MUCH LOCAL TALK ON COLONEL'S SPEECH

Perhaps the most inspiring thing in Phoenix yesterday, outside of the circus noise, was the frequency with which favorable comment was heard on the great speech of Theodore Roosevelt at Battle Creek, published in the Sunday Republican.

It is not so much the new things that Mr. Roosevelt refers to, though he is constantly turning over something that needs airing, but it is the vigorous manner in which he delivers his message.

Plans for organizing the Hughes Alliance in other county towns are rapidly developing. Miss Egeleston, in connection with her other work, will look after the interest of the alliance in some of the other counties, left yesterday morning for Globe.

The alliance occupies the only suite of ground floor offices in the Fleming block, between the two banks, and every person who has even the slightest Hughes sentiment, regardless of affiliation, is urged to come in and help in the good work.

PROBE STRANGE DEATHS OF THREE [Republican A. P. Leased Wire] LANCASTER, Ohio, Oct. 2.—James A. Tobin, prosecuting attorney, announced tonight that a rigid investigation of the mysterious deaths of Miss Agnes and Alice Smetters and Miss May Stretton, who were found dead seated in chairs in the parlor of the "old Smetters mansion" here last night, would be made upon the theory that the women were victims of a triple murder.

Another Periodic Climax PETROGRAD, Oct. 2. (Via London) The fighting along the southwestern front has reached another of its periodic climaxes, which has turned in favor of the Russians, yielding them a large number of prisoners, and has again threatened Lemberg from two important directions—along the main railway from Brody to Lemberg and from Brzezany.

Nearing Bapume WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Oct. 2. (Via London, Oct. 2.)—Bapume is now only two miles beyond the British advanced line. Soldiers clanking in yesterday's attack speak of their amazement at finding themelves in a field of sugar beets. They had at last found their way out of the desert zone created by the shell fire into a portion where peasants have been growing their crops and evacuated their homes only when the battle front drew nearer. Looking toward Bapume behind Le Sar's rich farming country with the villages largely intact, it appears almost as normal as that ten miles back of the old trench lines on the British side. So open has the fighting become now in the center, that cavalry patrols have been used. Though some of the riders had their horses shot from under them, and some horses foundered in the abandoned trenches, other carried their scouting nearly a mile beyond the infantry advanced line and brought back valuable information.

parliament estimated the crop probably would be 14,268,900 bales. Heavy storms during July damaged the crop so that the forecast based on conditions existing July 25 was 12,916,000 bales, a loss of 1,350,000 bales during the month. Further damage occurred the following month and the condition of the crop on August 25 indicated a production of only 11,800,000 bales as forecast by the department of agriculture, showing a decrease of 1,118,000 bales in the prospective production. While the acreage planted this year was 12.1 per cent larger than last year, the crop promises to be about the same as last year's in size. The final output last year was 11,191,820 bales, two years ago it was 16,134,000 bales, the largest crop ever grown; three years ago it was 14,155,486 bales and four years ago 13,792,421 bales.
