SUPERIOR-RAY GOVERNOR WILL HELP CAMPBELL WICKERSHAM MAKES VERMONT KEYNOTE TALK

(Special to The Republican)
RAY, Sept. 28.—Completing a strenuous day campaigning, Tom Campbell, Doane Merrill, H. E. Matthews and George H. Smalley spoke to an outdoor gathering of 500 tonight. Mr. Campbell outlined a constructive policy which he proposes to inaugurate when he becomes governor of Arizona and he assured the large gathering that he was certain of election. He aroused great enthusiasm during his address and was assured by many after the meeting that Ray would give him a good majority. George H. Smalley secured first place in the speaking program tonight and went fully into the budget plan as a means of decreasing the cost of state government. He also spoke on taxation and described the success of Governor Kibbey in taxing mines. H. E. Matthews made his usual hit with his remedy for educational evils. Doane Merrill spoke for the absent candidates and told of his experience that qualified him for state auditor. The party spent most of the day in Superior, meeting miners, smelters and merchants informally. Arriving here at 7 o'clock this evening the party was serenaded by a brass band on its arrival.

At 5 o'clock they addressed the people in the opera house at Superior. Campbell talked of industrial conditions in the state and the audience, consisting principally of laboring men, listened attentively and applauded his slogan of fairness to labor and capital and fairness with both. Merrill, Matthews and Smalley made short talks. Campbell's visit to Superior and Ray strengthens the prediction made in Florence that he will carry Pinal county by 200.

H. J. Tilley presided at the meeting at Superior and J. R. Treat, of Florence, at the Ray meeting.

Kibbey at Parker
PARKER, Sept. 28.—For more than an hour tonight nearly all of Parker's citizens listened to Gov. J. H. Kibbey, republican candidate for the United States senate, discuss a number of the vital issues of the present campaign, and when he had finished they gave him the most enthusiastic applause demonstration ever accorded a candidate here. Governor Kibbey has captured Parker, just as he, in company with Joe V. Prochaska, candidate for secretary of state, and Norman J. McKenzie, candidate for mine inspector, captured Wickenburg last night and Agula, Wenden and Parker today, on their journey here in the "Safety First" car.

The party was received by a republican campaign song that was sung by a local quartette from the balcony of the Montalvo hotel. In front of which the monster open-air meeting was held. Governor Kibbey told his listeners that the senate of the United States had ceased to be a speaking society, that when senators rose to display their oratorical ability the chambers were vacated, except for newspaper men and the clerks who secured the addresses that they might be mailed to the candidates' edar constituents; that what Arizona needs is a man of deeds, a worker who will accomplish something for the state and not a brilliant speaker. He said he also pledged himself to perform those duties that were expected of him and devote his time to working for the people rather than attempting to establish an oratorical record.

The party traveled 125 miles today from Wickenburg to this city over the Parker cut-off, and were enthusiastically received at all places en route. Governor Kibbey met many of his old friends who knew and loved him when he gave this state its best gubernatorial administration when he was governor during the territorial days.

SEVERE BATTLE IS REPORTED AT CUSIHUIRICAC

Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate to the United States, arrived here tonight from Washington on his way to Mexico City where he will confer with General Carranza. He said he was entirely in the dark, as to the nature of his recall and that as far as he knew his mission had nothing to do with the conference being held at New London, Conn. He will leave for the interior of Mexico tomorrow where he will spend about ten days, he said.

Four Days On Hike
EL PASO, Texas, Sept. 28.—After marching sixty miles along the Rio Grande above El Paso, across Anthony Pass and into New Mexico, the Seventh infantry division, Pennsylvania national guard, returned to camp near here this afternoon. The "hike" occupied four days and was made under the personal command of Major General Charles M. Clement. The Tenth provisional infantry division, in command of Brigadier General Charles G. Morton, is expected to leave Sunday for a practice march to Fort Sheridan, New Mexico.

Hundreds of Jewish soldiers in the national guard regiments and in the United States army observed Rosh Hushonah, the Jewish new year today. They were given leaves of absence from camp and worshipped in the downtown temples. Captain I. Schayer, of the Second South Carolina regiment, went to Columbus, N. M., today where he conducted services for the Jewish soldiers in that camp.

WILSON BEGINS HIS CAMPAIGN WRITING NOTES

In another letter, sent to Howard S. Williams of Jackson, Miss., expressing regret that he cannot attend the annual convention of the Young Men's Business Clubs of America at Jackson on October 1, the president declared that the future business development of the country rests in an unusual and peculiar degree at present in the hands of young business men.

"The problems of the future in the field of business are going to be new problems very largely," he wrote, "or else old problems in a new form. It will need imagination, vigor and enterprise to deal with them as they should be dealt with, and the young men of this generation should be preparing themselves in mind and purpose for a new era. It would be a great privilege if I could come to bear such a message in person. Since I cannot, I can only ask you to utter it for me, and to assure the gentlemen

(Special to The Republican)
BURLINGTON, Vt., Sept. 28.—"Government by deeds must succeed government by words, and government by principle be substituted for government by platitudes," declared former Attorney General George W. Wickersham of New York in the keynote speech of the Vermont republican state convention today.

Mr. Wickersham arraigned President Wilson and the democratic administration for their failure to redeem their platform pledges, and declared that the fiasco of the democratic legislation which had been tried off overshadowed the failure in its entirety of President Wilson's boasted "record of legislative accomplishment."

Referring to Mr. Wilson's recent speeches to business men, Mr. Wickersham said: "President Wilson tells the business men of America that their energy and initiative have been too much coached and superintended; that they have been too timid and provincial, and they should be set free. Indeed, he says, that alike in the domestic field and in the wide field of the commerce of the world American business and life and industry have been set free to move as they never moved before."

"And how has this freedom been accomplished? First, by the enactment of a series of restrictions upon the conduct of business, the effect of which cannot be known until the courts shall have interpreted the vague and unscientific language in which they are expressed, and, second, by putting the national government in business in competition with private industry in the most unheard of and unprecedented way. It began with the appropriation of $35,000,000 with which to build a railroad in Alaska, and it has ended that in so far as the session of congress just passed has ended with the appropriation of $50,000,000 with which to enable the government to embark in the business of conducting merchant shipping in competition with private capital. The democratic congress has appropriated $17,000,000 to establish an armor plant. It has appropriated $20,000,000 to establish fertilizer plants. It has given the absolute to its professions against extravagance and in favor of a return to simplicity and economy in government."

"So much for the democratic record of government at home. The record of Mr. Wilson's administration of foreign affairs on this continent is one of ignominious infamy. No American citizen can think of Mexico without a blush of shame, and today, after three years of vacillation, Mexico lies prostrate, a hell of anarchy, while 100,000 American lives and property in that unhappy land during the past three years.

"When the war in Europe is over and those nations enter once more upon the field of international commerce and competition, problems then ensuing will demand a statesmanship based upon principle, not opportunism and require the guidance of its affairs by a party practical in constructive statesmanship and accustomed to guide the nation through the perilous conflict of international interest. Throughout our history the republican party alone has maintained uniformly into believing that because a baking powder foamed up over the top of a glass when water was added, that it was a good, pure and strong baking powder.

It foams because it contains ALBUMEN (sometimes called white of egg).

ALBUMEN in baking powder is no help in the baking. It does not make a stronger or better baking powder.

It deceives the consumer when she sees it foam in the glass. United States Government authorities have declared that the water glass test is a fraud, and that albumen does not help in the baking.

The manufacturers of K C BAKING POWDER have never found it necessary to resort to such fraudulent methods.

RAYMOND H. ALEXANDER

NON-PARTISAN Candidate for COUNTY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT
General Election Nov. 7, 1916

TO THE VOTERS OF MARICOPA COUNTY:

There has long been an insistent demand that the county superintendent of schools be removed from party politics. Party support involves obligation and debt to party, which must and will be paid. To the extent that the officer is thus hampered, he cannot serve the cause of true education. As yet, no candidate has dared combat the straight vote item to reform this condition. No teacher has yet been willing to risk his meager savings in an individual contest with opponents supported by the campaign funds of a party. I have determined to make the venture—believing that the cause is just, submitting that my qualifications are superior to those of either of the slate candidates, and confidently relying upon the intelligence and discrimination of a controlling number of the electorate.

Being the only young man in the race, I answer a demand clearly made by the primary returns of September 12, for a man of this generation for this generation of rural schools. Of the three candidates on the Democratic ticket, Mr. Fulton received 2389 votes—only 173 more than Mr. Jones, who received 2216. Mr. Standage received 1080 votes, bringing the total vote cast for the two young men to 3295—or nearly 1000 votes more than were cast for the old school candidate, Mr. Fulton. There were 1085 citizens registered non-partisan or its equivalent. Registered as such, these persons could not take part in the primaries. An inspection of the list shows that as a class, they are vitally interested in education—teachers, ministers, mothers. Conversation with half their number revealed a preponderant opinion that a young man abreast the times should have charge of our rural schools.

The Republican ticket offers no relief for the situation. That nominee is senior even to the Democratic candidate, preceding him as superintendent more than twenty years ago, when the office was an adjunct to the probate judgeship. He has not been connected with our schools since, and cannot be said to represent the will of the voters cast for him, as the Republican electors had no other name to vote upon. In asking for your votes for this position, I desire to state some of the reasons why I am fitted for the office. Being a graduate of the Tempe Normal School in the class of 1903, and of the University of Missouri in the class of 1909, my education is abundant and recent. My seven years' experience as teacher and principal has been, for the most part, in the rural schools. The fact that as a farmer boy, I worked my own way thru normal school and university, has given me a sympathy for the country child struggling for an education that is real indeed. I know where obstacles are and would remove as many of them as possible.

My platform contains two planks (1) Removal of the office from party politics, and (2) Development of the county unit for rural school administration as rapidly as our conditions will permit.

I have lived in Salt River Valley about fifteen years; have taught in several of its schools, and my personal integrity and ability as a teacher are established. If elected to the office I seek, I shall enter upon its duties with devotion, and execute them with diligence and vigor.

destruction of American and Mexican lives and property in that unhappy land during the past three years. Throughout our history the republican party alone has maintained uniformly capacity for constructive statesmanship and a record of adequate protection of American rights and interests. "Opposed to Woodrow Wilson it has placed in nomination a man steadfast in the principles of government rooted in republican conviction, established in the principles of the American constitution, experienced in two great branches of American government—a man of unquestioned political courage, a man who has at all times demonstrated his knowledge of and confidence in the American people. "The record of Charles Evans Hughes during the four years of his administration of the governorship of New York so impressed American people that when men began to stir uneasily, first with dissatisfaction and mortification, and then with disgust and resentment at the democratic administration, it turned to the one man of strength, of principle and of vigor, who possessed the confidence of all factions of the republican party. "He has literally been called by the people, and he has responded to that call with promptness and with courage. The people will justify that call and by an overwhelming vote in November."

There is no drudgery in Gas Cooking

There is a real pleasure in cooking in a kitchen that is equipped with gas. It is clean, cool and convenient; there is no "waiting for the fire to come up;" it is "up" at the touch of a match. The oven can be heated almost instantly and the heat is confined. No dust nor dirt, no soot nor ashes; just convenience and comfort.

Gas ranges are to be had in many different models and are sold on terms which make their purchase easy. Won't you step in and see them?
