed sanitarium. Being only 37 miles from Phoenix, the place is comparatively easy of access. The trip yesterday is a part of a program of examination mapped out by the local Moose lodge. Proposed sites all over the valley are going to be looked over, in the eventuality of the sanitarium being located here. In order to make a strong bid for the sanitarium, the local lodge must have several ideal sites to be presented for the consideration of the committee, making the selection.

THREE APPEALS REACH STATE SUPREME COURT

The case of Tola Leivas Eshom vs. John J. Eshom, an appeal from the superior court of Mohave county was filed yesterday in the supreme court on appeal. Eshom's wife, Proust, sued for one-half of the proceeds of a herd of cattle, which she alleges Eshom sold to his brother. She was awarded damages, but not being satisfied with the amount appealed. Eshom also filed his appeal to the supreme court.

The case of E. W. Prewett and C. T. Guseman, vs. H. K. Chenoweth, an appeal from the superior court of Santa Cruz county, and of P. T. Hurley vs. W. H. Wilky vs. Emma A. Wilky an appeal from was also filed on appeal.

STUDENTS' UNION AT ANN ARBOR

Michigan Will Ask Alumni for 1 Million Dollars for Building

The University of Michigan will go before its thirty-five thousand alumni in October with a request for 1 million dollars to erect, equip and endow a building for the Michigan Union—an organization which will embrace in its membership practically all the men in the university.

With its six thousand eight hundred students, gathered from every state in this country and from almost every foreign land, Michigan looks to its student Union to democratize its undergraduates, to give them a chance to educate themselves by mixing and mingling with one another; in short, to gain that broader education which comes from knowing men and to develop the community spirit, which ordinarily, used to say, does not develop in many college men until years after their graduation.

The criticism of the colleges, which it must be admitted, has come with increasing insistence during the past decade, is that, instead of broadening a young man's outlook, they narrow it; that, in short, the colleges foster a spirit of class and clique mobbery.

The movement which Michigan has undertaken is valuable because it is aimed toward the effecting of an equality of opportunity. Dr. James B. Angell, president emeritus of Michigan, is right when he says that the mind and the character of students receive as deep and abiding impressions from mixing with one another as they do from classroom experience. It is not the fault of college students themselves that they leave their Alma Mater without the breadth that comes from rubbing elbows with cosmopolitans. The trouble has been that the university has not been the clearing house that it might be for undergraduate activities, thoughts and tendencies. No common meeting ground has been given to the student.

The fact that the average student would prefer to live on a domestic telephone has been proved at Michigan, where the members of the Greek letter fraternities—traditionally the aristocracy in all colleges—have given their enthusiastic support to the plan for the democratic Michigan Union.—From the Outlook.

NEW HEAD OF FRENCH AT DARDANELLES

General Serrail.

The French seem to be having difficulty in finding the right man to head their expeditionary force at the Dardanelles. At first General d'Amade was chosen for this position. After his failure he was succeeded by General H. J. E. Gouraud. Now Gouraud has been asked to step aside and make way for General Serrail, who has been named commander-in-chief of the French army of the orient.
