There were some developments in the Moose carnival Queen's contest yesterday from the looks of the standing. Little Miss Beauvois, who according to J. J. Bailey is the youngest and smallest girl to ever enter a contest of this character on her own responsibility, far from being discouraged at the jump taken by Miss Powell on Saturday night, went to work with a will yesterday and overcame the lead with some advantage taking the first place for the second time since the contest began.

This is not saying that Miss Powell made no showing either, for she added to her vote handsomely during the day. Miss Anna Sales showed strength later in the day adding 2966 votes to her showing of Saturday.

BACK FROM NOGALES—State Tax Commissioner C. M. Zander, who has been at Nogales for the past week on business connected with his department, returned to this city yesterday. He predicts that in a few years Nogales will rival El Paso in point of size and business conditions.
