STORM OF INTEREST OVER BIG MINE DEAL

In answer to inquiries from Miami and here regarding the deal whereby the Inspiration-Needles-Copper company Thursday took over copper claims near Miami, in consideration for the formation of a $2,000,000 company, Attorney George J. Stoneman yesterday replied that he did not know whom Harry Lefkowitz, the Nevada promoter, was representing.

CAPACITY HOUSE GREETES RECITAL

A capacity house greeted the recital given by the dancing department at the Arizona School of Music last night. The program was so well presented that it would be impossible to give special mention to each number for every solo and group was presented in a truly artistic manner, however we

GRAIN RATES TO BE UNIFORM

One of Six Most Important Commodities Moving Over Arizona Railroads Involved In Hearing to Be Held Next Monday

Involving rates on one of the six most prominent freight items, a hearing called by the state corporation commission for Monday will bring forth from the railway companies of Arizona an expression of their ideas as to rates on grain and grain products.

It is to adjust rates on a uniform basis, as much as to improve them from the viewpoint of the shipper, that the commission has decided to make some changes. In some parts of the state there is no commodity rate at all on grain and grain products; the classification rates, under which some hauls are charged are uniformly higher than the commodity rates.

The commodity involved in this case is one of the six most important in the state. It includes, besides all sorts of grain, flour, alfalfa meal, crushed barley, chick feed and other combinations.

According to Rate Expert A. A. Betts, of the corporation commission, who has prepared the data in this case, practically every road operating within the limits of Arizona will be represented at the hearing.

"CALGARY RED" AND 18 COWBOYS ENLIST

Carrying a letter of recommendation to the commanding officer of the First Arizona Infantry from M. A. S. Ming, first lieutenant of the First Arizona Infantry in the recruiting service at Prescott, Joe Brazeau left last night for the border.

"Calgary Red," as young Brazeau is known, with eighteen other cowboys, desires to serve in the mounted service as scout, messenger or orderly.

"I have not forgotten the fact that it was a Mexican who kept me behind the bars for a week. My name isn't 'Red' for nothing."

The young cowboy was falsely accused recently by a Mexican who claimed he held him up at the point of a gun and robbed him of all he possessed. The case was dismissed but the wait in jail has not made "Red" feel any the more kindly toward the race. He goes to the front eager and willing to face any danger and his courage is not doubted by those who witnessed his dare devil tricks in the saddle at the last state fair. Before coming to Arizona he was connected with the Wild West Show.

"If I'm not killed in this little Mexican affair I'm going across to lick the Germans," was his goodby.

PETERSEN LAURENSEN

News was received yesterday of the marriage at the home of Rev. Ray C. Harker of the First Methodist church at Phoenix of Miss Katharine Petersen and John Laursen, of Tempe. Only a few of the close friends were at the ceremony. The young couple will take up their home on the Goodrich ranch near here.

must speak of two of the dancers because of their extreme youth, Martha Tuttle and Betty Penmore. In their Irish Lilt they looked like the fairies that old Ireland is famous for and were greeted with an ovation and little Betty was most artistic in her Battered Dance. The one group dance on the program was a barefoot Grecian dance called The Fountain. As the curtain arose the audience was greeted by a fountain as the music played colored water appeared and the figures came to life moving about in rhythmic representation of the waters at play as the music died away the figures returned to their places and with the receding of the water went back to their sleeping positions. This program was by far the most pretentious ever presented at the School and last night's exhibition reflects much credit on Miss Fales head of the department.

REASNER WILL OPPOSE SUIT

Jack C. Reasner of Hayden passed through town yesterday on his way to California to recover possession of his two children, who were kidnaped by their mother from his home at Hayden last week. It will be recalled that Mrs. Reasner was arrested before she reached Phoenix and was brought here, where application was made for a writ of habeas corpus. The writ was granted for the reason that the deputy sheriff of Pinal county, who had made the arrest, was not armed with a copy of the warrant.

Pending further proceedings in the case, Mrs. Reasner was released on her own recognizance. She took advantage of the interval to take herself out of the jurisdiction of the courts of this state.

All that has appeared in print regarding the trouble between herself and her husband was on her own relation, Mr. Reasner said yesterday that there is another side to the case.

They were first separated three years ago, while living in California, and previous to her return to him last February she had begun suit in California for a divorce, as he understands, on the ground of non-support. Some time previous to January, she made overtures for a reconciliation and he has a letter written in January in which she acknowledged receiving money he had sent her, and said that she was being detained by the flood at Yuma. A month later she arrived at Hayden where Mr. Reasner was employed at the mill.

Their last separation occurred about a month later, following, as Mr. Reasner says, his discovery of her misconduct. Her arrest was threatened when she consented to leave the country. She left Hayden, and, as he soon learned, went to Ray, where she took up a residence in a disorderly house. Next she came to Phoenix.

On the day of the kidnaping of the children she returned to Hayden in an automobile which she left near the school grounds, and when the children appeared at school she took possession of them and started for Phoenix. Within fifteen minutes she was being pursued and was overtaken after reaching the Maricopa county line.

Mr. Reasner, on arriving in California, will oppose her divorce suit on the ground that she had returned to him after the beginning of the action and he will then begin suit for the recovery of the children, alleging that on account of her past conduct she is not a proper person to have the custody of them. He said that when she left him the first time, she deserted the children, the younger of whom was then only 3 years of age. Among the documents in the possession of Mr. Reasner is a letter to his wife from a young man in California whom she intended to marry on obtaining her divorce.

KIDS GUESTS OF ELKS AT PARK

At Eastlake park today, Phoenix Lodge No. 235, E. P. O. Elks, will be the host to the children of Phoenix in the annual children's day picnic of the order. This means that every boy and girl in Phoenix, whether their father or brother or uncle is an Elk or not, will be afforded the opportunity of enjoying one day of perfect bliss and happiness. Every child is welcome and the crowd cannot be too large to please the members of the committee having the affair in charge.

The children may be accompanied by their parents, and indeed the parents are especially invited, but if parents are unable to take the day off, the youngsters should be sent to the Elks' theater at 10 o'clock this morning. These transportation will be provided and the boys and girls taken safely to the park. They will be looked after carefully at the park and will be returned early enough to insure their safe arrival home.

An ample supply of ice cream and lemonade will be on hand and there will also be sandwiches for those who do not bring their lunch. The fact that Captain J. L. B. Alexander, H. Kircherer, A. L. Moore, Fen Hildreth and Fred Norton have been named the committee in charge, is full assurance of the carrying out of every arrangement and every promise. This is the Elks' picnic day and the day when all the children of Phoenix are entitled to have a good time. Have them on hand at the Elks' theater at 10 o'clock this morning.

MAGAZINE CHANGE IS NOT OF POLICY

A headline in The Republican yesterday disputed a statement in the body of an article descriptive of changes that had occurred in the Arizona Magazine. The headline announced a "change of policy" when the writer thought he had taken pains to make it clear that the policy of the magazine which the editor and owner, Mr. C. S. Scott, has been carefully building up for the last four years would not be changed. That policy has been to serve Arizona and Mr. Scott points out that a contrary one, he thinks, would not be popular or profitable.
